UN Stops Soviet Move To Oust China

Malik Ends Council Boycott, Attacks "U. S. Aggression"

Delegates Vote 8 To 3 Against Soviet Ruling On Nationalists

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 1 (AP) — Russia's Jakob A. Malik walked back into the Security Council today, failed again to oust Nationalist China, and then accused the United States of aggression in Korea.

He demanded that the U. S. stop "flagrant and unjustified aggression" against the people of Korea. He said the Soviet Union is following a policy of peace. It was his first speech here since he began his boycott last January 13.

Malik charged that the United States is trying "every way to broaden the warfare, not only against the people of Korea but also against the people of Vietnam, China and Indochina.' '

"The United States aims at seizing Korea," Malik argued. "The ruling circles are not at all concerned with ending hostilities."

The council voted 8 to 3 against Malik's ruling as August President that T. F. Tsiang, of Nationalist China, is an "usurper" and "represents nobody."

The United States, Britain, France, Nationalist China, Cuba, Ecuador, Egypt and Norway voted against Malik's expected ruling that Tsiang was not a member of the council. Britain and Norway have recognized red China but spokesmen for those countries have said they would not use parliamentary "tricks" to settle the question.

The Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and India voted in favor of Malik's ruling.

The decision was taken before the largest crowd in council history, including Miss Margaret Truman, daughter of the President. High delegates found only standing room as bitter words flashed back and forth across the table, mainly between Malik and Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate.

Malik protested that the council action on China was illegal but the vote was against him. Several times it appeared he was nearing a second boycott but he sat through the avalanche of votes against him and went on to attack the U. S. policy in Korea.

The council had before it a three-point work-sheet, called the agenda.

The first point was adoption of that agenda. The second was the Chinese question and the third was one submitted by Malik — "peaceful settlement of the Korean question."

Austin demanded that Malik rearrange the agenda to put at the top an American proposal condemning North Korean authorities for continued defiance of the U. N. and calling on all countries to refrain from assisting on encouraging the North Korean authorities.

Austin said the U. S. felt it is highly inappropriate for the council to deal with the Chinese question now and that the council should establish the firm principle that the Chinese issue is not linked with the Korean crisis.

"To consider at this time the seating of a declared opponent to United Nations efforts to repulse aggression would weaken the support to which the United Nations forces at the front are entitled and would undermine our entire peacemaking endeavor," Austin said.

Chiang Says He, MacArthur Plan Formosa Defense

Basis For Military Unity Agreed Upon

TAIPEI, Formosa, Wednesday, Aug. 2 (AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek declared today he and General MacArthur had laid the basis for U. S.-Chinese "military co-operation" and "the joint defense of Taiwan" (Formosa).

MacArthur himself declared yesterday at the end of momentous talks here that it was "my responsibility and firm purpose" to defend Formosa from the communist forces gathering on the mainland.

(MacArthur had no further comment upon his arrival in Tokyo Tuesday. But the Chinese communist radio in Peiping was defiant.

(General Chu closed a speech Tuesday to a Peiping celebration of Chinese communist army day with this: "Celebrate the great victory of the Chinese Peoples liberation war! Liberate Taiwan!"

(A second broadcast said veterans of the communist third field were "training intensively for the battle to defeat United States aggression and to liberate Taiwan." Artillerymen sent Chu this message:

("We are awaiting your orders to turn our guns on Taiwan. If the United States imperialists dare to try and prevent the liberation of Taiwan we will defeat them without hesitation.")

Between the communist forces, 100 miles away across Formosa Strait, and this Nationalist island bastion are units of the U. S. Seventh Fleet. They are under orders to prevent a communist invasion.

Chiang in a brief statement said the two days of conference with MacArthur had produced agreement "on all problems discussed."

Four Guard Units Called To Duty

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—The National Guard units which the Army is summoning to brace its ranks were identified today as the 28th, 40th, 43rd and 45th Infantry Divisions and the 196th and 278th regimental combat teams.

The 40th California Division goes to Camp Cooke, near Lompoc, Calif.

The 43rd, made up of Guardsmen from Connecticut, Vermont and Rhode Island, is assigned to Camp Pickett near Blackstone, Va.

The 196th combat team is from South Dakota. It will train at Camp Carson near Colorado Springs, Colo. The 278th, from Tennessee, has been assigned to Fort Devens, near Ayer, Mass.

Senate Approves Loan To Spain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—The Senate voted to let Spain have a $100,000,000 loan.

It was one of the few official friendly gestures that nation has had from the U. S. in several years.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) proposed the loan, as on amendment to the giant $35,000,000,000 appropriations bill. The Senate agreed, 65 to 15.

The amendment still has to get the approval of the House.

Truman's Choice Trails In Missouri Election

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 1 (AP) — Former Congressman Thomas C. Hennings, Jr., of St. Louis jumped into the lead for Missouri's Democratic Senatorial nomination tonight, passing President Truman's man, Emery W. Allison.

In 1125 of the state's 4676 precincts — 250 in Hennings territory in St. Louis and 200 in Allison territory of Jackson County (Kansas City) the count was:

Other candidates trailed far behind with only a token showing.

The Hennings lead was built on a big St. Louis vote while outstate areas credited to Allison had only light voting for the most part.

St. Louis interest was boomed by a special election on a proposed new city charter to extend the city's home rule powers. The charter also would let the city renew a $7,000,000 a year earnings tax which expired July 17.

First returns were heavily against the charter.

The Republican Senatorial contest was a shoo-in as expected for incumbent Sen. Forrest C. Donnell — the man the President wants to beat in November because of his persistent opposition to the administration.

In 952 precincts Donnell piled up 43,709 votes to 4,368 for his nearest opponent, William McKinley Thomas of St. Louis. The vote was so one-sided Kansas City tabulators weren't even counting it there.

Bride Reports For War Duty, Mate Goes Home

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1 (AP)—It was a wartime romance in reverse today for Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Berglund.

The Marine bride packed her forest green uniforms to report for active duty in San Francisco, August 26 after a brief honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls.

As for the bridegroom, he will live here with his folks for the duration, unless he's called back to Army duty.

Demand Growing To Curb Excess Profit By Taxes

Senate Committee Takes Up Proposal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — Insistent demands were heard at the Capitol today for a stiff excess profits tax to curb profiteering, and for a deep slash in non-defense spending.

Tomorrow the Senate Finance Committee takes up President Truman's proposal for a $5,000,000,000 tax boost, mostly on normal individual and corporation incomes, and the House Ways and Means Committee studies curbs on defense contract profits.

In advance of these committee sessions, there were these important developments today:

1. Senator Byrd (D-Va), a member of the finance committee, announced he will support in principle the President's $5,000,000,000 new tax proposal, with the increase effective October 1. But he said he wants the jump in taxes accompanied by a $5,000,000,000 reduction in government non-defense spending.

2. Rep. Mills (D-Ark), a House Ways and Means member, gave notice that when the committee convenes tomorrow he will insist that an excess profits tax be levied on corporations, effective on 1951 income. The legislation to which he would attach the provision calls for revival of the government's wartime authority to renegotiate its contracts with industry to assure that there is no unreasonable profit in the production of things needed by the fighting forces.

Civilian Employe Kills Negro Soldier

FORT MEADE, Md., Aug. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Gladys M. Cooper, a civilian employe living in a dormitory, shot and killed a negro soldier early today after she had been warned a prowler was outside her window.

The public information office identified the soldier as Pvt. William H. Drummond, 30, of Steubenville, O. He was a member of the Third Armored Cavalry Regiment.

$4 Billions "To Arm Allies Properly," Asked By Truman

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — President Truman said today that the best way to prevent future outbreaks against the peace of the world is to see that our allies are properly armed. That's why, he said, he's asking for $4,000,000,000 to arm anti-communist countries.

"It is now clear," Mr. Truman said in a letter to Capitol Hill, "that the free nations must accelerate the efforts they are making to strengthen their common security."

Mr. Truman said he isn't sure how much each nation will need. But he gave this breakdown on the areas to be helped:

North Atlantic, $3,504,000,000; Greece, Turkey, Iran, $193,000,000; Philippines, Asia, $303,000,000.

Mr. Truman scarcely had finished making his request before Chairman Tydings (D-Md) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said $4,000,000,000 isn't enough.

He said he wishes the President would ask for more.

Tydings did not say how much he thinks Mr. Truman should ask for.

The $4,000,000,000 would be in addition to a $1,222,500,000 arms aid program which already has been authorized.

Mr. Truman disclosed yesterday that he intended to request the additional billions. Today his letter to House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) gave some of his reasons for making the request.

The President started out by saying that the communist assault on Korea has challenged the authority of the United Nations and jeopardized world peace.

Wedding Party Drowns

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 1 (AP)—Twenty-three members of a wedding party, including the bridegroom, were drowned in a swollen river near Jammu today when their boat capsized, the newspaper Statesman reported.

Standby Powers For President Appear Certain

Truman Approves Expansion Action

By WILLARD H. MOBLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Standby powers for President Truman to invoke price and wage controls and rationing if he sees the need became a virtual certainty today.

Two developments created that prospect despite the stand of solid blocs in both Houses of Congress against even the limited economic curbs the President has proposed:

1. The House Republican Policy Committee agreed to it.

2. The President himself sent the lawmakers word that he has no objections provided addition of the extra authority does not slow up action on the allocation, priorities and credit curb powers he has asked.

The President wrote to Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the Senate Banking Committee as that group neared a decision on expansion of the Truman Proposals. A coup went to Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House Banking Committee.

The GOP policy group's views were set forth at the House end of the Capitol just before the House itself started debate on the plan.

The House committee already has approved the administration bill, watered down in some respects from the White House recommendations. Tentatively the Senate committee has okayed it too, in about the same form, but with the way left open for putting in the extra powers.

In both the Senate committee and the House proposals were ready for addition of the price, wage and rationing authority.

Tydings Faces Opposition In Senate Race

Three Baltimore Attorneys File

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Wednesday, Aug. 2 (AP)—Senator Millard E. Tydings, who looked for a while as if he would win Democratic renomination without opposition, drew three primary opponents shortly before the midnight fling deadline.

John A. Meyer, a Baltimore attorney and former U. S. Representative, filed for the Senate a few minutes before midnight.

Earlier last night, two relatively political unknowns entered the September 18 primary.

Meyer held Baltimore's 4th Congressional district seat from 1941 until 1943. He was defeated in a bid for a second term.

The other two late entrants were Hugh J. Monaghan, 2nd, 31-year-old Baltimore attorney, and Lawrence B. Scally, 43, also a Baltimore attorney. Neither has held elective office.

Monaghan appeared at the office of the Secretary of State with his formal declaration late last night. Scally filed less than an hour before the deadline.

A few minutes after Monaghan filed, former Mayor Howard W. Jackson of Baltimore, who had indicated he might enter the race against Tydings, announced he would not make the race.

Philip H. Dorsey, Jr., people's counsel to the Public Service Council, who had intended to file, also changed his mind last night.

Speculation as to whether Jackson would enter the race reached a high pitch during the afternoon when Governor Lane and Mayor D'Alesandro got together with several of their top political advisors.

Word leaked out that Jackson would make the race if he could do it as a partner on the Lane ticket.

But the apparent outcome of the conference was a decision that Lane and his backers would hold to their previous policies.

The Governor has avoided anything that would identify him as being for or against Tydings, who has been a Senator 24 years—longer than any other Marylander in history.

Bill To Cover 10 Million New Pensions Gains

House-Senate Unit Gives Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — A House-Senate Committee gave its final approval today to a compromise bill blanketing 10,000,000 more workers under old age insurance, boosting benefits up to 100 per cent, and more than doubling security payroll taxes in the next 20 years.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee said the measure, after 18 months study in Congress, probably will be put on President Truman's desk next Monday, with final approval of the House and Senate.

There was a possibility of one hitch, however, in a squabble over an amendment put in the measure by Senator Knowland (R-Calif). This amendment restricts Secretary of Labor Tobin's power to withhold unemployment compensation funds from states when he questions whether their compensation systems conform with federal standards.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, hinted broadly that President Truman might veto the bill if it comes to his desk bearing the Knowland amendment.

But the provision is in the bill, which goes first to the House, then to the Senate, for final approval.

Volcano Erupts In Alaska

Frank Brink, Radio Station KENI employe, brought the report back to Anchorage after a flight around the mountain. The 8,900-foot peak is near the tip of the Alaska peninsula, where it reaches out to the Aleutian Island chain.

Md. Sales Tax, Aided By War, Up 20 Per Cent

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1 (AP) — Sales tax collections totaled $2,647,914 last month, or nearly 20 per cent more than the $2,222,626 collected during July, 1949.

July collections are based on June sales.

Scare buying growing out of the Korean crisis is expected to bring about a big raise in collections this month. The war started June 25.

The Federal Reserve Bank reported recently that department store sales in Baltimore for the week ended July 22 were 36 per cent above those of the corresponding week last year.

Leopold Foes End Strikes As King Submits

Regal Powers To Be Given To Son

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 1 (AP) —Militant Socialist leaders, flushed with a conditional victory over King Leopold III, called off anti-Leopold strikes tonight and started the near-prostrate nation back toward normalcy.

Thousands of Socialist workers workers gathered at party headquarters to cheer the news that the King was prepared to hand his recently re-assumed regal powers to his 19-year-old son, Crown Prince Baudouin, with the implication that Baudouin would become king in fact when he reaches the age of 21 September 7, 1951.

Presumably satisfied with the terms of a compromise reached after a confusing 36 hours of on-again off-again bargaining, the Socialist-led Belgian Trade Union Federation directed strikers to return to work tomorrow and end their demonstrations. Socialist leaders have reported 500,000 workers — about one-fourth of Belgium's labor force — were on strike against the monarch, who returned only 10 days ago after six years of exile.

Leopold's expected capitulation — abdication was implied only in the King's promissory note conditionally due-dated September 7, 1951 — was regarded as a triumph for the Socialist-Worker Group.

Va. Renominates Three Democrats

Representative J. Vaughan Gary, of the Third District, pushed well ahead after close early returns to easily defeat Minetree Folkes, Jr., fellow Richmond attorney, who also unsuccessfully opposed Gary in 1946.

Representatives Howard W. Smith of the Eighth District, Dean of the Virginia Delegation, and E. J. Robeson of the First District, the state's freshman Congressman, coasted to one sided victories over their opponents. Smith downed Arthur F. Souther of Arlington, and Robeson had scant opposition from Mrs. Katherine C. Blow of Yorktown.

Unofficial returns from 108 of 127 precincts in the Third gave Gary 11,878 votes to Folkes 8,166. Robeson was leading Mrs. Blow 4,746 to 633 in returns from 40 of 164 precincts in the First, while Smith overwhelmed Souther, 4,333 to 781 in returns from 94 of 241 precincts in the Eighth.

Score Gains Up To 10 Miles On Dwindling Hold

New Troops Are Rushed To Aid

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

TOKYO, Aug. 2 (Wednesday) (INS) — Armored communist troops in gains up to ten miles cracked both the northern and southern ends of reinforced U. S. lines today in an attempt to crush the dwindling American "beachhead" in southeastern Korea.

The newly-landed U. S. Second Division was rushed up to a 45-mile southern front between inland Taegu and the South Coastal City of Masan to support the 24th Division troops who again were hurled back in the desperate fight for time.

One communist thrust carried within 29 air miles west of Pusan, U. S. supply port.

An 8th U. S. Army Headquarters Communique told of American and South Korean reversals on both wings of the front which had been based on a mountainous arc protecting the southeastern port city of Pusan, and Taegu, emergency South Korean capital.

An advance party of U. S. Marines had landed yesterday in Southern Korea, preparing the way for the eagerly-awaited arrival of the U. S. First Marine Division elements.

An intelligence spokesman at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters earlier called the communist drive against Pusan and Taegu a "suicidal, frantic" attempt to score a quick victory before steadily-arriving American reinforcements can stem, then turn the tide.

The spokesman indicated that Pusan still is considered secure when he said there will be no "Korean Dunkirk."

But late field dispatches said the broad communist enveloping moves are considered by front observers as a grave threat.

Here is the latest situation on the cracked Northern and Southern wings of the front that leave less than 7,000 square miles still in the hands of the defenders:

On a 42-mile front at the northwestern corner of the box-like defense arc the communists were reported in front communique to have occupied Sangju, Hamchang, Yechon, and Andong.

All these are key road junction cities, and the seizure of Sangju imperils U. S. defenses at Kumchon, only 19 miles to the south, which is the "top of the line" for U. S. supplies moving along the railway from Pusan and Taegu in the southeast.

Sangju, where the 25th Division has been fighting, is 42 miles northwest of Taegu, the "heart city" of the beachhead defense. Andong, northeast of Sangju, is only 46 miles north of threatened Taegu.

The First Cavalry Division fighting south of Sangju in the Kumchon area, now is threatened with being outflanked on both the north and south. It is trying to hold the "plug" at Kumchon leading into the traditional Conqueror's Pass toward

11 Communists Convictions Upheld

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP) — A federal Appeals Court today upheld the Smith Act and the conviction under it of the nation's 11 top communist leaders.

The unanimous opinion of three judges was tuned to the times, citing the Korean war and President Truman's latest warning against subversives.

Judge Harrie B. Chase praised Congress for its foresight in enacting the Smith Act 10 years ago. He called American communists allies, if not tools of Soviet Russia.

Rush Holt, "Boy Senator," Leads In W. Va. Primary

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 1 (AP)—Rush Dew Holt, a one-time Democratic Senator turned Republican, started off tonight with an early lead in his bid for a nomination for Congress.

Holt, now 45 years old but who was the famed Democratic "Boy Senator" of 1935, ran in a four-man contest for the Republican nomination in the Third West Virginia District. His home is in Weston, in the central part of the state.

Holt's bid for office drew most of the attention in an otherwise apathetic primary marked by a light vote. Heavy rains fell during the early part of today's balloting but even after the sun came out there was little pickup.

West Virginians nominated candidates for six Congressional seats, three statewide offices, the Legislature and some county offices. No U. S. Senate seat was at stake.

In the first 58 precincts of the 505 in the Third District, Holt polled 2,772 votes. Clifford Francis of Buckhannon had 146; M. A. Holliday of Garten, 39, and Rufus C. Hurt, Oak Hill bus operator, 704.

Cleveland M. Bailey, the Democratic incumbent in the Third, was well ahead of his only opponent, Samuel X. S. Curia, 3,831 to 479, in 52 precincts

Robert L. Ramsay of the First District, opposed by J. Patrick Beacom, a former State Senator, had a good lead. The first 40 of 418 precincts gave Ramsay 1,597 votes and Beacom 843.

The other four Democratic Congressmen were nominated without opposition. They are Harley O. Staggers, Second District; M. G. Burnside, Fourth; John M. Kee, Fifth, and E. H. Hedrick, Sixth.

The statewide nominations were to fill vacancies in unexpired terms of state treasurer, attorney general and Supreme Court Judge. The only contests were in Democratic and Republican races for treasurer.

Other candidates trailed far behind with only a token showing.

The Hennings lead was built on a big St. Louis vote while outstate areas credited to Allison had only light voting for the most part.

St. Louis interest was boomed by a special election on a proposed new city charter to extend the city's home rule powers. The charter also would let the city renew a $7,000,000 a year earnings tax which expired July 17.

First returns were heavily against the charter.

The Republican Senatorial contest was a shoo-in as expected for incumbent Sen. Forrest C. Donnell — the man the President wants to beat in November because of his persistent opposition to the administration.

In 952 precincts Donnell piled up 43,709 votes to 4,368 for his nearest opponent, William McKinley Thomas of St. Louis. The vote was so one-sided Kansas City tabulators weren't even counting it there.

Malik Returns To UN

Bride Reports For War Duty, Mate Goes Home

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 1 (AP)—It was a wartime romance in reverse today for Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Berglund.

The Marine bride packed her forest green uniforms to report for active duty in San Francisco, August 26 after a brief honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls.

As for the bridegroom, he will live here with his folks for the duration, unless he's called back to Army duty.

Demand Growing To Curb Excess Profit By Taxes

Senate Committee Takes Up Proposal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — Insistent demands were heard at the Capitol today for a stiff excess profits tax to curb profiteering, and for a deep slash in non-defense spending.

Tomorrow the Senate Finance Committee takes up President Truman's proposal for a $5,000,000,000 tax boost, mostly on normal individual and corporation incomes, and the House Ways and Means Committee studies curbs on defense contract profits.

In advance of these committee sessions, there were these important developments today:

1. Senator Byrd (D-Va), a member of the finance committee, announced he will support in principle the President's $5,000,000,000 new tax proposal, with the increase effective October 1. But he said he wants the jump in taxes accompanied by a $5,000,000,000 reduction in government non-defense spending.

2. Rep. Mills (D-Ark), a House Ways and Means member, gave notice that when the committee convenes tomorrow he will insist that an excess profits tax be levied on corporations, effective on 1951 income. The legislation to which he would attach the provision calls for revival of the government's wartime authority to renegotiate its contracts with industry to assure that there is no unreasonable profit in the production of things needed by the fighting forces.

Civilian Employe Kills Negro Soldier

FORT MEADE, Md., Aug. 1 (AP)—Mrs. Gladys M. Cooper, a civilian employe living in a dormitory, shot and killed a negro soldier early today after she had been warned a prowler was outside her window.

The public information office identified the soldier as Pvt. William H. Drummond, 30, of Steubenville, O. He was a member of the Third Armored Cavalry Regiment.

$4 Billions "To Arm Allies Properly," Asked By Truman

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — President Truman said today that the best way to prevent future outbreaks against the peace of the world is to see that our allies are properly armed. That's why, he said, he's asking for $4,000,000,000 to arm anti-communist countries.

"It is now clear," Mr. Truman said in a letter to Capitol Hill, "that the free nations must accelerate the efforts they are making to strengthen their common security."

Mr. Truman said he isn't sure how much each nation will need. But he gave this breakdown on the areas to be helped:

North Atlantic, $3,504,000,000; Greece, Turkey, Iran, $193,000,000; Philippines, Asia, $303,000,000.

Mr. Truman scarcely had finished making his request before Chairman Tydings (D-Md) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said $4,000,000,000 isn't enough.

He said he wishes the President would ask for more.

Tydings did not say how much he thinks Mr. Truman should ask for.

The $4,000,000,000 would be in addition to a $1,222,500,000 arms aid program which already has been authorized.

Mr. Truman disclosed yesterday that he intended to request the additional billions. Today his letter to House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) gave some of his reasons for making the request.

The President started out by saying that the communist assault on Korea has challenged the authority of the United Nations and jeopardized world peace.

Wedding Party Drowns

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 1 (AP)—Twenty-three members of a wedding party, including the bridegroom, were drowned in a swollen river near Jammu today when their boat capsized, the newspaper Statesman reported.

Standby Powers For President Appear Certain

Truman Approves Expansion Action

By WILLARD H. MOBLEY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—Standby powers for President Truman to invoke price and wage controls and rationing if he sees the need became a virtual certainty today.

Two developments created that prospect despite the stand of solid blocs in both Houses of Congress against even the limited economic curbs the President has proposed:

1. The House Republican Policy Committee agreed to it.

2. The President himself sent the lawmakers word that he has no objections provided addition of the extra authority does not slow up action on the allocation, priorities and credit curb powers he has asked.

The President wrote to Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the Senate Banking Committee as that group neared a decision on expansion of the Truman Proposals. A coup went to Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House Banking Committee.

The GOP policy group's views were set forth at the House end of the Capitol just before the House itself started debate on the plan.

The House committee already has approved the administration bill, watered down in some respects from the White House recommendations. Tentatively the Senate committee has okayed it too, in about the same form, but with the way left open for putting in the extra powers.

In both the Senate committee and the House proposals were ready for addition of the price, wage and rationing authority.

Tydings Faces Opposition In Senate Race

Three Baltimore Attorneys File

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Wednesday, Aug. 2 (AP)—Senator Millard E. Tydings, who looked for a while as if he would win Democratic renomination without opposition, drew three primary opponents shortly before the midnight fling deadline.

John A. Meyer, a Baltimore attorney and former U. S. Representative, filed for the Senate a few minutes before midnight.

Earlier last night, two relatively political unknowns entered the September 18 primary.

Meyer held Baltimore's 4th Congressional district seat from 1941 until 1943. He was defeated in a bid for a second term.

The other two late entrants were Hugh J. Monaghan, 2nd, 31-year-old Baltimore attorney, and Lawrence B. Scally, 43, also a Baltimore attorney. Neither has held elective office.

Monaghan appeared at the office of the Secretary of State with his formal declaration late last night. Scally filed less than an hour before the deadline.

A few minutes after Monaghan filed, former Mayor Howard W. Jackson of Baltimore, who had indicated he might enter the race against Tydings, announced he would not make the race.

Philip H. Dorsey, Jr., people's counsel to the Public Service Council, who had intended to file, also changed his mind last night.

Speculation as to whether Jackson would enter the race reached a high pitch during the afternoon when Governor Lane and Mayor D'Alesandro got together with several of their top political advisors.

Word leaked out that Jackson would make the race if he could do it as a partner on the Lane ticket.

But the apparent outcome of the conference was a decision that Lane and his backers would hold to their previous policies.

The Governor has avoided anything that would identify him as being for or against Tydings, who has been a Senator 24 years—longer than any other Marylander in history.

Bill To Cover 10 Million New Pensions Gains

House-Senate Unit Gives Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — A House-Senate Committee gave its final approval today to a compromise bill blanketing 10,000,000 more workers under old age insurance, boosting benefits up to 100 per cent, and more than doubling security payroll taxes in the next 20 years.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance Committee said the measure, after 18 months study in Congress, probably will be put on President Truman's desk next Monday, with final approval of the House and Senate.

There was a possibility of one hitch, however, in a squabble over an amendment put in the measure by Senator Knowland (R-Calif). This amendment restricts Secretary of Labor Tobin's power to withhold unemployment compensation funds from states when he questions whether their compensation systems conform with federal standards.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, hinted broadly that President Truman might veto the bill if it comes to his desk bearing the Knowland amendment.

But the provision is in the bill, which goes first to the House, then to the Senate, for final approval.

Volcano Erupts In Alaska

Frank Brink, Radio Station KENI employe, brought the report back to Anchorage after a flight around the mountain. The 8,900-foot peak is near the tip of the Alaska peninsula, where it reaches out to the Aleutian Island chain.

Md. Sales Tax, Aided By War, Up 20 Per Cent

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1 (AP) — Sales tax collections totaled $2,647,914 last month, or nearly 20 per cent more than the $2,222,626 collected during July, 1949.

July collections are based on June sales.

Scare buying growing out of the Korean crisis is expected to bring about a big raise in collections this month. The war started June 25.

The Federal Reserve Bank reported recently that department store sales in Baltimore for the week ended July 22 were 36 per cent above those of the corresponding week last year.

Leopold Foes End Strikes As King Submits

Regal Powers To Be Given To Son

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 1 (AP) —Militant Socialist leaders, flushed with a conditional victory over King Leopold III, called off anti-Leopold strikes tonight and started the near-prostrate nation back toward normalcy.

Thousands of Socialist workers workers gathered at party headquarters to cheer the news that the King was prepared to hand his recently re-assumed regal powers to his 19-year-old son, Crown Prince Baudouin, with the implication that Baudouin would become king in fact when he reaches the age of 21 September 7, 1951.

Presumably satisfied with the terms of a compromise reached after a confusing 36 hours of on-again off-again bargaining, the Socialist-led Belgian Trade Union Federation directed strikers to return to work tomorrow and end their demonstrations. Socialist leaders have reported 500,000 workers — about one-fourth of Belgium's labor force — were on strike against the monarch, who returned only 10 days ago after six years of exile.

Leopold's expected capitulation — abdication was implied only in the King's promissory note conditionally due-dated September 7, 1951 — was regarded as a triumph for the Socialist-Worker Group.

Va. Renominates Three Democrats

Representative J. Vaughan Gary, of the Third District, pushed well ahead after close early returns to easily defeat Minetree Folkes, Jr., fellow Richmond attorney, who also unsuccessfully opposed Gary in 1946.

Representatives Howard W. Smith of the Eighth District, Dean of the Virginia Delegation, and E. J. Robeson of the First District, the state's freshman Congressman, coasted to one sided victories over their opponents. Smith downed Arthur F. Souther of Arlington, and Robeson had scant opposition from Mrs. Katherine C. Blow of Yorktown.

Unofficial returns from 108 of 127 precincts in the Third gave Gary 11,878 votes to Folkes 8,166. Robeson was leading Mrs. Blow 4,746 to 633 in returns from 40 of 164 precincts in the First, while Smith overwhelmed Souther, 4,333 to 781 in returns from 94 of 241 precincts in the Eighth.

Score Gains Up To 10 Miles On Dwindling Hold

New Troops Are Rushed To Aid

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

TOKYO, Aug. 2 (Wednesday) (INS) — Armored communist troops in gains up to ten miles cracked both the northern and southern ends of reinforced U. S. lines today in an attempt to crush the dwindling American "beachhead" in southeastern Korea.

The newly-landed U. S. Second Division was rushed up to a 45-mile southern front between inland Taegu and the South Coastal City of Masan to support the 24th Division troops who again were hurled back in the desperate fight for time.

One communist thrust carried within 29 air miles west of Pusan, U. S. supply port.

An 8th U. S. Army Headquarters Communique told of American and South Korean reversals on both wings of the front which had been based on a mountainous arc protecting the southeastern port city of Pusan, and Taegu, emergency South Korean capital.

An advance party of U. S. Marines had landed yesterday in Southern Korea, preparing the way for the eagerly-awaited arrival of the U. S. First Marine Division elements.

An intelligence spokesman at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters earlier called the communist drive against Pusan and Taegu a "suicidal, frantic" attempt to score a quick victory before steadily-arriving American reinforcements can stem, then turn the tide.

The spokesman indicated that Pusan still is considered secure when he said there will be no "Korean Dunkirk."

But late field dispatches said the broad communist enveloping moves are considered by front observers as a grave threat.

Here is the latest situation on the cracked Northern and Southern wings of the front that leave less than 7,000 square miles still in the hands of the defenders:

On a 42-mile front at the northwestern corner of the box-like defense arc the communists were reported in front communique to have occupied Sangju, Hamchang, Yechon, and Andong.

All these are key road junction cities, and the seizure of Sangju imperils U. S. defenses at Kumchon, only 19 miles to the south, which is the "top of the line" for U. S. supplies moving along the railway from Pusan and Taegu in the southeast.

Sangju, where the 25th Division has been fighting, is 42 miles northwest of Taegu, the "heart city" of the beachhead defense. Andong, northeast of Sangju, is only 46 miles north of threatened Taegu.

The First Cavalry Division fighting south of Sangju in the Kumchon area, now is threatened with being outflanked on both the north and south. It is trying to hold the "plug" at Kumchon leading into the traditional Conqueror's Pass toward

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP) — A federal Appeals Court today upheld the Smith Act and the conviction under it of the nation's 11 top communist leaders.

The unanimous opinion of three judges was tuned to the times, citing the Korean war and President Truman's latest warning against subversives.

Judge Harrie B. Chase praised Congress for its foresight in enacting the Smith Act 10 years ago. He called American communists allies, if not tools of Soviet Russia.

Rush Holt, "Boy Senator," Leads In W. Va. Primary

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 1 (AP)—Rush Dew Holt, a one-time Democratic Senator turned Republican, started off tonight with an early lead in his bid for a nomination for Congress.

Holt, now 45 years old but who was the famed Democratic "Boy Senator" of 1935, ran in a four-man contest for the Republican nomination in the Third West Virginia District. His home is in Weston, in the central part of the state.

Holt's bid for office drew most of the attention in an otherwise apathetic primary marked by a light vote. Heavy rains fell during the early part of today's balloting but even after the sun came out there was little pickup.

West Virginians nominated candidates for six Congressional seats, three statewide offices, the Legislature and some county offices. No U. S. Senate seat was at stake.

In the first 58 precincts of the 505 in the Third District, Holt polled 2,772 votes. Clifford Francis of Buckhannon had 146; M. A. Holliday of Garten, 39, and Rufus C. Hurt, Oak Hill bus operator, 704.

Cleveland M. Bailey, the Democratic incumbent in the Third, was well ahead of his only opponent, Samuel X. S. Curia, 3,831 to 479, in 52 precincts.

Robert L. Ramsay of the First District, opposed by J. Patrick Beacom, a former State Senator, had a good lead. The first 40 of 418 precincts gave Ramsay 1,597 votes and Beacom 843.

The other four Democratic Congressmen were nominated without opposition. They are Harley O. Staggers, Second District; M. G. Burnside, Fourth; John M. Kee, Fifth, and E. H. Hedrick, Sixth.

The statewide nominations were to fill vacancies in unexpired terms of state treasurer, attorney general and Supreme Court Judge. The only contests were in Democratic and Republican races for treasurer.

Tydings Faces Opposition In Maryland Demo Primary

D'Alesandro has endorsed Tydings' bid for a fifth term.

The Democratic maneuvering about the Senate nomination monopolized the talk in the last-minute jockeying before the filing.

There still were reverberations from the decision of D. John Markey of Walkersville to switch and campaign for the Republican nomination to the Senate instead of Governor.

That made it a three-cornered affair on the Republican side, with Markey running against Mayor Herman L. Mills of Hagerstown and John M. Butler, a Baltimore attorney.

McKeldin announced today that Helen Elizabeth Brown, Baltimore attorney, will be his running mate as a candidate for Attorney General.

Miss Brown previously had intended to run for Governor herself but she withdrew when McKeldin came out for the office and promised to support him.

They arrived together at the State House in late afternoon to file and deposit their candidacy fees—$270 apiece. McKeldin said his ticket did not plan to challenge J. Millard Tawes for comptroller.

Miss Brown will be opposed by William A. Gunter, a Cumberland attorney. He filed his certificate today and declared he would run independently, without ties to either of the gubernatorial candidates.

There is no Republican candidate so far for comptroller.

The Democratic side of the gubernatorial picture has long since settled down to a pitched primary battle between Governor Lane and George P. Mahoney, Baltimore paving contractor who formerly was chairman of the State Racing Commission.

There are some other candidates on the Democratic side, but so far none has developed a substantial following.

Campaigning alongside Governor Lane are Attorney General Hall Hammond and Comptroller Tawes. Neither has opposition.

Candidates for each statewide office and Fourth circuit judgeships (x-denotes incumbent):

GOVERNOR

Washington, Garrett Counties):

REPUBLICANS—Morgan C. Harris, Cumberland.

Malik Ends

Malik contended President Truman himself had linked the Chinese and Korean questions by deciding to "put Formosa into his pocket." He said that was what Mr. Truman meant by ordering the Seventh U. S. Fleet to protect Formosa.

Turning to Austin, he said those who attempt to prevent discussion of these questions demonstrate that they are "foes of a peaceful settlement" and proclaim a desire to continue aggression against Korean people and to extend the theater of warfare.

"We appeal to the Security Council that it should adopt prompt measures to end the Korean aggression which hangs over the heads of the people like a Damoclean sword brandished by the United States," Malik said.

Although a U. N. commission has reported that the North Koreans launched an unprovoked invasion of the U. N.-sponsored Republic of Korea in the south, Malik argued that the United States had "stooges" provoke frontier incidents as an excuse for military action.

Immediately after the council convened at 2:12 p.m. EST, Malik announced that as president he ruled that the representative of the "Kuomintang group" was not a member of the council and could not take part in the deliberations of the council.

Austin challenged the ruling as an "arbitrary fiat."

Sir Gladwyn Jebb, of Britain, and Jean Chauvel, of France, backed Austin.

Malik answered the three with a speech saying the United States is following a course of world domination while the Soviet Union stands for peace. He said the legitimate representative of the Chinese Republic is being prohibited from taking part in the council.

Sir Benegal N. Rau, of India and Ales Bebler of Yugoslavia announced they would approve the ruling. Both countries have recognized red China.

Arne Sunde, of Norway, called for a quick vote. Antonito Quevada of Ecuador, Alberto I. Alvarez of Cuba, Mahmoud Fawzi Bey of Egypt all announced they would vote against Malik.

Eight hands went up when the vote was taken against the ruling. Malik announced the vote as seven against his ruling.

Austin shouted an immediate challenge and said it was obviously eight against.

Malik replied Austin was too quick, that he was going to say seven voted in favor plus the representative of the Kuomintang.

Austin said the President of the council is not a dictator and insisted that Malik record the vote "truthfully" and not "falsely."

Malik said he objected to such words from Austin and called him to order. He said he had pointed out there were eight votes, including the representative of "the Kuomintang." Austin replied that since Malik had corrected his statement to eight votes he did not require a vote on his challenge. The exchange ended with the reply.

After hearing Malik on Korea, the council adjourned at 5:15 p.m. until 2 p.m. tomorrow. It did not settle the order of the agenda and that will be the first business tomorrow.

fallen Yongdong and Taejon.

But Kumchon itself is threatened by communist troops who fought their way past Chirye and leaped out of the mountains at a point only four miles southwest of Kumchon. Other communist units are striking from a point seven miles northwest of Kumchon.

Farther south the communists who punched through the mountains at two points now have either collided or are about to run into the fresh 2nd Division units who have been unloading for several days at a southern port.

The 2nd Division troops, many of them having invaluable World War II combat experience, were rushed by truck and bus from their transports and deployed along the line south of Taegu under direction of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U. S. Commander in Korea.

Ahead of them and on their southern flank aparently were units of the gallant 24th Division which originally tried to stop the North Korean invaders. The 24th Division troops who had inflicted a heavy casualty toll were rushed into the southern breach just before the arrival of the 2nd Division.

Maj. Gen. John H. Church is the 24th Commander following the disappearance of Maj. Gen. William F. Dean in the retreat from Taejon on the other side of the invaded mountain chain.

The Eighth Army communique said that the 24th Division troops again were hurled back north of fallen Hyopchon, which is only 30 miles southwest of menaced Taegu. This is the area where the communist rolled down onto the coastal plains from Kochang in the mountains.

Farther south the enemy struck 25 miles east of Chinju, which was captured Sunday, and reached Chindong-Ni, only five miles southwest of the big port city of Masan, and 29 air miles west of Pusan.

The headquarters spokesman said there were no reports yet of "fighting in Masan," but is was obvious from front dispatches that Masan is endangered. From Masan the enemy has to drive only 45 road miles to reach Pusan. By air that city is 25 miles west of Pusan.

The Democratic maneuvering about the Senate nomination monopolized the talk in the last-minute jockeying before the filing.

There still were reverberations from the decision of D. John Markey of Walkersville to switch and campaign for the Republican nomination to the Senate instead of Governor.

That made it a three-cornered affair on the Republican side, with Markey running against Mayor Herman L. Mills of Hagerstown and John M. Butler, a Baltimore attorney.

Markey's withdrawal from the race for governor left the Republicans with a choice between Theodore R. McKeldin, another former Mayor of Baltimore, and State Senator Roy Tasco Davis of Montgomery County.

McKeldin announced today that Helen Elizabeth Brown, Baltimore attorney, will be his running mate as a candidate for Attorney General.

Miss Brown previously had intended to run for Governor herself but she withdrew when McKeldin came out for the office and promised to support him.

They arrived together at the State House in late afternoon to file and deposit their candidacy fees—$270 apiece. McKeldin said his ticket did not plan to challenge J. Millard Tawes for comptroller.

Miss Brown will be opposed by William A. Gunter, a Cumberland attorney. He filed his certificate today and declared he would run independently, without ties to either of the gubernatorial candidates.

There is no Republican candidate so far for comptroller.

The Democratic side of the gubernatorial picture has long since settled down to a pitched primary battle between Governor Lane and George P. Mahoney, Baltimore paving contractor who formerly was chairman of the State Racing Commission.

There are some other candidates on the Democratic side, but so far none has developed a substantial following.

Campaigning alongside Governor Lane are Attorney General Hall Hammond and Comptroller Tawes. Neither has opposition.

Malik contended President Truman himself had linked the Chinese and Korean questions by deciding to "put Formosa into his pocket." He said that was what Mr. Truman meant by ordering the Seventh U. S. Fleet to protect Formosa.

Turning to Austin, he said those who attempt to prevent discussion of these questions demonstrate that they are "foes of a peaceful settlement" and proclaim a desire to continue aggression against Korean people and to extend the theater of warfare.

"We appeal to the Security Council that it should adopt prompt measures to end the Korean aggression which hangs over the heads of the people like a Damoclean sword brandished by the United States," Malik said.

Although a U. N. commission has reported that the North Koreans launched an unprovoked invasion of the U. N.-sponsored Republic of Korea in the south, Malik argued that the United States had "stooges" provoke frontier incidents as an excuse for military action.

Immediately after the council convened at 2:12 p.m. EST, Malik announced that as president he ruled that the representative of the "Kuomintang group" was not a member of the council and could not take part in the deliberations of the council.

Austin challenged the ruling as an "arbitrary fiat."

Sir Gladwyn Jebb, of Britain, and Jean Chauvel, of France, backed Austin.

Malik answered the three with a speech saying the United States is following a course of world domination while the Soviet Union stands for peace. He said the legitimate representative of the Chinese Republic is being prohibited from taking part in the council.

Sir Benegal N. Rau, of India and Ales Bebler of Yugoslavia announced they would approve the ruling. Both countries have recognized red China.

Arne Sunde, of Norway, called for a quick vote. Antonito Quevada of Ecuador, Alberto I. Alvarez of Cuba, Mahmoud Fawzi Bey of Egypt all announced they would vote against Malik.

Eight hands went up when the vote was taken against the ruling. Malik annonuced the vote as seven against his ruling.

Austin shouted an immediate challenge and said it was obviously eight against.

Malik replied Austin was too quick, that he was going to say seven voted in favor plus the representative of the Kuomintang.

Austin said the President of the council is not a dictator and insisted that Malik record the vote "truthfully" and not "falsely."

Malik said he objected to such words from Austin and called him to order. He said he had pointed out there were eight votes, including the representative of "the Kuomintang." Austin replied that since Malik had corrected his statement to eight votes he did not require a vote on his challenge. The exchange ended with the reply.

After hearing Malik on Korea, the council adjourned at 5:15 p.m. until 2 p.m. tomorrow. It did not settle the order of the agenda and that will be the first business tomorrow.

fallen Yongdong and Taejon.

But Kumchon itself is threatened by communist troops who fought their way past Chirye and leaped out of the mountains at a point only four miles southwest of Kumchon. Other communist units are striking from a point seven miles northwest of Kumchon.

Farther south the communists who punched through the mountains at two points now have either collided or are about to run into the fresh 2nd Division units who have been unloading for several days at a southern port.

The 2nd Division troops, many of them having invaluable World War II combat experience, were rushed by truck and bus from their transports and deployed along the line south of Taegu under direction of Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U. S. Commander in Korea.

Ahead of them and on their southern flank aparently were units of the gallant 24th Division which originally tried to stop the North Korean invaders. The 24th Division troops who had inflicted a heavy casualty toll were rushed into the southern breach just before the arrival of the 2nd Division.

Maj. Gen. John H. Church is the 24th Commander following the disappearance of Maj. Gen. William F. Dean in the retreat from Taejon on the other side of the invaded mountain chain.

The Eighth Army communique said that the 24th Division troops again were hurled back north of fallen Hyopchon, which is only 30 miles southwest of menaced Taegu. This is the area where the communist rolled down onto the coastal plains from Kochang in the mountains.

Farther south the enemy struck 25 miles east of Chinju, which was captured Sunday, and reached Chindong-Ni, only five miles southwest of the big port city of Masan, and 29 air miles west of Pusan.

The headquarters spokesman said there were no reports yet of "fighting in Masan," but is was obvious from front dispatches that Masan is endangered. From Masan the enemy has to drive only 45 road miles to reach Pusan. By air that city is 25 miles west of Pusan.

War In Korea Spurs British Navy Program

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's navy is speeding its job of fitting compact fleets for the rigors of atom war.

Spurred by war in Korea and fears of a general conflict, Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell has ordered the Admiralty to get going with its program of naval building and modernization.

But available facts—open to any potential enemy—clearly show that emphasis in British naval building is falling heavily on aircraft carriers and fast anti-submarine ships. Such building represents the changed naval tactics born of World War Two.

Two big aircraft carriers, the 30,000-ton Formidable and Indomitable, are being modernized as nests for atom bomb planes.

This refit job had been tentatively set last spring to begin "sometime in 1950". In line with Shinwell's announcement of a swifter modernization program it probably now has high priority.

Eight fast "pocket cruisers" are nearing completion. Officially they are designated destroyers—but they are about double the size of ordinary destroyers and mount their six 4.5 inch naval rifles in cruiser-type twin turrets.

Some reserves are being called into the navy. Demobilization of others whose terms are ending has been stopped. Where they will be used is another naval secret. Best guess is they will bring peacetime complements of fighting ships up to full wartime strength, and train as crews for new vessels.

Emphasis is on modern ships. Hardly a vessel in his majesty's royal navy was built before World War Two. Even those pickled in the reserve fleet are of modern basic construction.

Improved radar, including radar gun control apparatus, better submarine detection devices, and stronger, harder-hitting arms are the main fixtures of modernization.

Up to the minute research is going into the arms and equipment of new vessels. Some, begun late during World War Two, have had construction suspended while research continues into such things as gas turbine engines, new guns and other equipment.

The British fleet is not large. Brittania no longer rules the waves. The United States Navy far eclipsed Britain's in size in World War Two.

Britain has 114 ships in active service now, including seven carriers and 14 cruisers. In mothballs or assigned to training and experimental jobs are 334 others, about 40 per cent of which are mothballed frigates.

One battleship is in commission, but only as a training vessel. She's the Vanguard, completed in 1946. Her anti-aircraft defenses are reported to be the best ever installed on any British warship.

Four other dreadnaughts, finished in the early days of World War Two, are in reserve. All prewar battleships have been scrapped.

Nine new carriers are under construction. Two are big ones—the Eagle, and Ark Royal—of 37,000 tons. Eagle is due to be finished by the end of this year, the Ark Royal in mid-1952. Two more of this class and three much larger ones had been ordered late in the war but were quickly cancelled.

Four medium carriers of about 18,000 tons and capable of 30 knots, are well along. The Albion and Centaur are slated to be ready by the end of next year, the Bulwark and Hermes by mid-1952.

Three other light carriers of about 14,000 tons were begun in 1945 but work was stopped in 1946. Official announcements say they will be completed.

Britain has 27 frigates in commission. The frigate class lumps small destroyers, corvettes and other such subchasing and general utility fighting ships.

Two frigates are undergoing modernization as prototypes for conversion of much of the frigate fleet into sub-killers. Besides those in commission, 15 are assigned to training and experimental slots and 123 are in mothballs.

The conversion job is being done on the Relentless and the Rocket, to speed them up to 34 knots by taking off much of the bulky superstructure and using aluminum instead of steel to build up the new, lower silhouette.

Britain has only 66 submarines. Thirty-two are in active service. Most of these 32 are modern A class and T class vessels, all equipped with the "snort" breathing apparatus.

Yanks Discover Tanks Operate In Rice Paddies

By DON WHITEHEAD

AN ADVANCE COMMAND POST, Korea — (AP) — American tankmen have discovered that U. S. 21-ton medium tanks can be operated across the water-covered rice paddies in the valleys of Korea.

Capt. Charles V. H. Harvey, Texarkana, Texas, and his reconnaissance tankmen made this discovery the hard way—in saving American infantrymen under enemy attack.

There had been reports that the North Koreans were driving their broad-tread, Russian-made tanks across the rice paddies in attacking American positions. American tankmen were skeptical; they contended even their own lighter tanks would mire in the mud of the paddies.

Harvey and his men fought their way from behind the enemy lines, helped save Company F of the Eighth Regiment, First Cavalry, and proved that tanks can be used in rice paddies.

Heretofore, American tankmen have stayed on the roads or deployed in dry stream beds where they knew there was firm footing for the tanks.

Harvey started out of the Yongdong area last Monday with six tanks, leading Company F through the enemy lines.

On Tuesday the little band ran into an enemy trap as the tanks headed for a dry streambed. The two lead tanks stuck on a bank at the end of the rice paddies just as the enemy opened fire on the American troops.

Harvey immediately ordered Cpl. James Messer of Nashville, Tenn., to drive the third tank across the rice paddy. Then Harvey followed Messer in the fourth with the remaining two swinging in beside him through the water and mud.

From their positions in the rice paddy, the tanks poured a murderous fire into the enemy and gave a cover of fire under which the Americans escaped into the hills.

Pfc. Charles W. Rhodes, Statts Mills, W. Va., was the driver of Harvey's tank.

"I didn't think we could do it," he said, "but while we were moving we had good traction. When we stopped and began firing the 75 millimeter gun, I felt the tank sinking a little in the mud.

"We sat there firing for about five minutes before moving onto dry ground. The tank moved out without any trouble.

"It was a little hard to steer on the turns, but except for that the tank maneuvered all right. I wouldn't be afraid to go across any rice paddy with our tanks after that. If we hadn't stopped to fire our guns, the tank never would have begun to sink."

Ringing Bells To Start "Crusade For Freedom"

Some day next September, if plans mature, a great new bell will ring in West Berlin. "The first clap of the Freedom Bell will be carried by radio to all the free peoples of the earth. Simultaneously, bells will ring out all over America—church bells, city hall bells, schools. Behind the Iron Curtain bells will appear scrawled on walls."

The 10-ton bronze bell now being cast in England will have certain devices on it. "Five figures around the bell represent the five races of man, shown passing the torch of freedom. Above them is the laurel of peace. The inscription around the base reads, in paraphrase of Lincoln's words at Gettysburg, "That This World Under God Shall Have a New Birth of Freedom."

Thus was announced in Chicago a project called the "Crusade for Freedom." Encouraged by President Truman and the State Department, it is set up strictly apart from the government's efforts to turn the minds of men away from communism. It is to supplement the official U. S. Voice of America by asking Americans to contribute to the support of Radio Free Europe. This is a "new broadcasting station in Western Germany" already put on the air by a group of private U. S. citizens. If and as public support materializes, the story of freedom will go out this way to Asia as well.

Leading this effort as national chairman is General Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany during the airlift. Among the other leaders are General Eisenhower, who led the liberation of Europe from the Nazis, and Joseph C. Grew, who as ambassador to Japan gave unheeded warnings of Pacific aggression long in advance.

This campaign will be nationwide and should be met with the seriousness it deserves. It is hoped there will be plenty of ears to hear when the Freedom Bell rings out.

Old Masters

An old master need not be from the past. The British National Art Gallery has decreed that such late 19th Century and early 20th Century painters as Vincent Van Gogh and Camille Pissarro are sufficiently meritorious to qualify as old masters, and will henceforth be listed as such.

Older Americans will recall the storm aroused by the impressionists in the latter part of the last century. Manet, Renoir and other French painters startled beholders with their novel light effects. Their worth was soon recognized, however, together with their real contribution to painting. Later came the even more astonishing post-impressionists such as Cezanne and Pissarro, whose work struck most beholders as simply wild. They too won a better reception with time.

"Why do painters go in for such queer methods?" is a question often asked. One convincing answer is that the famous artists of the past achieved all that could be hoped for from their techniques. Attempts to imitate them would result in second-rate work. Hence artists have struck out in new directions, to see what new methods they could accomplish. Some of these are dead-end streets, others lead to new discoveries. The thing to remember is that the British National Art Gallery is right in its belief that all the geniuses did not die centuries ago.

Time For Economy?

Economy, at this juncture, would seem to be a still, small voice, crying in the wilderness of box car figures. Nevertheless there seems to be sincere bipartisan sentiment for it.

Mr. Truman has made a start of sorts by instructing heads of government departments and agencies to cut down on the purchase of supplies and equipment and take a sharper look at their spending. From past experience at this sort of thing, "economy" in government agencies will net very little in the way of dollars actually saved. However, the heads of departments should certainly be the ones to point out where cuts are possible.

It is heartening to note in Washington papers that proposed construction of several new government buildings has been dropped.

It seems that this would be the logical time to write into law some of the recommendations of the Hoover Commission that have been ignored by Congress for a variety of reasons. To date about 35 per cent of the proposals have been given congressional approval. Here is a chance to effect economy on a long range basis. It would seem to be a better bet than short-range, hit-or-miss pruning jobs.

Using Hot Springs

In a search for new sources of electric power, New Zealand has turned to hot springs, of which it has great numbers. Natives in some parts of the country have long used the hot water for their cooking, and have even sunk shafts under their houses to bring the hot water directly in for cooking and heating. Otherwise the New Zealand hot springs have functioned chiefly as tourist entertainment.

The obtaining of power from hot springs is not unheard of; it has been done on a small scale. It is quite possible that New Zealand, hard pressed because it does not have abundant coal for steam generating plants, may devise practical methods for tapping the underground heat.

There are considerable numbers of hot springs in the United States, most of which have become centers of health resorts. Those of Yellowstone National Park are tourist attractions of long standing. Having not yet exhausted the possibilities of electric power from water and coal, Americans have not considered using the hot springs for that purpose. If we ever need them, we may find the trail already blazed.

Recovery Vs. Defense

If Europe's need for military aid is as great as the administration suggests and as Europe itself contends the United States might consider seriously the possibility of diverting some Marshall Plan funds to that more important field. It probably would take an act of Congress to make the transfer legal but in the present emergency the vote on the matter would be nearly unanimous.

Under the circumstances the states of western Europe can hardly object if some of the money allocated to its economic recovery is now used for purposes of its defense. It will mean, of course, that Europeans will have to make certain sacrifices, but that's the unhappy prospect ahead of Americans, too.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Diarrhea Due To Contaminated Food

DIARRHEA is more prone to develop in the summer time because heat is conducive to bacterial invasion. In addition, food and water are likely to be contaminated. But the cause is not always easy to detect and now and then epidemics sweep thru counties and states without leaving a clue relative to the culprit.

A severe bout of diarrhea is an exhausting experience. The onset usually is acute, with nausea, vomiting, and abdominal cramps. Dizziness and generalized aching may co-exist. Dehydration sets in quickly if large amounts of fluid are lost, which upsets the chemical balance of the body, producing fever and shock. As a rule the condition lasts from one to three days and as soon as appetite returns full recovery generally ensues.

In many instances, the disorder is not so distressing as to call for confinement in bed. All physicians, however, have seen patients who have collapsed within 10 minutes of becoming ill. Most of these extreme cases were due to severe food poisoning in which the gastrointestinal tract made a strenuous effort to eliminate toxic material as soon as possible thru both routes. Events such as these can be emergencies and hospitalization is needed to replenish fluid loss and overcome shock, especially when they develop among the personnel of camps and battleships.

Diarrhea also is dangerous in infants and children and, at the turn of the century, was one of the leading causes of death in this age group. Refrigeration, cleanliness, and improvements in hygiene have changed the picture so that diarrhea no longer is the dreaded disease of the past. Keeping babies cool during heat waves is thought to have played a role in the improved picture as studies have shown that during hot weather resistance to bacteria in the intestinal tract is lowered.

• — • — •

Simple acute diarrhea rarely is serious. Rest lessens cramping and the number of movements. Heat in the form of the electric heating pad, hot water bottle, or hot stupes will releive abdominal discomfort. The sufferer must adstain from all food for 24 hours. Some have no choice in the matter because nausea and vomiting occur even after a cup of tea. But nourishment rarely is advised, even though it does not produce distress, as eating is likely to stimulate the bowel into reflex action and this is undesirable. An exception is made when dry mouth is present; sipping tea or sucking on ice chips offers comfort without aggravating diarrhea. As improvement takes place, the patient may take small amounts of hot water, weak tea, broth or barley gruel. Gradually the menus may include buttered toast, soft cooked eggs, custard, junket, cooked cereal, and fruit juices.

Many of the old reliables—bismuth, paregoric, atropine, belladonna, kaolin, and blackberry brandy—still are used. The sulfonamides and antibiotics are the newcomers; their action is more scientific because they attack the causative germs. Whenever diarrhea persists a more thoro study is advised. This inludes an analysis of the stool specimens, X-ray, and proctiscopic examination.

ONE KIDNEY

M. B. writes: Must a person who had one kidney removed remain on a diet for life?

REPLY

The answer depends upon the reason for the original operation. If kidney stone was responsible, omitting certain foods may be necessary to spare the remaining organ. On the other hand, if the structure was removed for a disturbance not related to food, then there is no need to be concerned about the diet.

SORE KNEE

B. H. writes: About a year after I had a venereal disease, my right knee started to pain me. It is now so bad I can hardly walk. Is there any relationship between the two conditions?

REPLY

Yes, provided the venereal disease was gonorrhea. Consult your physician, as he can help you.

UNDERWEIGHT

Mrs. E. writes: Is there any danger to a woman in being 10 to 12 pounds underweight?

REPLY

No. It is better than overweight at this age, but normal weight, or even a few pounds lighter, would be better still.

DOG AND WEIGHT

C. M. write: I've lost weight since becoming a dog owner. Is there any connection?

REPLY

HYPERTENSION

V. M. writes: How does a person know when he has high blood pressure?

REPLY

There are no specific symptoms. The bets way to find out is to have the blood pressure taken periodically.

DILEMMA IN THE LOS t SHEEP DEPARTMENT

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

New Tank Superior To All Others; Payment To Policeman Unexplained; Republicans Waking Up First To Need For Price Controls

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A new supertank will soon be ready for Korean action, that is the fastest, deadliest, and best-armored in the world.

Military leaders say it represents as great an advance in ground attack as the jet plane in the air. They also predict it will be vastly superior to the massive Russian tanks being used by the North Koreans.

This information was given to a closed-door meeting of the House Armed Services Committee by Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff.

General Collins testified that the tank, already in production, will outspeed and outmaneuver any enemy tank it comes up against. Furthermore, it will not only be equipped with weapons capable of "destroying any other tank," including the Russian goliath, Collins told the committee, but it will have better armor to resist enemy fire.

"In all departments, it is by far the best tank ever produced," Collins declared.

Somewhat smaller than the Russian opposite number, it also is less expensive to build, the Chief of Staff added.

Chief defects of the Russian tank are its size and lack of maneuverability, which make for an easier target.

"Our bazookas have established that fact," Collins said.

Mysterious $1,000

The strange story of a $1,000 bill received by a Washington police lieutenant after he tapped the telephone wires of aviation executive Howard Hughes has been reported to the Justice Department.

The wire-tapping job was entirely outside the regular work of the Washington police and was done on behalf of a Senate Investigating Committee headed by Senator Brewster of Maine. Other officials of that committee state that they never knew of the wire-tapping, and evidence points to the likelihood that it was paid for by Brewster or his friends, Pan American Airways.

Pan American at that time wanted Howard Hughes to consolidate his Trans World Airlines with Pan Am, and, during the Senate investigation, Hughes said that Senator Brewster himself had urged this consolidation. Hughes even charged that Brewster had him investigated in retaliation for his refusal to get together with Pan American.

The $1,000 bill mentioned in police reports was handed to Lieut. Joseph Shimon shortly after he finished tapping Howard Hughes' wires. Shimon was in the office of the U. S. attorney, where he had a desk at that time, when a man came in and handed him a $1,000 bill. Shimon, according to another policeman who was present, said nothing, put the bill down on his desk for a moment, then put it in his pocket.

Shimon is the same police lieutenant who tapped the wires in the divorce case involving the Argentine ambassador and also the wires of the late Sen. Josiah Bailey of North Carolina.

Republicans Wake Up

Member of the palace guard chiefly responsible for holding President Truman back on all-out war controls is affable, take-it-easy, nice-as-an-old-shoe Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder. He is also the man who is likely to let the Republicans steal the show when it comes to protecting the public on price-gouging.

Astute Sen. Joe O'Mahoney, Wyoming Democrat, put his finger on this when he called Secretary Snyder on the phone recently

"I'm having a meeting of brain-trusters from here and there to talk over an excess-profits tax," O'Mahoney told the man who is supposed to advise on and help originate tax legislation.

"I'd be glad to invite you to sit in with us, John, but I'm not," the Wyoming Senator continued. "For, somehow or other, I don't think you'd be much help on an excess-profits tax."

What O'Mahoney knew was that Secretary Snyder has been pulling against any stiff excess-profits tax, despite the fact that this proved the most efficient means of both holding down prices and financing the last war. It is also one of the main planks in the control platform of wise old Bernard Baruch whose advice has helped guide the nation through two wars.

Jumping on Baruch's platform the other day, Congressman Kunkel of Pennsylvania, who recently ran for governor on the GOP ticket but lost in the primary, proposed complete adoption of Baruch's all-out price-tax-wage-and-inflation controls. Catching the Democrats off guard, the Republicans voted solidly in the House Banking and Currency Committee for the Baruch plan and lost by only one vote.

Administration Democrats were scared stiff. It was their first realization that the country, as usual, is ahead of Washington. And this time the Republicans seem to have awakened to the fact first.

$1-A-Year Men

A hot and significant argument is going on inside the administration on the important question of $1-a-year men. President Truman doesn't want them, but some of his advisers are pressuring to bring an army of $1-a-year men back to Washington.

One-dollar men are business executives who work for the government yet continue to keep their private business positions. They accept $1 a year from the government as a token payment, but continue to draw regular salaries from their own companies.

Some of these men performed skilled and patriotic jobs for their country during World War II. But many, suffering from divided allegiance, seemed to be thinking more of their own companies than their government. And some deliberately came to Washington with the idea of feathering their own business nests.

President Truman, when head of the Truman investigating committee, saw a great deal of this nest-feathering by $1-a-year men and doesn't want it repeated. However, the Business Advisory Council, a group of businessmen advising the Commerce Department, urges otherwise, and Secretary of Commerce Sawyer has backed them up.

Truman's Price Support Program Is Now Reversed

By MARK SULLIVAN

PRESIDENT Truman, in the emergency program of economic proposals he sent to Congress, following the Korean crisis, included one that is important in itself and extraordinary as coming from Mr. Truman. His recommendation dealt with the immense quantities of food which the Department of Agriculture has bought and taken off the market in order to support the prices. Mr. Truman asked that he be given authority to put this food back on the market. By his proposal, sales of the government-owned food would be made to wholesalers and the food would thus become available for purchase by consumers at whatever would be the natural market price. This would of course check the rise in food prices, and perhaps roll prices back somewhat. For in effect it would end price support by government to the extent that the President would exercise the authority he asked for.

Such a proposal is, from Mr. Truman, a deep reversal. It implies what many observers think they notice, a profound change in Mr. Truman, brought about by realization of the seriousness of the present emergency, including awareness of the danger of inflation, of the part that price support of farm crops plays in inflation, and of the disastrous effect that serious inflation would have on the country's economic structure. This is reversal indeed. In the past, Mr. Truman's attitude toward price support of farm crops has been strong in favor of it and more of it. This he now reverses. He reverses also the political attitude which recognized the farm vote and appealed to it, and which in his 1948 Presidential campaign he got from Mid-West farm states in sufficient quantity to give him victory in the election.

But if Mr. Truman has changed, spokesmen for price support in Congress have not. When Mr. Truman's proposal was under consideration by the House Committee on Banking and Currency, it encountered strong opposition from representatives of both parties. Democratic Representative Pace of Georgia said, as reported by Mr. John W. Ball in "The Washington Post," that the proposal would entail "dreadful consequences" to farmers. Republican Representative Hope of Kansas also expressed strong opposition. For the time being at least, opposition in Congress seems to prevail; Mr. Truman's proposal has been left out of the program of economic measures Congress is considering.

As of today, price support continues as was and as is. For any change of it, greater understanding of it on the part of the public is likely to be necessary. Such understanding is apparently not general. During recent weeks there has been an outpouring of press and radio news and comment about rising prices of food, and about hoarding, much of which is done because of fear that the rise in prices may go still further. In all this there has been comparatively little mention of the part that price support of farm crops plays. A reason for the comparative silence on this point is probably lack of understanding about how price support works. Light may be got from a few concrete examples.

The Department of Agriculture buys butter, has been buying it for the past seventeen months, and now has on hand 192,000,000 pounds. (This official figure is as of July 17). That is more than a pound for every man, woman and child in the United States—if they could get it. The Department, however, will not put its butter on the market for consumers to buy. It bought the butter for the precise purpose of taking it off the market and thus keeping the price up. The Department buys eggs in dried form, has been buying during some three years, and as of July 17 had on hand 107,000,000 pounds. The Department has been buying cheese for more than a year, and as of July 17 had on hand 80,000,000 pounds.

Under the price support law as it stands, the Department cannot put its stored accumulations of food on the market and sell them in the ordinary channels through which consumers could buy them at whatever would be the market price. The law prevents the Department from selling at any price lower than the support price which it paid plus 5 per cent and handling charges. Under this limitation, the Department, in order to get rid of its accumulations, several of which deteriorate in storage, practices devices which seem grotesque.

The Department sells to commercial manufacturers for uses other that edible consumption, at prices a fraction of what it paid. It sells in foreign countries at prices similarly low. It manages to get rid of a small part of its accumulations by gifts to welfare institutions, school programs and the like. In the case of potatoes, the Department sells to farmers for strictly limited use as livestock food. Yet the Department, under the law as its stands, continues to support the price of potatoes. Agriculture Secretary Brannan estimated the other day that the loss incurred in supporting the price of this year's crop of potatoes would be some $70,000,000; the total loss during some three years of price support of potatoes has been upward of $400,000,000.

Right Of Russia To Sit On UN Council Questioned

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. — The United Nations is undergoing more and more criticism here as Jacob Malik, the Soviet Union's delegate, is permitted to preside over the Security Council.

In some quarters, particularly in Congress, there is a feeling that the Soviet Union is guilty of having precipitated the North Korean aggression and that steps should be taken to investigate the part that Moscow has played in provoking the present war in the Far East. To do otherwise is to allow a party to a serious dispute to wield the gavel and preside over the Security Council—the main body of the United Nations.

The charter of the United Nations specifically provides that no party to a dispute shall sit on the Security Council. It is, therefore, not lawful for the Soviet delegate to preside, for example, either in connection with any matters relating to Communist China, whose government is involved in the sending of troops to North Korea, or in considering the origin of the Korean war itself. The presence of Yak fighter planes and Russian officers in the North Korean military operation is well known. The Soviet did not permit the UN to make any inspection after the Soviet forces were presumably withdrawn last year from North Korea—and has not permitted it since.

Prima Facie Guilt

The fact that a commission of the UN has been forbidden entry to inspect a country now involved in an act of aggression constitutes a prima facie case of guilt which warrants a trial. While such a trial is going on, the Soviet Union must stand aside as a comprehensive investigation is undertaken. Article Five of the charter says:

"A member of the United Nations against which preventive or enforcement action has been taken by the Security Council may be suspended from the exercise of the rights and privileges of membership by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council. The exercise of these rights and privileges of membership by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council. The exercise of these rights and privileges may be restored by the Security Council."

When the UN Security Council, by its resolution of June 26th, called on all member nations to refrain from assisting the North Koreans, it is apparent that the Soviet Union disregarded that admonition. The Soviet Union has been guilty of disregard of several provisions of the UN charter, particularly by abstention from participation for several months in the work of the UN and its important commissions. Article Six of the charter calls for expulsion in the following terms:

"A member of the United Nations which has persistently violated the principles contained in the present charter may be expelled from the organization by the General Assembly upon recommendation of the Security Council."

Violations Ignored

To allow the Soviet envoy to participate in any way in the proceedings of the Security Council is to ignore the many violations of the charter by Russia that have occurred. The remedy lies in suspendinng the Soviet membership until the North Korean controversy has been thoroughly studied and until the Soviets cease their support of the North Korean government and also withdraw their public charge that members of the UN attacked North Korea. Unless the record is clarified so that the UN knows which countries are its friends and which countries are its opponents, there can be little confidence in the resolutions taken by the UN with the Soviet delegate present.

The United States has just renewed its request that the UN ask all member nations to refrain from aiding North Korea. This is a pointed reminder that, while not saying so in so many words, America considers the Soviet Union guilty of aggression along with the North Koreans.

The Stockholm Pledge

PRIOR to starting on the Korean adventure, Soviet Russia, through its international communist parties, organized a world-wide peace offensive, designed to create a universal public opinion against the use of the atom bomb and to designate the United States as a warmonger.

This petition, addressed to no one in particular, is called the Stockholm Pledge or the Stockholm Petition and is widely circulated in the United States, where many have already signed it.

"We demand the unconditional prohibition of the atomic weapon as an instrument of aggression and mass extermination of people, and the establishment of strict international control over the fulfillment of this decision.

"We will regard as a war criminal that government which first uses the atomic weapon against any country.

"We call upon all people of good will all over the world to sign this call.

"We address ourselves to all social religious groups and workers in culture, all honest people who, irrespective of their views concerning the reasons for the strained international situation, are alarmed because of this and seriously desire to see peaceful relations restored between peoples.

"As a basis for agreement we suggest the prohibition of the atomic weapon and the condemnation of the government which first uses the atomic weapon."

This campagn is not for peace, but against the use of the atom bomb. It does not require peoples to enter into a comity of friendship; it only denies the United States its right to an advantage.

Obviously, this campaign was not suddenly entered upon universally for no reason whatsoever. It was advance notice that something very important was going to happen and that Soviet Russia was not ready to use the atom bomb. Therefore, no-

If Russia were able to use the atom bomb, it would be used. No moral scrupples enter into Marxian considerations; only the law; of necessity govern the Marxist—the law of survival and the determination of fitness only by survival. This attack on the use of the atom bomb, coming on the eve of the Korean war, would rather indicate that the Russians cannot place much faith in its efficacy so far as they are concerned.

As a matter of fact, if war is justified at all, the atom bomb is no more evil or immoral than the bazooka, the submarine or the bow and arrow. On what basis can one decide that a weapon designed to kill is right or wrong. The only defense of war that is even thinkable is self-defense, and if one is driven to the extremity of having to defend himself by physical means, does it really matter what weapon is used—a block-buster or an atom bomb?

This petition simply discloses the fact that Soviet Russia, having decided to pursue a course of aggressive and destructive warfare against the United States, seeks to deprive this country of a weapon of defense. And so-called Americans signed such a petition, some maliciously, some unwittingly, all to the harm of their country, for we must defend our dignity and honor as well as our land and civilization.

One of the simple facts of life that our President, the Secretary of State, and the Central Intelligence Agency will have to learn is that every Russian war move is accompanied by a vast, highly-organized, universal propaganda campaign, designed to destroy a potential defendant.

Thus, Franco was smeared so heavily that even today, when the total wickedness of Stalin is exposed, men fear to say what is true about Spain or to speak of Franco in terms fitting his position. Thus, Chiang Kai-Shek was smeared as corrupt and that was accepted without investigation and it has stuck to his personality. Thus, the Chinese communists, organized in 1920 and active since then in the Third International, were painted as "agrarian reformers," and the term was used even by intelligent persons who should have known better. Thus, Harry Truman is painted as a tool of Wall Street, Although he has gone further to the left than any president we have ever had.

The advance campaign foretells the course of Soviet hatred and charts their channel of loot and murder.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

We've found out you can win a war with a gun and lose it with a pen.

We have done that twice in thirty years on the theory that a turtle can take off its shell and relax.

The price of peace is perpetual vigilance plus the ability to throw your weight around like a fat boy doing the Charleston.

Ringing Bells To Start "Crusade For Freedom"

Some day next September, if plans mature, a great new bell will ring in West Berlin. "The first clap of the Freedom Bell will be carried by radio to all the free peoples of the earth. Simultaneously, bells will ring out all over America—church bells, city hall bells, schools. Behind the Iron Curtain bells will appear scrawled on walls."

The 10-ton bronze bell now being cast in England will have certain devices on it. "Five figures around the bell represent the five races of man, shown passing the torch of freedom. Above them is the laurel of peace. The inscription around the base reads, in paraphrase of Lincoln's words at Gettysburg, "That This World Under God Shall Have a New Birth of Freedom."

Thus was announced in Chicago a project called the "Crusade for Freedom." Encouraged by President Truman and the State Department, it is set up strictly apart from the government's efforts to turn the minds of men away from communism. It is to supplement the official U. S. Voice of America by asking Americans to contribute to the support of Radio Free Europe. This is a "new broadcasting station in Western Germany" already put on the air by a group of private U. S. citizens. If and as public support materializes, the story of freedom will go out this way to Asia as well.

Leading this effort as national chairman is General Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany during the airlift. Among the other leaders are General Eisenhower, who led the liberation of Europe from the Nazis, and Joseph C. Grew, who as ambassador to Japan gave unheeded warnings of Pacific aggression long in advance.

This campaign will be nationwide and should be met with the seriousness it deserves. It is hoped there will be plenty of ears to hear when the Freedom Bell rings out.

Old Masters

An old master need not be from the past. The British National Art Gallery has decreed that such late 19th Century and early 20th Century painters as Vincent Van Gogh and Camille Pissarro are sufficiently meritorious to qualify as old masters, and will henceforth be listed as such.

Older Americans will recall the storm aroused by the impressionists in the latter part of the last century. Manet, Renoir and other French painters startled beholders with their novel light effects. Their worth was soon recognized, however, together with their real contribution to painting. Later came the even more astonishing post-impressionists such as Cezanne and Pissarro, whose work struck most beholders as simply wild. They too won a better reception with time.

"Why do painters go in for such queer methods?" is a question often asked. One convincing answer is that the famous artists of the past achieved all that could be hoped for from their techniques. Attempts to imitate them would result in second-rate work. Hence artists have struck out in new directions, to see what new methods they could accomplish. Some of these are dead-end streets, others lead to new discoveries. The thing to remember is that the British National Art Gallery is right in its belief that all the geniuses did not die centuries ago.

Time For Economy?

Economy, at this juncture, would seem to be a still, small voice, crying in the wilderness of box car figures. Nevertheless there seems to be sincere bipartisan sentiment for it.

Mr. Truman has made a start of sorts by instructing heads of government departments and agencies to cut down on the purchase of supplies and equipment and take a sharper look at their spending. From past experience at this sort of thing, "economy" in government agencies will net very little in the way of dollars actually saved. However, the heads of departments should certainly be the ones to point out where cuts are possible.

It is heartening to note in Washington papers that proposed construction of several new government buildings has been dropped.

It seems that this would be the logical time to write into law some of the recommendations of the Hoover Commission that have been ignored by Congress for a variety of reasons. To date about 35 per cent of the proposals have been given congressional approval. Here is a chance to effect economy on a long range basis. It would seem to be a better bet than short-range, hit-or-miss pruning jobs.

Using Hot Springs

In a search for new sources of electric power, New Zealand has turned to hot springs, of which it has great numbers. Natives in some parts of the country have long used the hot water for their cooking, and have even sunk shafts under their houses to bring the hot water directly in for cooking and heating. Otherwise the New Zealand hot springs have functioned chiefly as tourist entertainment.

The obtaining of power from hot springs is not unheard of; it has been done on a small scale. It is quite possible that New Zealand, hard pressed because it does not have abundant coal for steam generating plants, may devise practical methods for tapping the underground heat.

There are considerable numbers of hot springs in the United States, most of which have become centers of health resorts. Those of Yellowstone National Park are tourist attractions of long standing. Having not yet exhausted the possibilities of electric power from water and coal, Americans have not considered using the hot springs for that purpose. If we ever need them, we may find the trail already blazed.

Recovery Vs. Defense

If Europe's need for military aid is as great as the administration suggests and as Europe itself contends the United States might consider seriously the possibility of diverting some Marshall Plan funds to that more important field. It probably would take an act of Congress to make the transfer legal but in the present emergency the vote on the matter would be nearly unanimous.

Under the circumstances the states of western Europe can hardly object if some of the money allocated to its economic recovery is now used for purposes of its defense. It will mean, of course, that Europeans will have to make certain sacrifices, but that's the unhappy prospect ahead of Americans, too.

Diarrhea Due To Contaminated Food

DIARRHEA is more prone to develop in the summer time because heat is conducive to bacterial invasion. In addition, food and water are likely to be contaminated. But the cause is not always easy to detect and now and then epidemics sweep thru counties and states without leaving a clue relative to the culprit.

A severe bout of diarrhea is an exhausting experience. The onset usually is acute, with nausea, vomiting, and abdominal cramps. Dizziness and generalized aching may co-exist. Dehydration sets in quickly if large amounts of fluid are lost, which upsets the chemical balance of the body, producing fever and shock. As a rule the condition lasts from one to three days and as soon as appetite returns full recovery generally ensues.

In many instances, the disorder is not so distressing as to call for confinement in bed. All physicians, however, have seen patients who have collapsed within 10 minutes of becoming ill. Most of these extreme cases were due to severe food poisoning in which the gastrointestinal tract made a strenuous effort to eliminate toxic material as soon as possible thru both routes. Events such as these can be emergencies and hospitalization is needed to replenish fluid loss and overcome shock, especially when they develop among the personnel of camps and battleships.

Diarrhea also is dangerous in infants and children and, at the turn of the century, was one of the leading causes of death in this age group. Refrigeration, cleanliness, and improvements in hygiene have changed the picture so that diarrhea no longer is the dreaded disease of the past. Keeping babies cool during heat waves is thought to have played a role in the improved picture as studies have shown that during hot weather resistance to bacteria in the intestinal tract is lowered.

• — • — •

Simple acute diarrhea rarely is serious. Rest lessens cramping and the number of movements. Heat in the form of the electric heating pad, hot water bottle, or hot stupes will releive abdominal discomfort. The sufferer must adstain from all food for 24 hours. Some have no choice in the matter because nausea and vomiting occur even after a cup of tea. But nourishment rarely is advised, even though it does not produce distress, as eating is likely to stimulate the bowel into reflex action and this is undesirable. An exception is made when dry mouth is present; sipping tea or sucking on ice chips offers comfort without aggravating diarrhea. As improvement takes place, the patient may take small amounts of hot water, weak tea, broth or barley gruel. Gradually the menus may include buttered toast, soft cooked eggs, custard, junket, cooked cereal, and fruit juices.

Many of the old reliables—bismuth, paregoric, atropine, belladonna, kaolin, and blackberry brandy—still are used. The sulfonamides and antibiotics are the newcomers; their action is more scientific because they attack the causative germs. Whenever diarrhea persists a more thoro study is advised. This inludes an analysis of the stool specimens, X-ray, and proctiscopic examination.

ONE KIDNEY

M. B. writes: Must a person who had one kidney removed remain on a diet for life?

REPLY

The answer depends upon the reason for the original operation. If kidney stone was responsible, omitting certain foods may be necessary to spare the remaining organ. On the other hand, if the structure was removed for a disturbance not related to food, then there is no need to be concerned about the diet.

SORE KNEE

B. H. writes: About a year after I had a venereal disease, my right knee started to pain me. It is now so bad I can hardly walk. Is there any relationship between the two conditions?

REPLY

Yes, provided the venereal disease was gonorrhea. Consult your physician, as he can help you.

UNDERWEIGHT

Mrs. E. writes: Is there any danger to a woman in being 10 to 12 pounds underweight?

REPLY

No. It is better than overweight at this age, but normal weight, or even a few pounds lighter, would be better still.

DOG AND WEIGHT

C. M. write: I've lost weight since becoming a dog owner. Is there any connection?

REPLY

HYPERTENSION

V. M. writes: How does a person know when he has high blood pressure?

REPLY

There are no specific symptoms. The bets way to find out is to have the blood pressure taken periodically.

New Tank Superior To All Others; Payment To Policeman Unexplained; Republicans Waking Up First To Need For Price Controls

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A new supertank will soon be ready for Korean action, that is the fastest, deadliest, and best-armored in the world.

Military leaders say it represents as great an advance in ground attack as the jet plane in the air. They also predict it will be vastly superior to the massive Russian tanks being used by the North Koreans.

This information was given to a closed-door meeting of the House Armed Services Committee by Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff.

General Collins testified that the tank, already in production, will outspeed and outmaneuver any enemy tank it comes up against. Furthermore, it will not only be equipped with weapons capable of "destroying any other tank," including the Russian goliath, Collins told the committee, but it will have better armor to resist enemy fire.

"In all departments, it is by far the best tank ever produced," Collins declared.

Somewhat smaller than the Russian opposite number, it also is less expensive to build, the Chief of Staff added.

Chief defects of the Russian tank are its size and lack of maneuverability, which make for an easier target.

"Our bazookas have established that fact," Collins said.

Mysterious $1,000

The strange story of a $1,000 bill received by a Washington police lieutenant after he tapped the telephone wires of aviation executive Howard Hughes has been reported to the Justice Department.

The wire-tapping job was entirely outside the regular work of the Washington police and was done on behalf of a Senate Investigating Committee headed by Senator Brewster of Maine. Other officials of that committee state that they never knew of the wire-tapping, and evidence points to the likelihood that it was paid for by Brewster or his friends, Pan American Airways.

Pan American at that time wanted Howard Hughes to consolidate his Trans World Airlines with Pan Am, and, during the Senate investigation, Hughes said that Senator Brewster himself had urged this consolidation. Hughes even charged that Brewster had him investigated in retaliation for his refusal to get together with Pan American.

The $1,000 bill mentioned in police reports was handed to Lieut. Joseph Shimon shortly after he finished tapping Howard Hughes' wires. Shimon was in the office of the U. S. attorney, where he had a desk at that time, when a man came in and handed him a $1,000 bill. Shimon, according to another policeman who was present, said nothing, put the bill down on his desk for a moment, then put it in his pocket.

Shimon is the same police lieutenant who tapped the wires in the divorce case involving the Argentine ambassador and also the wires of the late Sen. Josiah Bailey of North Carolina.

Republicans Wake Up

Member of the palace guard chiefly responsible for holding President Truman back on all-out war controls is affable, take-it-easy, nice-as-an-old-shoe Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder. He is also the man who is likely to let the Republicans steal the show when it comes to protecting the public on price-gouging.

Astute Sen. Joe O'Mahoney, Wyoming Democrat, put his finger on this when he called Secretary Snyder on the phone recently

"I'm having a meeting of brain-trusters from here and there to talk over an excess-profits tax," O'Mahoney told the man who is supposed to advise on and help originate tax legislation.

"I'd be glad to invite you to sit in with us, John, but I'm not," the Wyoming Senator continued. "For, somehow or other, I don't think you'd be much help on an excess-profits tax."

What O'Mahoney knew was that Secretary Snyder has been pulling against any stiff excess-profits tax, despite the fact that this proved the most efficient means of both holding down prices and financing the last war. It is also one of the main planks in the control platform of wise old Bernard Baruch whose advice has helped guide the nation through two wars.

Jumping on Baruch's platform the other day, Congressman Kunkel of Pennsylvania, who recently ran for governor on the GOP ticket but lost in the primary, proposed complete adoption of Baruch's all-out price-tax-wage-and-inflation controls. Catching the Democrats off guard, the Republicans voted solidly in the House Banking and Currency Committee for the Baruch plan and lost by only one vote.

Administration Democrats were scared stiff. It was their first realization that the country, as usual, is ahead of Washington. And this time the Republicans seem to have awakened to the fact first.

$1-A-Year Men

A hot and significant argument is going on inside the administration on the important question of $1-a-year men. President Truman doesn't want them, but some of his advisers are pressuring to bring an army of $1-a-year men back to Washington.

One-dollar men are business executives who work for the government yet continue to keep their private business positions. They accept $1 a year from the government as a token payment, but continue to draw regular salaries from their own companies.

Some of these men performed skilled and patriotic jobs for their country during World War II. But many, suffering from divided allegiance, seemed to be thinking more of their own companies than their government. And some deliberately came to Washington with the idea of feathering their own business nests.

President Truman, when head of the Truman investigating committee, saw a great deal of this nest-feathering by $1-a-year men and doesn't want it repeated. However, the Business Advisory Council, a group of businessmen advising the Commerce Department, urges otherwise, and Secretary of Commerce Sawyer has backed them up.

Truman's Price Support Program Is Now Reversed

By MARK SULLIVAN

PRESIDENT Truman, in the emergency program of economic proposals he sent to Congress, following the Korean crisis, included one that is important in itself and extraordinary as coming from Mr. Truman. His recommendation dealt with the immense quantities of food which the Department of Agriculture has bought and taken off the market in order to support the prices. Mr. Truman asked that he be given authority to put this food back on the market. By his proposal, sales of the government-owned food would be made to wholesalers and the food would thus become available for purchase by consumers at whatever would be the natural market price. This would of course check the rise in food prices, and perhaps roll prices back somewhat. For in effect it would end price support by government to the extent that the President would exercise the authority he asked for.

Such a proposal is, from Mr. Truman, a deep reversal. It implies what many observers think they notice, a profound change in Mr. Truman, brought about by realization of the seriousness of the present emergency, including awareness of the danger of inflation, of the part that price support of farm crops plays in inflation, and of the disastrous effect that serious inflation would have on the country's economic structure. This is reversal indeed. In the past, Mr. Truman's attitude toward price support of farm crops has been strong in favor of it and more of it. This he now reverses. He reverses also the political attitude which recognized the farm vote and appealed to it, and which in his 1948 Presidential campaign he got from Mid-West farm states in sufficient quantity to give him victory in the election.

But if Mr. Truman has changed, spokesmen for price support in Congress have not. When Mr. Truman's proposal was under consideration by the House Committee on Banking and Currency, it encountered strong opposition from representatives of both parties. Democratic Representative Pace of Georgia said, as reported by Mr. John W. Ball in "The Washington Post," that the proposal would entail "dreadful consequences" to farmers. Republican Representative Hope of Kansas also expressed strong opposition. For the time being at least, opposition in Congress seems to prevail; Mr. Truman's proposal has been left out of the program of economic measures Congress is considering.

As of today, price support continues as was and as is. For any change of it, greater understanding of it on the part of the public is likely to be necessary. Such understanding is apparently not general. During recent weeks there has been an outpouring of press and radio news and comment about rising prices of food, and about hoarding, much of which is done because of fear that the rise in prices may go still further. In all this there has been comparatively little mention of the part that price support of farm crops plays. A reason for the comparative silence on this point is probably lack of understanding about how price support works. Light may be got from a few concrete examples.

The Department of Agriculture buys butter, has been buying it for the past seventeen months, and now has on hand 192,000,000 pounds. (This official figure is as of July 17). That is more than a pound for every man, woman and child in the United States—if they could get it. The Department, however, will not put its butter on the market for consumers to buy. It bought the butter for the precise purpose of taking it off the market and thus keeping the price up. The Department buys eggs in dried form, has been buying during some three years, and as of July 17 had on hand 107,000,000 pounds. The Department has been buying cheese for more than a year, and as of July 17 had on hand 80,000,000 pounds.

Under the price support law as it stands, the Department cannot put its stored accumulations of food on the market and sell them in the ordinary channels through which consumers could buy them at whatever would be the market price. The law prevents the Department from selling at any price lower than the support price which it paid plus 5 per cent and handling charges. Under this limitation, the Department, in order to get rid of its accumulations, several of which deteriorate in storage, practices devices which seem grotesque.

The Department sells to commercial manufacturers for uses other that edible consumption, at prices a fraction of what it paid. It sells in foreign countries at prices similarly low. It manages to get rid of a small part of its accumulations by gifts to welfare institutions, school programs and the like. In the case of potatoes, the Department sells to farmers for strictly limited use as livestock food. Yet the Department, under the law as its stands, continues to support the price of potatoes. Agriculture Secretary Brannan estimated the other day that the loss incurred in supporting the price of this year's crop of potatoes would be some $70,000,000; the total loss during some three years of price support of potatoes has been upward of $400,000,000.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1. — The United Nations is undergoing more and more criticism here as Jacob Malik, the Soviet Union's delegate, is permitted to preside over the Security Council.

In some quarters, particularly in Congress, there is a feeling that the Soviet Union is guilty of having precipitated the North Korean aggression and that steps should be taken to investigate the part that Moscow has played in provoking the present war in the Far East. To do otherwise is to allow a party to a serious dispute to wield the gavel and preside over the Security Council—the main body of the United Nations.

The charter of the United Nations specifically provides that no party to a dispute shall sit on the Security Council. It is, therefore, not lawful for the Soviet delegate to preside, for example, either in connection with any matters relating to Communist China, whose government is involved in the sending of troops to North Korea, or in considering the origin of the Korean war itself. The presence of Yak fighter planes and Russian officers in the North Korean military operation is well known. The Soviet did not permit the UN to make any inspection after the Soviet forces were presumably withdrawn last year from North Korea—and has not permitted it since.

Prima Facie Guilt

The fact that a commission of the UN has been forbidden entry to inspect a country now involved in an act of aggression constitutes a prima facie case of guilt which warrants a trial. While such a trial is going on, the Soviet Union must stand aside as a comprehensive investigation is undertaken. Article Five of the charter says:

"A member of the United Nations against which preventive or enforcement action has been taken by the Security Council may be suspended from the exercise of the rights and privileges of membership by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council. The exercise of these rights and privileges of membership by the General Assembly upon the recommendation of the Security Council. The exercise of these rights and privileges may be restored by the Security Council."

When the UN Security Council, by its resolution of June 26th, called on all member nations to refrain from assisting the North Koreans, it is apparent that the Soviet Union disregarded that admonition. The Soviet Union has been guilty of disregard of several provisions of the UN charter, particularly by abstention from participation for several months in the work of the UN and its important commissions. Article Six of the charter calls for expulsion in the following terms:

"A member of the United Nations which has persistently violated the principles contained in the present charter may be expelled from the organization by the General Assembly upon recommendation of the Security Council."

Violations Ignored

To allow the Soviet envoy to participate in any way in the proceedings of the Security Council is to ignore the many violations of the charter by Russia that have occurrred. The remedy lies in suspendinng the Soviet membership until the North Korean controversy has been thoroughly studied and until the Soviets cease their support of the North Korean government and also withdraw their public charge that members of the UN attacked North Korea. Unless the record is clarified so that the UN knows which countries are its friends and which countries are its opponents, there can be little confidence in the resolutions taken by the UN with the Soviet delegate present.

The United States has just renewed its request that the UN ask all member nations to refrain from aiding North Korea. This is a pointed reminder that, while not saying so in so many words, America considers the Soviet Union guilty of aggression along with the North Koreans.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Stockholm Pledge

PRIOR to starting on the Korean adventure, Soviet Russia, through its international communist parties, organized a world-wide peace offensive, designed to create a universal public opinion against the use of the atom bomb and to designate the United States as a warmonger.

This petition, addressed to no one in particular, is called the Stockholm Pledge or the Stockholm Petition and is widely circulated in the United States, where many have already signed it.

"We demand the unconditional prohibition of the atomic weapon as an instrument of aggression and mass extermination of people, and the establishment of strict international control over the fulfillment of this decision.

"We will regard as a war criminal that government which first uses the atomic weapon against any country.

"We call upon all people of good will all over the world to sign this call.

"We address ourselves to all social religious groups and workers in culture, all honest people who, irrespective of their views concerning the reasons for the strained international situation, are alarmed because of this and seriously desire to see peaceful relations restored between peoples.

"As a basis for agreement we suggest the prohibition of the atomic weapon and the condemnation of the government which first uses the atomic weapon."

This campagn is not for peace, but against the use of the atom bomb. It does not require peoples to enter into a comity of friendship; it only denies the United States its right to an advantage.

Obviously, this campaign was not suddenly entered upon universally for no reason whatsoever. It was advance notice that something very important was going to happen and that Soviet Russia was not ready to use the atom bomb. Therefore, nobody was to be permitted to use it.

If Russia were able to use the atom bomb, it would be used. No moral scrupples enter into Marxian considerations; only the law; of necessity govern the Marxist—the law of survival and the determination of fitness only by survival. This attack on the use of the atom bomb, coming on the eve of the Korean war, would rather indicate that the Russians cannot place much faith in its efficacy so far as they are concerned.

As a matter of fact, if war is justified at all, the atom bomb is no more evil or immoral than the bazooka, the submarine or the bow and arrow. On what basis can one decide that a weapon designed to kill is right or wrong. The only defense of war that is even thinkable is self-defense, and if one is driven to the extremity of having to defend himself by physical means, does it really matter what weapon is used—a block-buster or an atom bomb?

This petition simply discloses the fact that Soviet Russia, having decided to pursue a course of aggressive and destructive warfare against the United States, seeks to deprive this country of a weapon of defense. And so-called Americans signed such a petition, some maliciously, some unwittingly, all to the harm of their country, for we must defend our dignity and honor as well as our land and civilization.

One of the simple facts of life that our President, the Secretary of State, and the Central Intelligence Agency will have to learn is that every Russian war move is accompanied by a vast, highly-organized, universal propaganda campaign, designed to destroy a potential defendant.

Thus, Franco was smeared so heavily that even today, when the total wickedness of Stalin is exposed, men fear to say what is true about Spain or to speak of Franco in terms fitting his position. Thus, Chiang Kai-Shek was smeared as corrupt and that was accepted without investigation and it has stuck to his personality. Thus, the Chinese communists, organized in 1920 and active since then in the Third International, were painted as "agrarian reformers," and the term was used even by intelligent persons who should have known better. Thus, Harry Truman is painted as a tool of Wall Street, Although he has gone further to the left than any president we have ever had.

The advance campaign foretells the course of Soviet hatred and charts their channel of loot and murder.

County Board Accepts Low Road Work Bid

Low bids for the construction of two federal secondary roads were accepted yesterday by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Both low bids submitted by the George F. Hazelwood Company, of this city, totaled $137,671.90, according to a letter received from Morris M. Brodsky, assistant comptroller of the State Roads Commissioner.

The work specifically is for the Lower Town Creek Road, $53,134.25, and Mill Run Road, $84,537.65.

The board was unanimous in its vote on the lower Town Creek Road project, but Board President C. N. Wilkinson opposed the Mill Run Road job.

The State Roads Commission pointed out that both bids were in excess of the state's estimate. Brodsky explained that the cost of the surfacing materials, shale on Lower Town Creek Road, and sandstone, for the other road, hiked the estimates.

The commission stated that it felt that even though the bids on each project were in excess of the estimate, extenuating circumstances such as the obtaining of surface material, the county commissioners should award the bids to the Hazelwood firm.

Hazelwood's bid for the Lower Town Creek Road was $40,872.50, with the state figure set at $35,596.39. An additional $6,130.88 will provide for preliminary engineering and inspections during the construction.

The local company bid $73,511 on the Mill Run Road as compared to the state estimate of $66,271.15. Cost of engineering and inspection will run $11,026.65.

The high bid for Town Creek Road was $54,402.40, and high for Mill Run Road was $74,370.80, both exclusive of the engineering and inspection costs.

The State Roads Commission informed the board that there is sufficient money in the county construction account for this work.

Manhattan Jam Session

THIS story begins, as so many show business stories do, with Jules Glaenzer, the New York jeweler merchant, who has a big crush on theatre people and who, for the past quarter of a century, has been the most lavish party-pitcher on that pie-eyed pike called Broadway. There's a pair of grand pianos in his one-flight-up apartment on Lexington Avenue, and many's the wee morning that their ivories have felt the nervous fingers of the Gershwins and Cole Porters as they sat up at Glaenzer's opening-night shindigs, waiting for the reviews of their new musicals.

Billy Rose

A couple of years ago, Richard Rodgers, the composer who plays Sullivan to Oscar Hammerstein's Gilbert, got a phone call from Jules.

"Judy Garland is in town for the opening of her new picture," said the diamond nabob, "and she's dining with me tonight. She's a big fan of yours and I know she'd be delighted if you could join us."

Well, it took no great urging to get Dick over to Lexington Avenue, and after dinner he and Judy adjourned to one of the pianos. Garland, larynx and memory a-twitch, began to sing some of his old songs, and it turned out she knew not only the Hit Paraders he had written with Hammerstein but virtually every one of the tricky ditties he had collaborated on with the talented Larry Hart—"Manhattan," "Blue Room," "You Took Advantage of Me," etc.

Shortly after this nostalgic jam session started, the doorbell rang, and when Glaenzer went downstairs he found two couples on his stoop—pleasant-mannered kids who looked as if they had just sneaked off the Ohio State campus.

"We heard the piano going and somebody singing," said one of the youngsters with an embarrassed grin. "I know this is awfully fresh, but if you're having a party—well, could we invite ourselves in?"

"It really isn't a party," said Glaenzer, always the perfect host, "but you're welcome to come in and listen."

The kids followed him up the stairs and seated themselves quietly while Dick and Judy, hardly noticing, went right on with their game of "Do you remember this one?" And it wasn't until a few minutes later, as Judy went into "My Heart Stood Still," that one of the girls recognized her and went splotchy around the gills.

"Gee!" she whispered. "That's—why, that's Judy Garland!"

Then, figuring the teen-agers needed it, he went out and mixed them a pitcher of Martinis.

For the next hour the kids sat and listened, stiff and waxy-eyed as the exhibits at Madame Tussaud's. And twenty tunes later, when they finally stood up to go, they were still as pale as a ghost who has just seen a ghost.

"Anything else you'd like to hear?" asked Rodgers.

"Name it and I'll sing it," said Judy.

"Thanks, but we've butted in long enough," said one of the girls.

"I guess," said Glaenzer as he showed the quartet to the door, "you'll have something to tell your friends about."

"We'll tell 'em, all right," said one of the boys, "but who the heck is going to believe us?"

Permit For House Denied Applicant

An application to erect a two-story building to be used as an apartment and garage on Holland Street, was refused Monday by the City Engineer.

Richard M. Kester, the applicant, indicated he would appeal the decision to the Zoning Board of Appeals. The City Engineer said the proposed building was too large for the lot on which it was to be erected.

A permit was granted Ory J. Curry to erect a one-and-one-half story brick and frame dwelling at 30 Louisiana Avenue. It will cost $5,000, Curry said.

Gas Company Opens Safety Campaign

The ninth annual safety campaign of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company opened yesterday with the slogan, "Say a Word for Safety."

In his keynote message to employees just prior to the start of the campaign Charles E. Bennett, company president, said: "Records show that for the first five months of 1950 the frequency of accidents in our company has decreased nearly 37 per cent in comparison with the same period of 1949."

To keep employes campaign-conscious, safety reminders will be imprinted on phone stickers, blotters and rulers. There will be payroll enclosures, bulletin board posters and letterheads.

County Board Accepts Low Road Work Bid

Low bids for the construction of two federal secondary roads were accepted yesterday by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Both low bids submitted by the George F. Hazelwood Company, of this city, totaled $137,671.90, according to a letter received from Morris M. Brodsky, assistant comptroller of the State Roads Commissioner.

The work specifically is for the Lower Town Creek Road, $53,134.25, and Mill Run Road, $84,537.65.

The board was unanimous in its vote on the lower Town Creek Road project, but Board President C. N. Wilkinson opposed the Mill Run Road job.

The State Roads Commission pointed out that both bids were in excess of the state's estimate. Brodsky explained that the cost of the surfacing materials, shale on Lower Town Creek Road, and sandstone, for the other road, hiked the estimates.

The commission stated that it felt that even though the bids on each project were in excess of the estimate, extenuating circumstances such as the obtaining of surface material, the county commissioners should award the bids to the Hazelwood firm.

Hazelwood's bid for the Lower Town Creek Road was $40,872.50, with the state figure set at $35,596.39. An additional $6,130.88 will provide for preliminary engineering and inspections during the construction.

The local company bid $73,511 on the Mill Run Road as compared to the state estimate of $66,271.15. Cost of engineering and inspection will run $11,026.65.

The high bid for Town Creek Road was $54,402.40, and high for Mill Run Road was $74,370.80, both exclusive of the engineering and inspection costs.

The State Roads Commission informed the board that there is sufficient money in the county construction account for this work.

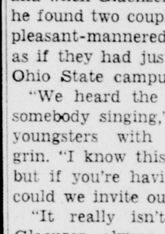
Manhattan Jam Session

THIS story begins, as so many show business stories do, with Jules Glaenzer, the New York jeweler merchant, who has a big crush on theatre people and who, for the past quarter of a century, has been the most lavish party-pitcher on that pie-eyed pike called Broadway. There's a pair of grand pianos in his one-flight-up apartment on Lexington Avenue, and many's the wee morning that their ivories have felt the nervous fingers of the Gershwins and Cole Porters as they sat up at Glaenzer's opening-night shindigs, waiting for the reviews of their new musicals.



Billy Rose

A couple of years ago, Richard Rodgers, the composer who plays Sullivan to Oscar Hammerstein's Gilbert, got a phone call from Jules.

"Judy Garland is in town for the opening of her new picture," said the diamond nabob, "and she's dining with me tonight. She's a big fan of yours and I know she'd be delighted if you could join us."

Well, it took no great urging to get Dick over to Lexington Avenue, and after dinner he and Judy adjourned to one of the pianos. Garland, larynx and memory a-twitch, began to sing some of his old songs, and it turned out she knew not only the Hit Paraders he had written with Hammerstein but virtually every one of the tricky ditties he had collaborated on with the talented Larry Hart—"Manhattan," "Blue Room," "You Took Advantage of Me," etc.

Shortly after this nostalgic jam session started, the doorbell rang, and when Glaenzer went downstairs he found two couples on his stoop—pleasant-mannered kids who looked as if they had just sneaked off the Ohio State campus.

"We heard the piano going and somebody singing," said one of the youngsters with an embarrassed grin. "I know this is awfully fresh, but if you're having a party—well, could we invite ourselves in?"

"It really isn't a party," said Glaenzer, always the perfect host, "but you're welcome to come in and listen."

The kids followed him up the stairs and seated themselves quietly while Dick and Judy, hardly noticing, went right on with their game of "Do you remember this one?" And it wasn't until a few minutes later, as Judy went into "My Heart Stood Still," that one of the girls recognized her and went splotchy around the gills.

"Gee!" she whispered. "That's—why, that's Judy Garland!"

Then, figuring the teen-agers needed it, he went out and mixed them a pitcher of Martinis.

For the next hour the kids sat and listened, stiff and waxy-eyed as the exhibits at Madame Tussaud's. And twenty tunes later, when they finally stood up to go, they were still as pale as a ghost who has just seen a ghost.

"Anything else you'd like to hear?" asked Rodgers.

"Name it and I'll sing it," said Judy.

"I guess," said Glaenzer as he showed the quartet to the door, "you'll have something to tell your friends about."

"We'll tell 'em, all right," said one of the boys, "but who the heck is going to believe us?"

Permit For House Denied Applicant

An application to erect a two-story building to be used as an apartment and garage on Holland Street, was refused Monday by the City Engineer.

Richard M. Kester, the applicant, indicated he would appeal the decision to the Zoning Board of Appeals. The City Engineer said the proposed building was too large for the lot on which it was to be erected.

A permit was granted Ory J. Curry to erect a one-and-one-half story brick and frame dwelling at 30 Louisiana Avenue. It will cost $5,000, Curry said.

Gas Company Opens Safety Campaign

The ninth annual safety campaign of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company opened yesterday with the slogan, "Say a Word for Safety."

In his keynote message to employees just prior to the start of the campaign Charles E. Bennett, company president, said: "Records show that for the first five months of 1950 the frequency of accidents in our company has decreased nearly 37 per cent in comparison with the same period of 1949."

To keep employes campaign-conscious, safety reminders will be imprinted on phone stickers, blotters and rulers. There will be payroll enclosures, bulletin board posters and letterheads.

Labor Day Picnic Set At Crystal Park

The second annual Labor Day picnic will be held again at Crystal Park(members of the combined labor unions committee decided at a meeting in Teamsters Hall.

Lester McGill, chairman of the grounds committee, reported that Crystal Park is available and that free rides on a merry-go-round and other attractions can be arranged for the children.

McGill's committee also will have charge of concessions at the park and the committee decided to serve free refreshments to all youngsters.

The picnic, a family, basket affair, will follow a street parade, scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m.

According to Leo McGann, parade chairman the parade wil form at Laing and Virginia Aveunes and will move to Maryland Avenue, to Williams Street, to Park Street, to Baltimore Street and disband on South Mechanic Street.

C. E. Hardy reported that arrangements have been made to erect a reviewing stand for judges and notables on Baltimore and Ohio property at Park Street near Harrison.

Invitations are going in the mail now to scores of units in the area asking them to participate in the parade, and at least 10 divisions are being planned for, McGann said.

The committee will meet next Monday at 7:30 p.m. and each Monday after that in Teamsters Hall until all details are completed. All committee members and committee chairmen are urged to attend the meetings.

Girls Have Their Turn At Kiwanis Sunshine Camp

Twenty-three girls began a two-week camping period at the Kiwanis Sunshine Camp Monday, according to Miss Jeannette Bonig, executive chairman of Associated Charities.

They will follow a program similar to that of the 25 boys who attended the camp during the previous two weeks.

However, according to Mrs. Paul Hilaire, one of the camp heads, they will follow handicraft projects more adapted to feminine interests. They will learn to make book marks, vases and sewing cards.

Every Tuesday, the campers will attend a story hour conducted by Miss Mary Walsh, librarian at the Cumberland Free Public Library. On other evenings, movies will be shown.

Miss Jean Reinhard, executive secretary of the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association, will conduct a daily health program.

On August 10, the girls will give a program for the Kiwanis Club which will hold its weekly luncheon meeting at the camp.

White Needs Special Job Of Makeup

By BETTY CLARK
AP Newsfeatures Editor

White is particularly flattering to the girl with honey-toned skin. It makes you feel cooler. But white makes many rigid demands on the wearer. It is wise to size up yourself before investing in a white dress.

If you have sallow skin, double or are overweight, white is not for you, says Perc Westmore, Hollywood makeup artist.

Mr. Westmore says:

If your skin is perfect, flawless and translucent, white presents no problems. If your skin is sallow, white points up the yellow undertone. The solution lies in using makeup with a rosy glow, if you must wear white.

"The girl with a ruddy skin which is heightened even more by white can disguise her ruddiness with a peach makeup. Peach also is the answer for the freckle-faced girl who will find that white will play up her freckles."

If you have a double chin or neck wrinkles, don't wear white at the immediate neckline advises Westmore. He suggests something that has a navy blue or dark inset or collar. Any white material reflects light, and this intensifies the fatty appearance. White necklines for this reason are ideal for the woman with a scrawny neck.

For some reason white always appeals more to stout women who cannot wear it as well as their slimmer sisters. It is not necessary for the fat woman to limit herself to black and other dark shades. If she picks the proper styles and fabrics with an attractive design, she can find any number of flattering gowns. A black design on a white background or a white design on a black background is smart, pretty and cool for summer.

Club Has Outing

The Mapleside Homemakers Club discussed its theme booth for the fair and the cook book sponsored by the county clubs at its meeting and outing held recently at Constitution Park. Mrs. Gormer Kelly presided and Mrs. James Smith talked about the cook book.

A wiener roast, hamburg fry and covered dish supper followed the meeting. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Arrison, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hutson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Van-Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Van-Horn, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kuhlman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hansrote, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilson, Mrs. H. C. Morin, Mrs. W. F. Parker, Mrs. William Stallings, Mrs. Howard Twigg, Mrs. Raymond Hewitt, Mrs. Boyd Grove, Mrs. J. L. Lear, Mrs. C. N. Mansburry, Mrs. B. W. Hosier, Mrs. H. M. WIFE PRESERVERS

If you like onions, a tasty gravy for steaks is made by boiling two onions, pressing them through a sieve, and using them for thickening the meat gravy.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

EVERY WOMAN who has ever watched a Powers model float down a promenade knows a beautiful walk is worth acquiring. Fluid grace in motion puts a patina on your poise that enhances your intrinsic beauty immeasurably and gives a flair to your clothes as nothing else can.

To become a paragon of motion, there are several fundamentals that you must master.

How It's Done

The first requisite of a beautiful walk is perfection of your carriage. You must stand tall with your back flat and your chin parallel to the floor. Next, all the movement must originate in an easy swing of the leg from the thigh joint. Then follow through with the entire leg, keeping the knee relaxed, until the heel touches the floor. Now, smoothly and quickly roll your weight through the dead center of your foot. Take all your steps on two close, parallel lines with your toes pointed straight ahead.

The degree of success you attain will be determined by the weakest link in the above sequence. Concentrate on each phase of the walk until you have perfected it completely.

For a while you may feel awkward and unsure,. That is only natural, since you are replacing a lifetime habit with a new pattern. But practice and a good dose of "conscious mimicry" will make the new way your own in the shortest time.

Conscious Mimicry

Mimicry is as important in learning the art of walking beautifully as it is in perfecting a tennis or golf stroke. All serious beginners try to match the style and technique of the best amateur or pro they can find when they learn either game. The same procedure will help you improve the beauty of your walk.

Choose the person whose walk you most admire and imitate her technique. Once you have acquired it, start putting the stamp of your own individual grace and poise on your movements.

Then you'll be beautiful to watch —and how you will be watched!

Mouse-Largent

Miss Delma Ann Largent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dellmar O. Largent, Largent, W. Va., was married to Paul J. Mouse, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Moose, 420 Valley Street, July 22 in the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic Church by Rev. John U. Lyness. Miss Anna Saylor and Francis C. Mouse, twin brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

Deneen-Albright

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Albright, Ellerslie, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Alzene Albright, to Bruce T. Deneen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Deneen, Hyndman, Pa. The ceremony was performed July 14 in the Redeemer's Reformed Church, Ellerslie, by Rev. Frederick D. Oberkercher. Miss Marian Albright and Ervin Smith, Buffalo Mills, were the attendants.

The bride wore white pique with white accessories and carried a New Testament with orchid marker. Her attendant wore a pink net with white accessories and carried a nosegay of assorted flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Allegany High School, Catherman's Business School and is employed in the office of Schwarzenbach and Son. The bridegroom is a graduate of Hyndman High School, is a Navy veteran and is now serving with the Marine Corps.

Corn Roast Planned

The August meeting of the Junior Extension 4-H Club will be a social affair with the business part kept to a minimum. It will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of Roy Shryock, Jr., Route 51, southeast of Oldtown.

Swimming and a corn roast will feature the evening.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON.

My guest columnist for today is Mrs. Alben W. Barkley, wife of the Vice President of the United States.

Mrs. Barkley told me the questions she is most often asked about her life since her marriage on November 18, 1949, are, "How Do You Like Washington?" and, "What Impresses You Most About Washington?"

Her answer to the first question is that she thinks Washington is wonderful, and in today's column she answered the second question.

By MRS. ALBEN BARKLEY

SINCE MY arrival in my new home on January 2 of this year, I have had many interesting, joyful, and thrilling experiences. Looking back over the past six months, it seems to me that of all the things I have seen and done, I have been most impressed by the MANY HAPPY MARRIAGES one sees here in Washington.

• — • — •

The President and Mrs. Truman, of course, are such a devoted husband and wife that they enjoy the respect of the entire country. Their home life is exemplary, and they have furnished Washington with an admiration for the old-fashioned family life which has undoubtedly had great influence on the people of this city. They are surrounded at the White House by families of equal devotion; one of the President's closest advisors is often criticized in the press, but no one ever writes about his beautiful home life—the Sunday school which he and his wife have conducted every Sunday morning for years, the many charitable organizations in whose work they diligently assist, and their lovely children who are growing up to be happy, well adjusted, busy citizens because of the excellent example their parents have shown them. In the judicial branch of the government, the nine Justices of the Supreme Court all set a pattern of conduct and married contentment.

MRS. BARKLEY

Congress has, with practically no exceptions, all happy couples, and the same is true, to a man, of the Cabinet. The Embassies, and the entire military personnel here, also bear out this statement.

• — • — •

My closest contact has been with the wives of the our Senators, and I never cease to marvel at their unselfishness with which these women have devoted themselves to their husbands' careers! . . .

Each of these women has for her partner respect and admiration, and it's returned to them in full-measure by the Senators.

• — • — •

No one who has not been a participant in the rather hectic life of Washington can possibly appreciate the tremendous demands which are made upon one's time and patience and ENDURANCE.

I never grow tired of hearing these Senate wives recount stories of their experiences in assisting with their husbands' campaigns, or constituents, or of the great amount of entertaining which they must do. All of them take a quiet, self-effacing pride in feeling that they have contributed to their husbands' success, and the really hard work which is turned out by these women is a testimonial to their happy marriages.

No discontented man or woman is likely to raise a little finger to add to the pleasure, or help with the ambitions, of their husband or wife and the fact that such assistance is willingly and cheerfully given to one another by most Washington families, is evidence that this city is indeed populated to a high degree by unusually devoted couples.

Of course, divorce is not unknown in Washington, but the marriage rate is considerably above the national average, and the divorce rate is considerably below the national average, so dry figures would seem to prove that my "impression" is actually a fact. I have noticed, too, that in several instances where a divorce has been obtained by husbands and wives who lived elsewhere, either or both have later on settled in Washington, and upon trying a second marriage to someone else, have found the greatest happiness and contentment. This would appear to suggest that all this wedded bliss in the District must be contagious!

The result is a society of delightful and stimulating people, who individually, enjoy and love their respective spouses so much, that they in turn are a joy and pleasure to be with. It is not only the friends I have met who make me love Washington so greatly, but it is the kind of friends they are—hard-working, contented, useful men and women, whose marriages are happy and successful, and an inspiration to behold. In these troubled and fearful times, it is very reassuring to witness so many men and women in high office who have established fine homes and families founded on the principles of mutual love and service to their country.

Engagements

The betrothal of Miss Joan Faith Rilling to Ralph Melburn Jones, Corpus Christi, Texas, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rilling, Bedford Road, parents of the bride-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wagner, Potomac Park, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anita Wagner, to Charles Cage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cage, 117 Fifth Street.

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Loretta Jean Ennis, to Rev. Donald Goff, pastor of Tornado Robison Church, Tornado, W. Va., has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Ennis, St. Albans, W. Va., parents of the bride-elect.

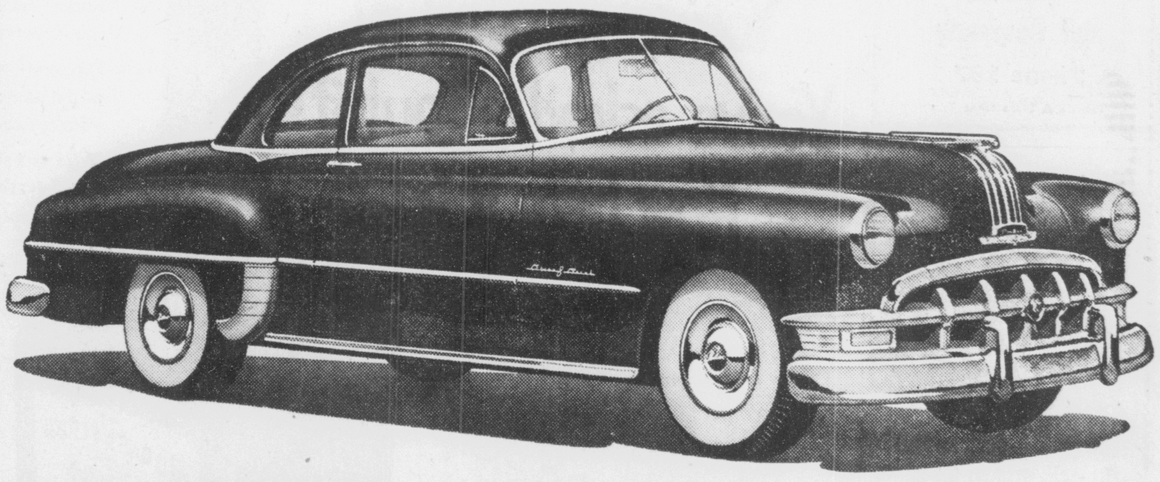
A Great Beauty — A Great Car!



All great beauties have one thing in common—the ability to stand strikingly apart from the crowd, to be instantly recognizable as something very special.

Certainly Pontiac has that distinction to a rare degree. Wherever you go, you see the new Pontiac, you are sharply aware that this one car asserts itself in any company. And yet, beautiful as Pontiac is, it has inner qualities which are even more desirable. Pontiac is built, from the bottom up, to be thoroughly good, to be an outstanding performer, a dependable, economical, completely satisfying car.

Yes, almost everybody knows that Pontiac is a great beauty. But only Pontiac owners really know that it's a great car in every way. You should be a Pontiac owner—dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

White Needs Special Job Of Makeup

By BETTY CLARK
AP Newsfeatures Editor

White is particularly flattering to the girl with honey-toned skin. It makes you feel cooler. But white makes many rigid demands on the wearer. It is wise to size up yourself before investing in a white dress.

If you have sallow skin, double or are overweight, white is not for you, says Perc Westmore, Hollywood makeup artist.

Mr. Westmore says:

If your skin is perfect, flawless and translucent, white presents no problems. If your skin is sallow, white points up the yellow undertone. The solution lies in using makeup with a rosy glow, if you must wear white.

"The girl with a ruddy skin which is heightened even more by white can disguise her ruddiness with a peach makeup. Peach also is the answer for the freckle-faced girl who will find that white will play up her freckles."

If you have a double chin or neck wrinkles, don't wear white at the immediate neckline adviser Westmore. He suggests something that has a navy blue or dark inset or collar. Any white material reflects light, and this intensifies the fatty appearance. White necklines for this reason are ideal for the woman with a scrawny neck.

For some reason white always appeals more to stout women who cannot wear it as well as their slimmer sisters. It is not necessary for the fat woman to limit herself to black and other dark shades. If she picks the proper styles and fabrics with an attractive design, she can find any number of flattering gowns. A black design on a white background or a white design on a black background is smart, pretty and cool for summer.

Club Has Outing

The Mapleside Homemakers Club discussed its theme booth for the fair and the cook book sponsored by the county clubs at its meeting and outing held recently at Constitution Park. Mrs. Gormer Kelly presided and Mrs. James Smith talked about the cook book.

A wiener roast, hamburg fry and covered dish supper followed the meeting. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Arrison, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hutson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray VanHorn, Mr. and Mrs. Richard VanHorn, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kuhlman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hansrote, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilson, Mrs. H. C. Morin, Mrs. W. F. If you like onions, a tasty gravy for steaks is made by boiling two onions, pressing them through a sieve, and using them for thickening the meat gravy.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

EVERY WOMAN who has ever watched a Powers model float down a promenade knows a beautiful walk is worth acquiring. Fluid grace in motion puts a patina on your poise that enhances your intrinsic beauty immeasurably and gives a flair to your clothes as nothing else can.

To become a paragon of motion, there are several fundamentals that you must master.

How It's Done

The first requisite of a beautiful walk is perfection of your carriage. You must stand tall with your back flat and your chin parallel to the floor. Next, all the movement must originate in an easy swing of the leg from the thigh joint. Then follow through with the entire leg, keeping the knee relaxed, until the heel touches the floor. Now, smoothly and quickly roll your weight through the dead center of your foot. Take all your steps on two close, parallel lines with your toes pointed straight ahead.

The degree of success you attain will be determined by the weakest link in the above sequence. Concentrate on each phase of the walk until you have perfected it completely.

For a while you may feel awkward and unsure,. That is only natural, since you are replacing a lifetime habit with a new pattern. But practice and a good dose of "conscious mimicry" will make the new way your own in the shortest time.

Conscious Mimicry

Mimicry is as important in learning the art of walking beautifully as it is in perfecting a tennis or golf stroke. All serious beginners try to match the style and technique of the best amateur or pro they can find when they learn either game. The same procedure will help you improve the beauty of your walk.

Choose the person whose walk you most admire and imitate her technique. Once you have acquired it, start putting the stamp of your own individual grace and poise on your movements.

Then you'll be beautiful to watch—and how you will be watched!

Mouse-Largent

Miss Delma Ann Largent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dellmar O. Largent, Largent, W. Va., was married to Paul J. Mouse, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Moose, 420 Valley Street, July 22 in the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic Church by Rev. John U. Lyness. Miss Anna Saylor and Francis C. Mouse, twin brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants.

Deneen-Albright

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Albright, Ellerslie, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Alzene Albright, to Bruce T. Deneen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Deneen, Hyndman, Pa. The ceremony was performed July 14 in the Redeemer's Reformed Church, Ellerslie, by Rev. Frederick D. Oberkercher. Miss Marian Albright and Ervin Smith, Buffalo Mills, were the attendants.

The bride wore white pique with white accessories and carried a New Testament with orchid marker. Her attendant wore a pink net with white accessories and carried a nosegay of assorted flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Allegany High School, Catherman's Business School and is employed in the office of Schwarzenbach and Son. The bridegroom is a graduate of Hyndman High School, is a Navy veteran and is now serving with the Marine Corps.

Corn Roast Planned

The August meeting of the Junior Extension 4-H Club will be a social affair with the business part kept to a minimum. It will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of Roy Shryock, Jr., Route 51, southeast of Oldtown.

Swimming and a corn roast will feature the evening.

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON.

My guest columnist for today is Mrs. Alben W. Barkley, wife of the Vice President of the United States.

Mrs. Barkley told me the questions she is most often asked about her life since her marriage on November 18, 1949, are, "How Do You Like Washington?" and, "What Impresses You Most About Washington?"

Her answer to the first question is that she thinks Washington is wonderful, and in today's column she answered the second question.

By MRS. ALBEN BARKLEY

SINCE MY arrival in my new home on January 2 of this year, I have had many interesting, joyful, and thrilling experiences. Looking back over the past six months, it seems to me that of all the things I have seen and done, I have been most impressed by the MANY HAPPY MARRIAGES one sees here in Washington.

•—•—•

The President and Mrs. Truman, of course, are such a devoted husband and wife that they enjoy the respect of the entire country. Their home life is exemplary, and they have furnished Washington with an admiration for the old-fashioned family life which has undoubtedly had great influence on the people of this city. They are surrounded at the White House by families of equal devotion; one of the President's closest advisors is often criticized in the press, but no one ever writes about his beautiful home life—the Sunday school which he and his wife have conducted every Sunday morning for years, the many charitable organizations in whose work they diligently assist, and their lovely children who are growing up to be happy, well adjusted, busy citizens because of the excellent example their parents have shown them. In the judicial branch of the government, the nine Justices of the Supreme Court all set a pattern of conduct and married contentment.

MRS. BARKLEY

Congress has, with practically no exceptions, all happy couples, and the same is true, to a man, of the Cabinet. The Embassies, and the entire military personnel here, also bear out this statement.

•—•—•

My closest contact has been with the wives of the our Senators, and I never cease to marvel at their unselfishness with which these women have devoted themselves to their husbands' careers! . . .

Each of these women has for her partner respect and admiration, and it's returned to them in full measure by the Senators.

No one who has not been a participant in the rather hectic life of Washington can possibly appreciate the tremendous demands which are made upon one's time and patience and ENDURANCE.

I never grow tired of hearing these Senate wives recount stories of their experiences in assisting with their husbands' campaigns, or constituents, or of the great amount of entertaining which they must do. All of them take a quiet, self-effacing pride in feeling that they have contributed to their husbands' success, and the really hard work which is turned out by these women is a testimonial to their happy marriages.

No discontented man or woman is likely to raise a little finger to add to the pleasure, or help with the ambitions, of their husband or wife and the fact that such assistance is willingly and cheerfully given to one another by most Washington families, is evidence that this city is indeed populated to a high degree by unusually devoted couples.

Of course, divorce is not unknown in Washington, but the marriage rate is considerably above the national average, and the divorce rate is considerably below the national average, so dry figures would seem to prove that my "impression" is actually a fact. I have noticed, too, that in several instances where a divorce has been obtained by husbands and wives who lived elsewhere, either or both have later on settled in Washington, and upon trying a second marriage to someone else, have found the greatest happiness and contentment. This would appear to suggest that all this wedded bliss in the District must be contagious!

The result is a society of delightful and stimulating people, who individually, enjoy and love their respective spouses so much, that they in turn are a joy and pleasure to be with. It is not only the friends I have met who make me love Washington so greatly, but it is the kind of friends they are—hard-working, contented, useful men and women, whose marriages are happy and successful, and an inspiration to behold. In these troubled and fearful times, it is very reassuring to witness so many men and women in high office who have established fine homes and families founded on the principles of mutual love and service to their country.

Engagements

The betrothal of Miss Joan Faith Rilling to Ralph Melburn Jones, Corpus Christi, Texas, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rilling, Bedford Road, parents of the bride-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wagner, Potomac Park, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anita Wagner, to Charles Cage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cage, 117 Fifth Street.

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Loretta Jean Ennis, to Rev. Donald Goff, pastor of Tornado Robison Church, Tornado, W. Va., has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Ennis, St. Albans, W. Va., parents of the bride-elect.

All great beauties have one thing in common—the ability to stand strikingly apart from the crowd, to be instantly recognizable as something very special.

Certainly Pontiac has that distinction to a rare degree. Wherever you go, you see the new Pontiac, you are sharply aware that this one car asserts itself in any company. And yet, beautiful as Pontiac is, it has inner qualities which are even more desirable. Pontiac is built, from the bottom up, to be thoroughly good, to be an outstanding performer, a dependable, economical, completely satisfying car.

Yes, almost everybody knows that Pontiac is a great beauty. But only Pontiac owners really know that it's a great car in every way. You should be a Pontiac owner—dollar for dollar, you can't beat a Pontiac!

Mahoney Attacks Taxes, Pledges Reductions

Recalls See Weeping On Floor Of House

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1 (AP)—George P. Mahoney tonight termed Governor Lane an "expensive luxury" and said the number one plank in the Mahoney platform is tax reduction.

Mahoney opposing Lane for the Democratic nomination for governor, made a major radio-television speech in which he once again attacked the state two per cent sales tax enacted during Lane's administration.

Referring to the governor, Mahoney said:

"Thirty days after he was inaugurated this is what he did:

"He doubled our income tax. He increased the tax on gasoline 25 per cent. He put a two per cent titling tax on used cars every time a used car is bought and sold. Now up to this point, Mr. Lane has increased your taxes approximately $90,000,000.

"Wouldn't you have thought that an increase of $90,000,000 over the previous administration would have been enough?

"Oh, no. Not for Mr. Lane. He thought up a new tax — yes — the sales tax.

"It was a tax the people of Maryland did not expect.

"It was a tax the legislature did not want. It was a tax that they (the legislature) defeated."

Mahoney contended that during the 1947 session, the sales tax was "defeated on a Saturday" but the Governor made political deals "on Sunday and the sales tax was steamrollered through on Monday."

The candidate also referred to the fact that Delegate Charles M. See (R-Allegany), "a blind member of the legislature, stood on the House floor with tears running down his cheeks and said he had been threatened that if he didn't change his vote to help pass the sales tax, the Maryland Workshop for the Blind would be denied state funds."

Mahoney told his audience that Maryland "has the dubious honor of leading all the states in the nation with an increase of taxation of 80.3 per cent." he added:

"I contend that Mr. Lane is the most expensive luxury that the people of Maryland have ever had to maintain and support."

Mahoney said he was going on record that the first plank in his platform would be tax reduction, adding that "the complete platform that I will present to the voters of Maryland will be a good one. It will be one that you like and one that I will be able to fufill."

The speech also contended that events have demonstrated that "Governor Lane has surrendered to the Baltimore political machine and if not stopped now, another four years of Mr. Lane, and the city machine will dominate both the city and the counties."

Mahoney argued that "this is a dangerous, dictatorial form of government. x x x I am one man against a political machine. I want to give you a business administration."

The speaker contended that Lane is "deceiving voters" because the sales tax is not really paying for roads and schools, but that the money is coming from other sources.

Deaths

RICHARD H. MILLER

Born in Graysville, Pa., Mr. Miller had resided here 60 years. His parents were the late Rev. James and Elizabeth Ross Miller. He was a member of First Baptist Church.

In addition to his widow, he leaves a son, Eugene R. Miller, Salisbury, Md.; one daughter, Mrs. George W. McLuckie, this city; a half-brother, Harry R. Miller, also of Cumberland; one half-sister, Mrs. Gertrude Cubbage, Columbus, Ohio, and three grandchildren.

A funeral service will be conducted tomorrow at 4 p. m. at the Hafer Funeral Home by Rev. O. Afton Linger, pastor of First Baptist Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

MRS. PATRICK J. McGOYE

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—Mrs. Leota McGoye, 53, died yesterday at 2:15 p. m. at her residence, 70 Paxton Street, after a year's illness.

She is survived by her husband, Patrick J. McGoye; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Catherine Dunn, Wheeling; Mrs. Teresa Skidmore, Elkins, and Miss Sally McGoye, at home, and three sons, James McGoye, a student at West Virginia University, Morgantown; Thomas McGoye and Paul McGoye, at home.

Also surviving are five sisters, Mrs. Cora Baker, and Mrs. Catherine McCloskey, Morgantown; Mrs. Myrtle Watson, Pt. Marion, Pa.; Mrs. Charles Rizer, Piedmont, and Mrs. Albert Barrick, Westernport; one brother, Joseph Johnson, Morgantown, and five grandchildren.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Friday at 9 a. m. at St. Peter's Church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. The body will be taken to the residence today.

ARCH G. DAVIS

Mr. Davis, a native of Frostburg, had lived in the Potomas Park section for 21 years. He was a son of the late William and Mary A. Reed Davis.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Mary Davis, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Earl Douglas, Ilchester, Md.; Mrs. Elizabeth Caviness, Carthage, N. C.; Mrs. Clara Rice, this city, and Miss Mildred Davis, at home; two sons, Warren Davis, Roberts Place, and Earl Davis, at home; one sister, Mrs. Anna Eakins, Akron, and five grandchildren.

WLLIAM J. JONES

William Joseph Jones, 60, of 122 Hanover Street, died last night at 6:10 in Allegany Hospital where he was admitted at 5:45.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death was caused by a heart condition.

Mr. Jones was born in Fort Supply, Okla., a son of the late William J. and Mary A. Bride Jones. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Local No. 332, B. and O. Boilermakers Union, and the Maryland Labor Unity Conference. He also was secretary-treasurer of the Federated Shopcrafts Union.

Mr. Jones came to Cumberland in 1922 and was a boilermaker in the B. and O. Back Shops.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Shaffer Jones; one son, William Joseph Jones, Jr., and one brother, Thomas J. Jones, this city.

JOHN DAY

John Day, 81, retired farmer, died yesterday at 9 p.m. at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Ora Vance, Route 1, Flintstone.

Mr. Day was born in Timber Ridge, W. Va., a son of the late Joshua and Christine Sites Day. He was a member of the United Brethren Church.

He is also survived by another daughter, Mrs. Thomas Scott, Bowerstown, Ohio; one half-sister, Mrs. Pearl Lawrence, South Perkasie, Pa.; 17 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The body will remain at the Hafer Funeral Home until tomorrow when it will be sent to Dennison, Ohio, for burial.

MRS. MILLER SERVICE

A funeral service for Mrs. Laura J. Simons Miller, 85, who died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Osa Brotemarkle, 703 Oldtown Road, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Brotemarkle residence. Rev. William J. Elliott, pastor of First Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Agency Surveying Water Resources

A new survey of water resources in Allegany and Garrett Counties is being made by the Water Resources Division of the U. S. Geological Survey.

R. O. R. Martin, hydraulic engineer for the survey's College Park office, consulted yesterday with George M. Hitchcock, superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company, on the city's use of water.

Martin also obtained information from Hitchcock on the use of water by industries in the area.

The engineer will canvass the two counties to obtain an up-to-date inventory on the resources of the two counties.

Included in the information wanted is data on problems arising from the requirements of industries using Potomac River water for cooling and processing operations.

Hitchcock said Martin also is interested in the domestic use of water by communities.

Although Hitchcock did not know how long the engineer would be in the area, he pointed out that the deadline for the survey is August 11.

Mahoney Attacks Taxes, Pledges Reductions

Recalls See Weeping On Floor Of House

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1 (AP)—George P. Mahoney tonight termed Governor Lane an "expensive luxury" and said the number one plank in the Mahoney platform is tax reduction.

Mahoney opposing Lane for the Democratic nomination for governor, made a major radio-television speech in which he once again attacked the state two per cent sales tax enacted during Lane's administration.

Referring to the governor, Mahoney said:

"Thirty days after he was inaugurated this is what he did:

"He doubled our income tax. He increased the tax on gasoline 25 per cent. He put a two per cent titling tax on used cars every time a used car is bought and sold. Now up to this point, Mr. Lane has increased your taxes approximately $90,000,000.

"Wouldn't you have thought that an increase of $90,000,000 over the previous administration would have been enough?

"Oh, no. Not for Mr. Lane. He thought up a new tax — yes — the sales tax.

"It was a tax the people of Maryland did not expect.

"It was a tax the legislature did not want. It was a tax that they (the legislature) defeated."

Mahoney contended that during the 1947 session, the sales tax was "defeated on a Saturday" but the Governor made political deals "on Sunday and the sales tax was steamrollered through on Monday."

The candidate also referred to the fact that Delegate Charles M. See (R-Allegany), "a blind member of the legislature, stood on the House floor with tears running down his cheeks and said he had been threatened that if he didn't change his vote to help pass the sales tax, the Maryland Workshop for the Blind would be denied state funds."

Mahoney told his audience that Maryland "has the dubious honor of leading all the states in the nation with an increase of taxation of 80.3 per cent," he added:

"I contend that Mr. Lane is the most expensive luxury that the people of Maryland have ever had to maintain and support."

Mahoney said he was going on record that the first plank in his platform would be tax reduction, adding that "the complete platform that I will present to the voters of Maryland will be a good one. It will be one that you like and one that I will be able to fufill."

The speech also contended that events have demonstrated that "Governor Lane has surrendered to the Baltimore political machine and if not stopped now, another four years of Mr. Lane, and the city machine will dominate both the city and the counties."

Mahoney argued that "this is a dangerous, dictatorial form of government. x x x I am one man against a political machine. I want to give you a business administration."

The speaker contended that Lane is "deceiving voters" because the sales tax is not really paying for roads and schools, but that the money is coming from other sources.

RICHARD H. MILLER

Born in Graysville, Pa., Mr. Miller had resided here 60 years. His parents were the late Rev. James and Elizabeth Ross Miller. He was a member of First Baptist Church.

In addition to his widow, he leaves a son, Eugene R. Miller, Salisbury, Md.; one daughter, Mrs. George W. McLuckie, this city; a half-brother, Harry R. Miller, also of Cumberland; one half-sister, Mrs. Gertrude Cubbage, Columbus, Ohio, and three grandchildren.

A funeral service will be conducted tomorrow at 4 p. m. at the Hafer Funeral Home by Rev. O. Afton Linger, pastor of First Baptist Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

MRS. PATRICK J. McGOYE

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—Mrs. Leota McGoye, 53, died yesterday at 2:15 p. m. at her residence, 70 Paxton Street, after a year's illness.

A native of Keyser, Mrs. McGoye was a daughter of the late Thomas and Susan Dawson Johnson. She had lived in Piedmont for 35 years and was a member of Court Sancta Maria, Catholic Daughters of America; St. Peter's Catholic Church, Westernport, and the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin.

She is survived by her husband, Patrick J. McGoye; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Catherine Dunn, Wheeling; Mrs. Teresa Skidmore, Elkins, and Miss Sally McGoye, at home, and three sons, James McGoye, a student at West Virginia University, Morgantown; Thomas McGoye and Paul McGoye, at home.

Also surviving are five sisters, Mrs. Cora Baker, and Mrs. Catherine McCloskey, Morgantown; Mrs. Myrtle Watson, Pt. Marion, Pa.; Mrs. Charles Rizer, Piedmont, and Mrs. Albert Barrick, Westernport; one brother, Joseph Johnson, Morgantown, and five grandchildren.

A requiem mass will be celebrated Friday at 9 a. m. at St. Peter's Church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. The body will be taken to the residence today.

ARCH G. DAVIS

Mr. Davis, a native of Frostburg, had lived in the Potomas Park section for 21 years. He was a son of the late William and Mary A. Reed Davis.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Mary Davis, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Earl Douglas, Ilchester, Md.; Mrs. Elizabeth Caviness, Carthage, N. C.; Mrs. Clara Rice, this city, and Miss Mildred Davis, at home; two sons, Warren Davis, Roberts Place, and Earl Davis, at home; one sister, Mrs. Anna Eakins, Akron, and five grandchildren.

WLLIAM J. JONES

William Joseph Jones, 60, of 122 Hanover Street, died last night at 6:10 in Allegany Hospital where he was admitted at 5:45.

Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, said death was caused by a heart condition.

Mr. Jones was born in Fort Supply, Okla., a son of the late William J. and Mary A. Bride Jones. He was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Local No. 332, B. and O. Boilermakers Union, and the Maryland Labor Unity Conference. He also was secretary-treasurer of the Federated Shopcrafts Union.

Mr. Jones came to Cumberland in 1922 and was a boilermaker in the B. and O. Back Shops.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Shaffer Jones; one son, William Joseph Jones, Jr., and one brother, Thomas J. Jones, this city.

JOHN DAY

John Day, 81, retired farmer, died yesterday at 9 p.m. at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Ora Vance, Route 1, Flintstone.

Mr. Day was born in Timber Ridge, W. Va., a son of the late Joshua and Christine Sites Day. He was a member of the United Brethren Church.

He is also survived by another daughter, Mrs. Thomas Scott, Bowerstown, Ohio; one half-sister, Mrs. Pearl Lawrence, South Perkasie, Pa.; 17 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The body will remain at the Hafer Funeral Home until tomorrow when it will be sent to Dennison, Ohio, for burial.

MRS. MILLER SERVICE

A funeral service for Mrs. Laura J. Simons Miller, 85, who died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Osa Brotemarkle, 703 Oldtown Road, will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Brotemarkle residence. Rev. William J. Elliott, pastor of First Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

ISSAC F. CLARK

Savold To Return

Hagerstown Officials To Inspect City File

Hagerstown officials will be at City Hall today at 10:30 a. m. to survey the system used by the city for its personnel files, Mayor Thomas S. Post said yesterday.

They will be greeted by Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder, commissioner of streets and public property, and C. William Spangler of the State Employment Service.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said the system was inaugurated when the city adopted the merit plan for employes in 1943.

Agency Surveying Water Resources

A new survey of water resources in Allegany and Garrett Counties is being made by the Water Resources Division of the U. S. Geological Survey.

R. O. R. Martin, hydraulic engineer for the survey's College Park office, consulted yesterday with George M. Hitchcock, superintendent of the Evitts Creek Water Company, on the city's use of water.

Martin also obtained information from Hitchcock on the use of water by industries in the area.

The engineer will canvass the two counties to obtain an up-to-date inventory on the resources of the two counties.

Included in the information wanted is data on problems arising from the requirements of industries using Potomac River water for cooling and processing operations.

Hitchcock said Martin also is interested in the domestic use of water by communities.

Although Hitchcock did not know how long the engineer would be in the area, he pointed out that the deadline for the survey is August 11.

Which Diamond is the Most Valuable?

A. $200 C. $135 E. $77.50

B. $150 D. $115 F. $57.50

(all prices include fed. tax)

That's why it pays to consult Western Maryland's only Registered Jeweler, American Gem Society when choosing a diamond. Our ethical standards, technical knowledge and nearly 100 years of dependability assure you of the best . . . or the most . . . for your money.

Draft Registrant Reemployment Rights Outlined

Reemployment rights of registrants for the draft have been outlined by P. Emmett Fahey, clerk-coordinator of Draft Boards 27, 28 and 29.

If a young man leaves a position with a private employer of the United States Government to perform active service in the Armed Forces, Fahey said, he will be entitled to reemployment rights provided he meets certain requirements of the Selective Service Act of 1948, such as:

(1) The position he leaves is other than temporary; (2) he is honorably discharged from the Armed Services; (3) it is his first enlistment under this act and for a period of not more than three years, unless extended by law; (4) he applies for reemployment within 90 days after discharge of from hospitalization continuing after discharge for one year; (5) if a private employer, his circumstances have not so changed as to make it impossible or unreasonable to rehire him, and (6) he is still qualified to perform duties of the position.

If he cannot perform the duties of his position because of disabilities sustained during service in the Armed Forces, but is qualified to perform the duties of any other position, he will be entitled to be restored to the job he is qualified to perform, and which will provide him with a position of like seniority, status and pay, or the nearest approximation thereof consistent with the circumstances of the case.

He will also be entitled upon restoration to his former position to full seniority and other benefits offered by his employer in accordance with established rules and practices relating to employes on furlough or leave of absence status; and he may not be discharged from such position without cause within one year after restoration.

The Secretary of Labor, through the Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights, will aid him in the exercise of his reemployment rights. This is done in cooperation with other federal and state agencies and with the assistance of volunteer reemployment rights committeemen.

The Civil Service Commission is designated the administering agency for ex-servicemen who leave positions in the Federal government. Employes of state government of political sub-divisions thereof should determine if they have reemployment rights under state statutes.

Fahey pointed out that it is not legally necessary to notify an employer about leaving a job to enter the Armed Forces, but it will avoid misunderstandings and facilitate reemployment. This can be done through the usual employment procedure or by writing a letter to the employer.

If a young man wishes to exercise his reemployment rights upon expiration of his period of active duty, he should apply for reinstatement within 90 days. And if he continues military service as a career or upon discharge does not desire to return to his job, he should notify his employer.

Dog License Plan Accepted

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday approved a plan enforcement of dog licensing laws presented to them by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board.

Under this new procedure, trial and committing magistrates shall issue the dog licenses for a 25-cent fee.

Enforcement of the law shall be in the hands of selected constables in the county's six districts. These will be named by the board.

Action was taken on this problem after the board received many complaints concerning the damage done by packs of dogs throughout the county.

The tags will be metal, and according to Getty's plan, their shape will be changed each year to facilitate the work of the constables.

The tags will be issued by the magistrates acting for the county treasurer, according to the state law passed by the 1947 legislature.

By placing constables on duty against these dogs which cause damage in each district, the method of enforcemnet will be more complete and more efficient.

For Cumberland, the board suggested that Charles H. Hyde, clerk to Trial Magistrates Court, be in charge of licensing.

Enforcement of the law shall be in the hands of selected constables in the county's six districts. These will be named by the board.

Action was taken on this problem after the board received many complaints concerning the damage done by packs of dogs throughout the county.

The tags will be metal, and according to Getty's plan, their shape will be changed each year to facilitate the work of the constables.

The tags will be issued by the magistrates acting for the county treasurer, according to the state law passed by the 1947 legislature.

By placing constables on duty against these dogs which cause damage in each district, the method of enforcemnet will be more complete and more efficient.

For Cumberland, the board suggested that Charles H. Hyde, clerk to Trial Magistrates Court, be in charge of licensing.

U. N. Survey Reveals West's War Potential Far Exceeds That Of Communist Nations

NEW YORK (INS)—A survey by United Nations World magazine indicated tonight that the war potential of the Western Powers far exceeds that of the eastern bloc but that the Communist high command is more unified and further advanced in planning.

The global study showed that the powers supporting the U.N. action in Korea have a million more men under arms than have Russia and its satellites. The figures show 7,667,000 for the non-Communist nations and 6,658,000 for the Communist bloc.

In aircraft, the non-Communists have 23,355 planes against 17,696 for the Communists.

The western bloc has 826 surface combat vessels to 146 for the Communists although the eastern group has 306 submarines to 185 for the west.

Annual production figures show the west leading in steel output—125 million tons to 32,700,000—and in coal—slightly over a billion tons to 353 million tons.

It produces almost 389-million tons of oil a year compared with less than 41 million tons for the east. Over 568 billion kilowatt hours of electric power are produced every year in the west, the survey showed, compared with 61 billion in the east.

But a warning for the west is contained in the conclusions on unity of command, rapidity of decision and strategic planning. The results give the east a wide margin on those matters.

The magazine said the severely centralized political power in the hands of the Kremlin contrasts sharply with the 49 high commands which the west is trying to get to work as one team.

In addition, the United Nations World says that much of the west's strength is tied down by internal security needs and obligations in dependent territories—such as Indo-China, Malaya and Hong Kong.

Bird Club Art Exhibit Closes

The three-week art exhibit of work done by club members during the annual Bird Camp June 18 and 23 at Pleasant Valley ended last night, according to Miss Sara Wright, camp handicraft instructor.

Miss Wright said work not claimed by Saturday will be stored until September.

New Equipment For County Road Work Proposed

Plans for renewing county roads department equipment over a period of years were proposed yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners after cost figures on running the department were submitted by J. Walker Chapman, department purchasing agent and storekeeper.

In his comprehensive report for the 11 months from August, 1949, and June, 1950, Chapman recorded the cost of operating trucks that are nearly ten years old.

Suggests Program

Commissioner William H. Lemmert suggested, in view of these sums, that a program should be worked up whereby the county would trade in two or three trucks yearly, as the budget permitted, to eventually work up to having a new fleet of vehicles.

Chapman's figures show that it costs the county $998.19 a day to operate the Roads Department, according to records kept by him during the 11 months.

Labor for 11 months totaled $120,-936.54 while the daily cost for labor is $549.71. Material per day amounts to $219.86 while cost of operating the equipment is $145.64. All these are for the actual working days.

The commissioners praised Chapman for his complete survey and commented that these figures will be used in ascertaining future road work programs.

The board voted that 20 per cent depreciation be placed against the operating costs of the department's equipment.

L. H. Chambers, of Williams Road, in a letter pointed out the needs of repairs on that highway and stated that a guard rail is needed on the west side of Iron Mountain.

A delegation from the Oldtown section was informed that work will begin soon on the elimination of an "S" curve on Wagner Road. The project will cost about $4,000, County Engineer John J. Smith estimated.

An unusual appeal for road work was made by residents of Knob Road, running from Bedford Road to Valley Road.

Snapshots of the road showing its rutted and rough surface were presented. The commissioners said work will begin there before August 14.

Louis Rinker Held Under $500 Bond

Louis G. Rinker, 419 Central Avenue, is being held in Allegany County Jail under $500 bond on a charge of assaulting another man in a tavern disturbance over the weekend.

Bond was set yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court for Rinker who surrendered late Monday afternoon at Police Headquarters after an assault warrant had been issued for his arrest.

He will face trial when Warden T. Tharp, 422 Virginia Avenue, is able to leave Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Saturday night with a fractured skull. He was reportedly thrown through a screen door at the tavern on Henderson Avenue. His condition is satisfactory.

The prisoner's brother, Francis E Rinker, 39, of 103 Knox Street, who was picked up for questioning after the incident, was released Monday.

Shaw Is Ready To Help Red Cross

Ross Shaw, Oldtown, has notified Mrs. Lee Witherup, executive secretary, of the local Red Cross chapter, that in case of war he will volunteer his services in whatever way he can to assist the Red Cross.

During World War II he spent more than 1,500 hours doing Red Cross work and was presented a 20-year service pin by Mrs. Witherup.

Midland Plays Hagerstown In Series Opener

Games Start Today, Concludes Saturday

The opening game of the series for the Area "A" championship in Maryland will be staged today at 6 p.m., at Municipal Stadium, Hagerstown, between the American Legion junior baseball teams of Midland Post No. 169, Mountain District League winners, and Morris Frock Post No. 49 of Hagerstown.

Edward J. Wegman, chairman of Mountain District, announced yesterday that plans for staging a doubleheader in Hagerstown today were abandoned yesterday after an objection was filed by the Midland team.

Emory Wolfe, Hagerstown, area chairman, had announced on Monday that two games would be played in Hagerstown today and the third, if necessary, would be staged in Midland on a date to be announced later.

The new arrangement calls for a single game today in the Hub City and the second and also the third game, if necessary, at Midland on Saturday.

Hugh Coleman, manager of the Midland team, last night announced that arrangements for the Saturday game or games will be straightened out today or tomorrow as the Midland Indians of the Bi-State League are at home with Keyser on Saturday. It is hoped to play the second game of the series on Saturday at 1 p.m.

Manager Coleman and Coaches Jimmie Murray and Kenny Harclerode will accompany Midland's squad of 15 players to Hagerstown today.

The team will leave the Midland Legion Home at 12:15 p.m.

C. & P. Telephone, Old Germans And Parker's Victors

The C. & P. Telephone Company continued to press the pace-setting Men-Mar Brick team for the lead in the American Division of the City Recreation Softball League by defeating Hockman's Esso yesterday at East Side by the score of 14-4.

Larrick pitched the first five frames and game up only one hit. Evans finished on the mound for the Phonemen. Grimes, Menges and Luttrell walloped homers and Brannon garnered four hits in four trips for the winners. Herb Lapp of the Gassers turned in the fielding gem by making a nice catch of Shaffer's drive.

Clay Ingram's hit in the last of the 7th drove in the winning run as the Old Germans defeated Lapp's Plumbers by the score of 4-3. Eleven Old Germans reached first via passes. Wayne White turned in several nice catches in centerfield.

Parker's Sport Center registered their 4th straight victory when they took the Kelly Retail Store into camp by the score of 12-8 at Locust Grove. Jim Manges headed the attack with a triple, double and single. "Bubbles" Whiteman, Charlie Lattimer and Gus Manges had two blows each. Ray Stevenson rapped two triples and single for Kelly.

In a Monday contest, East Side topped Sun Heating, 13-6. The scores:

Mineral Board Fails To Choose Ridgeley Coach

The Mineral County School Board deferred action on the appointment of a coach to succeed Jesse E. Riggleman, of Ridgeley High School, resigned, at its regular meeting last night at the court house in Keyser.

A. G. Springer, assistant superintendent of schools, said that Melvin M. Heiskell, principal of Ridgeley High School, had submitted several names as likely choices for the basketball and football post vacated by Riggleman but no formal applications were received by the board.

The board may take action at its next meeting on August 15.

Members of the board are G. Harley Dixon, Piedmont, president; N. C. Taylor, Keyser; J. C. Boor, Piedmont; G. D. Dick, Elk Garden, W. Va., and B. A. McCullough, Patterson Creek. H. L. Idleman, superintendent of schools, is secretary to the board.

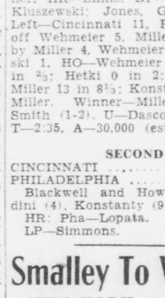
Clark Griffith Says

Harris Deserves Consideration When Manager Of Year Is Named

Bucky's Job As Pilot Borders On Miraculous

By JOE IVES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — It may be a little early, but Clark Griffith says it looks like they're going to have to take his boy, Stanley, into consideration when they name the "manager of the year."



Bucky Harris

What Bucky has done with Griffith's Washington Senators—a preseason 100-1 shot to win the pennant and a team picked by almost everybody for last place — borders a bit on the miraculous.

The Senators are solidly entrenched in fifth place—eight and one half games in front of the sixth place Chicago White Sox and eight games behind the fourth place Boston Red Sox.

Harris, the leather-faced veteran who was called the "boy wonder" back in the roaring twenties, might even bring his boys to undreamed of heights—like fourth place.

"After all the rest of the schedule is easy," said Griff. "All we've got coming up when the club gets home Aug. 10 is nine games with New York and Boston and three with Cleveland."

No Joke—To Leaders

The white haired prexy may have been joking but it's no joking matter to managers Red Rolfe, Casey Stengel, Steve O'Neill and Lou Boudreau. Against the second division, the Senators have a rough time, but not against the big boys.

Boudreau summed it up recently like this:

"Every time we play Washington you'd think it was the world series."

Before the present American League campaign began, Harris had what was called "a collection of guys who ought to do something else for a living."

Griff gave him almost a free reign in running the Senators.

He talked the old man into shoveling out $70,000 for Coast League outfielder Irv Noren. He picked three men from the draft heap. He persuaded Griff to send Eddie Robinson and Ray Scarborough, Washington's drawing power, to Chicago in a trade to get second baseman Cass Michaels.

Mele Gains Confidence

That isn't all, Bucky, using his most convincing persuasion, talked hurler Mickey Harris into becoming a reliefer. And he instilled confidence into Sam Mele who hadn't been able to hit his way out of a paper bag since his rookie season with Boston.

The results:

Noren is one of the American League's best centerfielders and is hitting .313. Minor league draftee Mickey Grasso, now the first string catcher, is hitting .316—something he never could accomplish before. Mele, after a slump, is back in the upper brackets with a .304 average. Michaels, despite a bad leg for the past few weeks, is hitting .303. Mickey Harris, no relation, has only a 5-5 record but has done a tremendous relief job. And third baseman Eddie Yost is playing the best ball of his career.

Golf's Marathon All-American To Open Tomorrow

$75,000 Is Offered, 400 Will Compete

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP) — Golf's richest competition, the dove-tailed All-American and "world" championship tourneys, worth $75,000, starts its merry, marathon way at Tam O'Shanter Country Club Thursday.

A confusing spectacle normally, the Tam circus is even more bewildering in this its 10th year. The lush 10-day outing which has drawn its largest entry, approximately 400 pros, women and men amateurs, has a staggered start.

Some 43 feminine shooters start their phase of the 72-hole all-American Thursday. At the same time, 253 professionals will try to qualify for 56 berths in the $20,000 main event. Friday will bring the women's second round and the first round for 141 amateurs. On Saturday the All-American will be in full swing with 76 pros, including 20 seeded stars, playing their first round.

A week from Thursday, the $55,000, 72-hole, world meet begins for 32 pros, eight women pros, eight women amateurs, and 16 men amateurs, all of whom must have played in the All-American.

The front office, as well as the locker room end of the Tam merry-go-round has its complications.

Promoter George S. May is embroiled in a legal bout resulting from a July 4 police raid directed against gambling activity at the club. Slot machines and gaming wheels were confiscated in the raid. At one time, a judge involved in the case even suggested that the club be closed because Tam officials were cagey about testifying.

The professional field includes just about all of the game's top names, with the exception of U. S. Open Champion Ben Hogan, the comeback kid. The 144-hole grind, club officials hint, would be too much for Ben's much-discussed legs. But Hogan, even prior to his road smash-up, skipped Tam because he regards it too much of a carnival.

However, May cornered himself a special attraction in British Open champion Bobby Locke, returning to American fairways after a year's exile imposed by the professional Golfers Association of America. The ban, credited to Locke's failure to keep a few American dates, was lifted early this year.

Six of last year's seven champions are among the hot-shots who will do their stuff in the complex tourney. These include Lloyd Mangrum, All-American pro; Johnny Palmer, "world" championship pro; Frank Stranahan, All-American amateur; Babe Zaharias, women's "world" pro; Grace Lenczyk, women's "world" amateur; and Louise Suggs, women's All-American open.

Riggleman Records
Lewis Is Eligible
Ridgeley Is Chosen
Merle's 200 Is Tops

By C. V. BURNS

Jesse E. Riggleman's record as a football coach for six seasons at Ridgeley High School was an even .500.

Teams tutored by "Little Jesse" who recently resigned as mentor of the Blackhawks to take a coaching position in Ohio won 22, lost 22 and played three ties.

Riggleman came to Ridgeley in 1942, succeeding William P. Hahn, the present Fort Hill High School grid and track coach. Jesse was in the navy in 1944 and 1945 and he returned to Ridgeley High for the 1946 football season. Art Scalli served as Ridgeley's wartime basketball and football coach.

Year	W.	L.	T.
1943	1	6	0
1946	5	2	2
1947	6	1	0
1948	5	2	1
1949	3	5	0
Totals	22	22	3

• — • — •

Riggleman's postwar basketball teams at Ridgeley figured in 90 games over four seasons and turned in 70 victories for an average of 77.8 per cent. Perhaps one of Ridgeley's best years on the court was 1948 when the Hawks won 22 and lost 2 for an average of .917.

Here are the records of Riggleman's quints since he came out of the service:

Year	W.	L.	Pct.
1947	14	9	.609
1948	22	2	.917
1949	16	5	.762
1950	18	4	.818

Peter J. Carpenti, president of the Cumberland Dapper Dan Club, has denied the protest charging that Robert Lewis, classy negro tosser of the Tigers of the Little Baseball League, is over-age.

The protest was filed by the manager of another team in the league and Lewis, a big lad for his age, has taken an uncalled for panning in several games.

President Carpenti says that Lewis' age has been checked thoroughly and Manager "Sparky" Chisholm of the Tigers has the proof from the City Health Department that the lad will become 13 in September and is therefore eligible to compete in the league.

The Dapper Dan prexy will hear other protests on Friday at 10 a. m. in the Recreation Department office in City Hall.

Do you know that Midland Post's junior baseball team survived a protest to earn a spot in the American Legion area finals today.

A manager of one of the other clubs in the Mountain District League charged that Enardo Arnone, Midland's ace pitcher (4-0) should have been playing with Farrady Post, Frostburg, since his home (Eckhart) is closer to Frostburg than Midland.

Another protest was lodged over several Barton boys playing with Westernport. Since Barton is situated closer to Lonaconing than Westernport, the protestant contended that under the rules the services of these boys belonged to 'Coney.

The Barton boys are reported to have sought a tryout at Lonaconing but went to Westernport when they were given the brushoff.

The protests were denied by the Maryland State Department chairman in Baltimore.

Manager Ed O'Hara of Marlboro's newly remodeled half-mile race track in southern Maryland has asked the State Racing Commission for permission to hold its 10-day September meeting under lights.

Marlboro's dates this year are Sept. 13 to 30.

Maryland's other short tracks—Hagerstown, Cumberland, Timonium and Bel Air—have indicated they will follow Marlboro's lead if it pays off. They're entirely sympathetic with the idea, but they want the proof first.

It is felt that the commission will approve Marlboro's request for a negative response would leave it open to criticism as favoring the trotters.

The Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club has been asked to consider playing host to the West Virginia Trapshooting Tournament for the 5th straight year in 1950, according to Tony Francis, the club's trapshooting chairman.

Gunners of the state association were so pleased with the manner in which the 30th annual event was handled (July 21, 22, 23) that they lost no time in asking Ridgeley to accept the honor again next year.

Approximately 75 gunners from five states — New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland — participated in last months prelims and championship events at the Frankfort Road traps.

• — • — •

It is probably the longest run ever made in a 16-yard event in Ridgeley. We've written about perfect 100 scores at Ridgeley but this was the first time we ever recall hearing of a trapshooter hitting 200 straight at the Mineral County club.

Merle couldn't qualify for the singles crown because he's a Pennsylvanian. During the 3-day program he broke 552 out of 600 and that's pretty good shooting.

Maryland has separated the fish and game sections of the State Game and Inland Fish Department.

The game section will be under Chester Kerns of Westminster. Edwin M. Barry will remain as chief of fish management.

Kerns, 45, comes to the department after 12 years with the State Soil Conservation Service. Previous to that he was with the Pennsylvania Game Department. He is a graduate of Penn State College where he specialized in soil conservation and game management.

Whitman Suffers Two Broken Wrists In Softball Game

Clifford Eugene "Red" Whitman, first baseman of the Corriganville softball team of the County League suffered two broken wrists during an exhibition game with Frostburg at Corriganville on Monday when he stumbled over the leg of the opposing first baseman while attempting to beat out a bunt in the third inning.

Whitman was taken to Memorial Hospital where both arms were placed in casts.

One cast must be worn approximately 90 days and the other 30 days.

Whitman, regarded as one of the stars of the county circuit, resides at 22 valley Street. He is employed at the Baltimore and Ohio Bolt and Forge plant.

Scoring their second win in as many days, Manager Bob Collins' Red Sox tightened their grip on first place in the Dapper Division of the Little Baseball League by downing the Pirates yesterday at Fort Hill by the score of 4-2.

Doug Sullivan twirled the first three innings for Collins' outfit, goose-egged the opposition in the run and hit columns and whiffed six. Fred Billmeyer gave up four hits and two runs and fanned five in the last three stanzas. Gary Smith and Billmeyer collected two hits each for the victors. Robinson hit safely twice for the Pirates.

Lewis Fires One-Hitter

C. Lewis tossed a one-hitter and fired the third strike past 10 batsmen as the Yankees took the Phillies into camp at East Side by the score of 7-0. Ronnie Diehl made the Phillies only hit. Lewis issued only one walk.

R. Lewis squeezed over the first run in the opening frame after Murray walked, took second on Jewell's sacrifice and moved to third on a passed ball. Mike Daugherty slammed a homer in the second. The Yankees exploded for five runs in the third by coupling walks to Jewell, J. Daugherty and Weaver with E. Barley's sacrifice, Mike Daugherty's double and R. Lewis' single.

Ronald Winters, Phillies' relief pitcher, let the opposition down with four hits and no runs the remainder of the game. Eddie Barley, Mike Daugherty and C. Lewis shared six of the Yankees' nine safeties.

Norm Gerdeman's Indians edged the Dodgers in a night game at Penn Avenue Field but got a real scare in the final frame when the opposition chased three runs over the platter. The final score was 4-3.

Bruce Falls, Tagged Out

Trailing 4-0, the Dodgers scored thrice in the last of the 6th when Regis Fair slammed a homer with two abroad. Then Bruce hammered a triple and was headed for home when he slipped and fell and was tagged out by Yankelevitz about 10 feet from thep late. Buzzard fanned, ending the game.

Don Paye, Indians' twirler, fanned 15 basmen and drove in two of the three runs scored in the first frame. Russell pounded over the other tally after Groves hit and Yankelevitz walked. Hits by Wilt and Groves accounted for the Tribe's other tally in the 2nd stanza.

Buzzard fanned 7 and Yaider whiffed 8 for the Dodgers. Billy Groves collected three of the Indians' six hits. Scores:

Amvets Top GFC On Perdew's Hit

Pete Perdew's single scored Frank Schoenadel with the run that gave the Amvets a victory over the Goodfellowship Club in a Rocking Chair Softball League game yesterday at Fort Hill by the score of 3-2.

With the score knotted at 2-2 the Amvets put the game on ice in the last of the 7th when Schoenadel singled, went to second on an error, advanced to third on a sacrifice and crossed the plate on Perdew's single to right.

"Doc" Dougherty, Amvets' shortstop, rapped a two-bagger and single to lead the hiters. Jack Often pounded out a three-bagger for the Goodfellowship Club. Score:

Simmons Is Called To Active Service; To Hurl Few Games

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 1 —(INS)—Curt Simmons, 21-year-old pitching star of the Philadelphia Phillies, today became the first major league player called to active service with the armed forces as a result of the war in Korea.

The southpaw, who has won 14 games and lost five for the first place Phillies, is a private with the Headquarters Battalion, 28th division Artillery of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

His division was called to active duty today. It will report later this month.

Simmons, who has been an important factor in Philadelphia's sensational play this season, has been participating in the division's annual two-week encampment.

The lefthander may be able to pitch a few more games, but presumably will be lost to his team during the important stretch drive.

BROOKS TAKE PAIR

BROOKLYN, Aug. 1 (AP) — Erv Palica pitched Brooklyn to a 3-1 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the regularly scheduled game tonight after the Brooks had whipped the Pirates, 21-12 in the continued game of June 24. Women's Big Four Of Tennis Sweeps Grass Court Tests

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP)—The "Big Four" of women's tennis moved into the third round of the Eastern Grass Court Championships today without the loss of a single set.

National titleholder Mrs. Margaret duPont of Wilmington, Del., blasted Jean Doyle of San Diego, 6-2, 6-2. Wimbledon queen Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., routed Mrs. Patricia Stuhler, of Plainfield, N. J., 6-0, 6-2.

Doris Hart, of Jacksonville, Fla., removed Rhode Hopkins, of Woodhaven, N. Y., 6-3, 6-1; and Pat Todd, of La Jolla, Calif., smothered Mrs. Helen Rihbany, of Boston, 6-2, 6-1.

A major disappointment turned up in Althea Gibson, first Negro player ever to compete in a grass court title tourney. She was defeated by Mrs. Helen Perez, of Encino, Calif., 6-1, 6-1.

One of the most dramatic matches of the day saw Herbie Flam, halfpint Californian, uncork a stirring rally to overthrow Tom Brown, of San Francisco, 2-6, 7-5, 8-6. Brown was a Wimbledon finalist in 1947 and U. S. singles finalist the year before.

Kell Boosts Lead In AL Swat Race

CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Detroit's George Kell gained seven points in the American Legue batting race last week for a pace-setting .351, three ahead of Cleveland's Larry Doby.

Doby, who trailed by a point last week, picked up five points for .348.

Detroit's Hoot Evers, tied with Doby at .343 last week, slumped seven points into a third-place tie with Johnny Pesky of Boston at .336. Others in the top ten include: Walt Dropo, Boston, who slumped another 10 points to .332; Yogi Berra, New York, .328; Al Zarilla, Boston, .324; Phil Rizzuto, New York, .321; Johny Groth, Detroit, .320; and Vic Wertz, Detroit, .313.

The league's best percentage pitcher with a 16-4 record for .800 was Cleveland's Bob Lemon. Allie Reynolds of New York recaptured the strikeout lead with 101.

Detroit Wins Opener From Yankees, 7-3

Midland Plays Hagerstown In Series Opener

Games Start Today, Concludes Saturday

The opening game of the series for the Area "A" championship in Maryland will be staged today at 6 p.m., at Municipal Stadium, Hagerstown, between the American Legion junior baseball teams of Midland Post No. 169, Mountain District League winners, and Morris Frock Post No. 49 of Hagerstown.

Edward J. Wegman, chairman of Mountain District, announced yesterday that plans for staging a doubleheader in Hagerstown today were abandoned yesterday after an objection was filed by the Midland team.

Emory Wolfe, Hagerstown, area chairman, had announced on Monday that two games would be played in Hagerstown today and the third, if necessary, would be staged in Midland on a date to be announced later.

The new arrangement calls for a single game today in the Hub City and the second and also the third game, if necessary, at Midland on Saturday.

Hugh Coleman, manager of the Midland team, last night announced that arrangements for the Saturday game or games will be straightened out today or tomorrow as the Midland Indians of the Bi-State League are at home with Keyser on Saturday. It is hoped to play the second game of the series on Saturday at 1 p.m.

Manager Coleman and Coaches Jimmie Murray and Kenny Harclerode will accompany Midland's squad of 15 players to Hagerstown today.

The team will leave the Midland Legion Home at 12:15 p.m.

C. & P. Telephone, Old Germans And Parker's Victors

The C. & P. Telephone Company continued to press the pace-setting Fen-Mar Brick team for the lead in the American Division of the City Recreation Softball League by defeating Hockman's Esso yesterday at East Side by the score of 14-4.

Larrick pitched the first five frames and game up only one hit. Evans finished on the mound for the Phonemen. Grimes, Menges and Luttrell walloped homers and Brannon garnered four hits in four trips for the winners. Herb Lapp of the Gassers turned in the fielding gem by making a nice catch of Shaffer's drive.

Clay Ingram's hit in the last of the 7th drove in the winning run as the Old Germans defeated Lapp's Plumbers by the score of 4-3. Eleven Old Germans reached first via passes. Wayne White turned in several nice catches in centerfield.

Parker's Sport Center registered their 4th straight victory when they took the Kelly Retail Store into camp by the score of 12-8 at Locust Grove. Jim Manges headed the attack with a triple, double and single. "Bubbles" Whiteman, Charlie Lattimer and Gus Manges had two blows each. Ray Stevenson rapped two triples and single for Kelly.

In a Monday contest, East Side topped Sun Heating, 13-6. The scores:

Mineral Board Fails To Choose Ridgeley Coach

The Mineral County School Board deferred action on the appointment of a coach to succeed Jesse E. Riggleman, of Ridgeley High School, resigned, at its regular meeting last night at the court house in Keyser.

A. G. Springer, assistant superintendent of schools, said that Melvin M. Heiskell, principal of Ridgeley High School, had submitted several names as likely choices for the basketball and football post vacated by Riggleman but no formal applications were received by the board.

The board may take action at its next meeting on August 15.

Members of the board are G. Harley Dixon, Piedmont, president; N. C. Taylor, Keyser; J. C. Boor, Piedmont; G. D. Dick, Elk Garden, W. Va., and B. A. McCullough, Patterson Creek. H. L. Idleman, superintendent of schools, is secretary to the board.

Cincinnati Reds Defeat Simmons In Nightcap, 4-1

Phillies Score 6-4 Victory In Opener

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1 (AP) — Army-bound Curt Simmons had a special pass from the National Guard, a special airplane ride to Philadelphia but only a defeat for his efforts tonight as the Cincinnati Reds drove him from the box and defeated the Phillies 4 to 1 in the second game of a doubleheader tonight. His teammates pounded three Cincinnati pitchers for a 6-4 decision in the opener. Box:

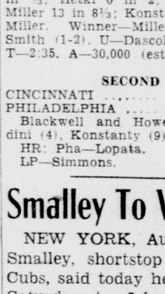
Clark Griffith Says

Harris Deserves Consideration When Manager Of Year Is Named

Bucky's Job As Pilot Borders On Miraculous

By JOE IVES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — It may be a little early, but Clark Griffith says it looks like they're going to have to take his boy, Stanley, into consideration when they name the "manager of the year."



Bucky Harris

What Bucky has done with Griffith's Washington Senators—a preseason 100-1 shot to win the pennant and a team picked by almost everybody for last place — borders a bit on the miraculous.

The Senators are solidly entrenched in fifth place—eight and one half games in front of the sixth place Chicago White Sox and eight games behind the fourth place Boston Red Sox.

Harris, the leather-faced veteran who was called the "boy wonder" back in the roaring twenties, might even bring his boys to undreamed of heights—like fourth place.

"After all the rest of the schedule is easy," said Griff. "All we've got coming up when the club gets home Aug. 10 is nine games with New York and Boston and three with Cleveland."

No Joke—To Leaders

The white haired prexy may have been joking but it's no joking matter to managers Red Rolfe, Casey Stengel, Steve O'Neill and Lou Boudreau. Against the second division, the Senators have a rough time, but not against the big boys.

Boudreau summed it up recently like this:

"Every time we play Washington you'd think it was the world series."

Before the present American League campaign began, Harris had what was called "a collection of guys who ought to do something else for a living."

Griff gave him almost a free reign in running the Senators.

He talked the old man into shoveling out $70,000 for Coast League outfielder Irv Noren. He picked three men from the draft heap. He persuaded Griff to send Eddie Robinson and Ray Scarborough, Washington's drawing power, to Chicago in a trade to get second baseman Cass Michaels.

Mele Gains Confidence

That isn't all, Bucky, using his most convincing persuasion, talked hurler Mickey Harris into becoming a reliefer. And he instilled confidence into Sam Mele who hadn't been able to hit his way out of a paper bag since his rookie season with Boston.

The results:

Noren is one of the American League's best centerfielders and is hitting .313. Minor league draftee Mickey Grasso, now the first string catcher, is hitting .316—something he never could accomplish before. Mele, after a slump, is back in the upper brackets with a .304 average. Michaels, despite a bad leg for the past few weeks, is hitting .303. Mickey Harris, no relation, has only a 5-5 record but has done a tremendous relief job. And third baseman Eddie Yost is playing the best ball of his career.

Golf's Marathon All-American To Open Tomorrow

$75,000 Is Offered, 400 Will Compete

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP) — Golf's richest competition, the dove-tailed All-American and "world" championship tourneys, worth $75,000, starts its merry, marathon way at Tam O'Shanter Country Club Thursday.

A confusing spectacle normally, the Tam circus is even more bewildering in this, its 10th year. The lush 10-day outing which has drawn its largest entry, approximately 400 pros, women and men amateurs, has a staggered start.

Some 43 feminine shooters start their phase of the 72-hole all-American Thursday. At the same time, 253 professionals will try to qualify for 56 berths in the $20,000 main event. Friday will bring the women's second round and the first round for 141 amateurs. On Saturday the All-American will be in full swing with 76 pros, including 20 seeded stars, playing their first round.

A week from Thursday, the $55,000, 72-hole, world meet begins for 32 pros, eight women pros, eight women amateurs, and 16 men amateurs, all of whom must have played in the All-American.

The front office, as well as the locker room end of the Tam merry-go-round has its complications.

Promoter George S. May is embroiled in a legal bout resulting from a July 4 police raid directed against gambling activity at the club. Slot machines and gaming wheels were confiscated in the raid. At one time, a judge involved in the case even suggested that the club be closed because Tam officials were cagey about testifying.

The professional field includes just about all of the game's top names, with the exception of U. S. Open Champion Ben Hogan, the comeback kid. The 144-hole grind, club officials hint, would be too much for Ben's much-discussed legs. But Hogan, even prior to his road smash-up, skipped Tam because he regards it too much of a carnival.

However, May cornered himself a special attraction in British Open champion Bobby Locke, returning to American fairways after a year's exile imposed by the professional Golfers Association of America. The ban, credited to Locke's failure to keep a few American dates, was lifted early this year.

Six of last year's seven champions are among the hot-shots who will do their stuff in the complex tourney. These include Lloyd Mangrum, All-American pro; Johnny Palmer, "world" championship pro; Frank Stranahan, All-American amateur; Babe Zaharias, women's "world" pro; Grace Lenczyk, women's "world" amateur; and Louise Suggs, women's All-American open.

Lewis Is Eligible
Ridgeley Is Chosen
Merle's 200 Is Tops

By C. V. BURNS

Jesse E. Riggleman's record as a football coach for six seasons at Ridgeley High School was an even .500.

Teams tutored by "Little Jesse" who recently resigned as mentor of the Blackhawks to take a coaching position in Ohio won 22, lost 22 and played three ties.

Riggleman came to Ridgeley in 1942, succeeding William P. Hahn, the present Fort Hill High School grid and track coach. Jesse was in the navy in 1944 and 1945 and he returned to Ridgeley High for the 1946 football season. Art Scalli served as Ridgeley's wartime basketball and football coach.

Year	W.	L.	T.
1942	2	6	0
1943	1	6	0
1946	5	2	2
1947	6	1	0
1948	5	2	1
1949	3	5	0

• — • — •

Riggleman's postwar basketball teams at Ridgeley figured in 90 games over four seasons and turned in 70 victories for an average of 77.8 per cent. Perhaps one of Ridgeley's best years on the court was 1948 when the Hawks won 22 and lost 2 for an average of .917.

Here are the records of Riggleman's quints since he came out of the service:

Year	W.	L.	Pct.
1947	14	9	.609
1948	22	2	.917
1949	16	5	.762
1950	18	4	.818

Peter J. Carpenti, president of the Cumberland Dapper Dan Club, has denied the protest charging that Robert Lewis, classy negro tosser of the Tigers of the Little Baseball League, is over-age.

The protest was filed by the manager of another team in the league and Lewis, a big lad for his age, has taken an uncalled for panning in several games.

President Carpenti says that Lewis' age has been checked thoroughly and Manager "Sparky" Chisholm of the Tigers has the proof from the City Health Department that the lad will become 13 in September and is therefore eligible to compete in the league.

The Dapper Dan prexy will hear other protests on Friday at 10 a. m. in the Recreation Department office in City Hall.

Do you know that Midland Post's junior baseball team survived a protest to earn a spot in the American Legion area finals today.

A manager of one of the other clubs in the Mountain District League charged that Enardo Arnone, Midland's ace pitcher (4-0) should have been playing with Farrady Post, Frostburg, since his home (Eckhart) is closer to Frostburg than Midland.

Another protest was lodged over several Barton boys playing with Westernport. Since Barton is situated closer to Lonaconing than Westernport, the protestant contended that under the rules the services of these boys belonged to 'Coney.

The Barton boys are reported to have sought a tryout at Lonaconing but went to Westernport when they were given the brushoff.

The protests were denied by the Maryland State Department chairman in Baltimore.

Manager Ed O'Hara of Marlboro's newly remodeled half-mile race track in southern Maryland has asked the State Racing Commission for permission to hold its 10-day September meeting under lights.

Marlboro's dates this year are Sept. 13 to 30.

Maryland's other short tracks—Hagerstown, Cumberland, Timonium and Bel Air—have indicated they will follow Marlboro's lead if it pays off. They're entirely sympathetic with the idea, but they want the proof first.

It is felt that the commission will approve Marlboro's request for a negative response would leave it open to criticism as favoring the trotters.

The Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club has been asked to consider playing host to the West Virginia Trapshooting Tournament for the 5th straight year in 1950, according to Tony Francis, the club's trapshooting chairman.

Gunners of the state association were so pleased with the manner in which the 30th annual event was handled (July 21, 22, 23) that they lost no time in asking Ridgeley to accept the honor again next year.

Approximately 75 gunners from five states — New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland — participated in last months prelims and championship events at the Frankfort Road traps.

• — • — •

Practically overlooked during last month's shoot was the run of 200 straight credited to Merle Housworth, the lumber operator from the Bedford Valley section of nearby Pennsylvania.

It is probably the longest run ever made in a 16-yard event in Ridgeley. We've written about perfect 100 scores at Ridgeley but this was the first time we ever recall hearing of a trapshooter hitting 200 straight at the Mineral County club.

Merle couldn't qualify for the singles crown because he's a Pennsylvanian. During the 3-day program he broke 552 out of 600 and that's pretty good shooting.

Maryland has separated the fish and game sections of the State Game and Inland Fish Department.

The game section will be under Chester Kerns of Westminster. Edwin M. Barry will remain as chief of fish management.

Kerns, 45, comes to the department after 12 years with the State Soil Conservation Service. Previous to that he was with the Pennsylvania Game Department. He is a graduate of Penn State College where he specialized in soil conservation and game management.

Whitman Suffers Two Broken Wrists In Softball Game

Clifford Eugene "Red" Whitman, first baseman of the Corriganville softball team of the County League suffered two broken wrists during an exhibition game with Frostburg at Corriganville on Monday when he stumbled over the leg of the opposing first baseman while attempting to beat out a bunt in the third inning.

Whitman was taken to Memorial Hospital where both arms were placed in casts.

One cast must be worn approximately 90 days and the other 30 days.

Whitman, regarded as one of the stars of the county circuit, resides at 22 valley Street. He is employed at the Baltimore and Ohio Bolt and Forge plant.

Scoring their second win in as many days, Manager Bob Collins' Red Sox tightened their grip on first place in the Dapper Division of the Little Baseball League by downing the Pirates yesterday at Fort Hill by the score of 4-2.

Doug Sullivan twirled the first three innings for Collins' outfit, goose-egged the opposition in the run and hit columns and whiffed six. Fred Billmeyer gave up four hits and two runs and fanned five in the last three stanzas. Gary Smith and Billmeyer collected two hits each for the victors. Robinson hit safely twice for the Pirates.

Lewis Fires One-Hitter

C. Lewis tossed a one-hitter and fired the third strike past 10 batsmen as the Yankees took the Phillies into camp at East Side by the score of 7-0. Ronnie Diehl made the Phillies only hit. Lewis issued only one walk.

R. Lewis squeezed over the first run in the opening frame after Murray walked, took second on Jewell's sacrifice and moved to third on a passed ball. Mike Daugherty slammed a homer in the second. The Yankees exploded for five runs in the third by coupling walks to Jewell, J. Daugherty and Weaver with E. Barley's sacrifice, Mike Daugherty's double and R. Lewis' single.

Ronald Winters, Phillies' relief pitcher, let the opposition down with four hits and no runs the remainder of the game. Eddie Barley, Mike Daugherty and C. Lewis shared six of the Yankees' nine safeties.

Norm Gerdeman's Indians edged the Dodgers in a night game at Penn Avenue Field but got a real scare in the final frame when the opposition chased three runs over the platter. The final score was 4-3.

Bruce Falls, Tagged Out

Trailing 4-0, the Dodgers scored thrice in the last of the 6th when Regis Fair slammed a homer with two abroad. Then Bruce hammered a triple and was headed for home when he slipped and fell and was tagged out by Yankelevitz about 10 feet from thep late. Buzzard fanned, ending the game.

Don Paye, Indians' twirler, fanned 15 basmen and drove in two of the three runs scored in the first frame. Russell pounded over the other tally after Groves hit and Yankelevitz walked. Hits by Wilt and Groves accounted for the Tribe's other tally in the 2nd stanza.

Buzzard fanned 7 and Yaider whiffed 8 for the Dodgers. Billy Groves collected three of the Indians' six hits. Scores:

Amvets Top GFC On Perdew's Hit

Pete Perdew's single scored Frank Schoenadel with the run that gave the Amvets a victory over the Goodfellowship Club in a Rocking Chair Softball League game yesterday at Fort Hill by the score of 3-2.

With the score knotted at 2-2 the Amvets put the game on ice in the last of the 7th when Schoenadel singled, went to second on an error, advanced to third on a sacrifice and crossed the plate on Perdew's single to right.

"Doc" Dougherty, Amvets' shortstop, rapped a two-bagger and single to lead the hiters. Jack Often pounded out a three-bagger for the Goodfellowship Club. Score:

Simmons Is Called To Active Service; To Hurl Few Games

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 1 —(INS)—Curt Simmons, 21-year-old pitching star of the Philadelphia Phillies, today became the first major league player called to active service with the armed forces as a result of the war in Korea.

The southpaw, who has won 14 games and lost five for the first place Phillies, is a private with the Headquarters Battalion, 28th division Artillery of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

His division was called to active duty today. It will report later this month.

Simmons, who has been an important factor in Philadelphia's sensational play this season, has been participating in the division's annual two-week encampment.

The lefthander may be able to pitch a few more games, but presumably will be lost to his team during the important stretch drive.

BROOKS TAKE PAIR

BROOKLYN, Aug. 1 (AP) — Erv Palica pitched Brooklyn to a 3-1 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the regularly scheduled game tonight after the Brooks had whipped the Pirates, 21-12 in the continued game of June 24. Women's Big Four Of Tennis Sweeps Grass Court Tests

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP)—The "Big Four" of women's tennis moved into the third round of the Eastern Grass Court Championships today without the loss of a single set.

National titleholder Mrs. Margaret duPont of Wilmington, Del., blasted Jean Doyle of San Diego, 6-2, 6-2. Wimbledon queen Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., routed Mrs. Patricia Stuhler, of Plainfield, N. J., 6-0, 6-2.

Doris Hart, of Jacksonville, Fla., removed Rhode Hopkins, of Woodhaven, N. Y., 6-3, 6-1; and Pat Todd, of La Jolla, Calif., smothered Mrs. Helen Rihbany, of Boston, 6-2, 6-1.

A major disappointment turned up in Althea Gibson, first Negro player ever to compete in a grass court title tourney. She was defeated by Mrs. Helen Perez, of Encino, Calif., 6-1, 6-1.

One of the most dramatic matches of the day saw Herbie Flam, half-pint Californian, uncork a stirring rally to overthrow Tom Brown, of San Francisco, 2-6, 7-5, 8-6. Brown was a Wimbledon finalist in 1947 and U. S. singles finalist the year before.

Kell Boosts Lead In AL Swat Race

CHICAGO, Aug. 1 (AP)—Detroit's George Kell gained seven points in the American Legue batting race last week for a pace-setting .351, three ahead of Cleveland's Larry Doby.

Doby, who trailed by a point last week, picked up five points for .348.

Detroit's Hoot Evers, tied with Doby at .343 last week, slumped seven points into a third-place tie with Johnny Pesky of Boston at .336. Others in the top ten include: Walt Dropo, Boston, who slumped another 10 points to .332; Yogi Berra, New York, .328; Al Zarilla, Boston, .324; Phil Rizzuto, New York, .321; Johny Groth, Detroit, .320; and Vic Wertz, Detroit, .313.

The league's best percentage pitcher with a 16-4 record for .800 was Cleveland's Bob Lemon. Allie Reynolds of New York recaptured the strikeout lead with 101.

DETROIT, Aug. 1 (AP)—Members of the New York Yankee baseball team smoked cigars today. Outfielder Gene Woodling became a father for the third time. The new arrival is a daughter.

INDIANS SCALP NATS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 1 (INS) — Cleveland's Jim Hegan accounted for four runs with a homer, triple and double tonight as the Indians decisioned the Washington Nationals 8-2.

The tall backstop slammed his 13th homer of the season to pace the Redskins to one game of within second place.

Early Wynn scored his 11th victory of the campaign against five defeats and also contributed a homerun to the 11-hit assault on Sid Hudson and Al Sima. Score:

WASHINGTON	010 010 000—2	10	1
CLEVELAND	001 231 10x—8	11	0

CARDS WIN, MOVE UP

BOSTON, Aug. 1 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals regained the National League's runner-up berth tonight when their rookie right hander Cloyd Boyer turned back the Boston Braves, 6-1, with a six hit pitching performance. The last four Cardinal runs, however, were unearned because of Tribal infield miscues. Score:

ST. LOUIS	000 024 000—6	8	0
BOSTON	000 010 000—1	6	3

Boyer and Rice; Chipman, Hogue (8) and Cooper.

Capot Wins At Saratoga

Scores Over Donor In Wilson Stakes

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP) — Greentree's Capot, America's No. 1 thoroughbred of 1949, re-affirmed his championship qualities as he led virtually all the way in the 21st running of The Wilson here today before 7,987, his first triumph of the year. He had placed third in his '50 debut to Sheilas Reward and Guillotine in a sprint at Jamaica four weeks back.

The smooth-running four-year-old son of Menow-Piquet was handridden by Ted Atkinson to prevail by a length over Mrs. John P. Rutherford's Donor, which in turn got up to nose out Addison Stable's Arise, the second choice in the field of seven that contested this first of the SPA's weight-for-age races under allowance conditions.

Capot, odds-on at $3.30 straight, was the fourth successful choice in the first six races of the afternoon. The chalk, who came up with four winners at the opener, is thus far having what might be termed a feast at the young session. The Greentree ace, conceding 10 pounds to each of his rivals, went over the mile in 1:38 2-5, and added $11,775 to his previous earnings. Last year he won six of 16 starts and $238,335, including two spectacular decisions over Calumet's Coaltown which gained for him the horse of the year honors.

Atkinson, leading rider here last year, got his first winner of this meeting on Capot. After the race he said: "the big horse ran a big race. I hit him twice outside the quarter-pole and was prepared to do it again when Arise made his bid. But when Capot saw Arise, he came away on his own great courage."

Blazing, 16-1 Shot, Wins At Monmouth

MONMOUTH PARK, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP)—Mrs. S. G. Steckler's Blazing $34.00 outsider in the seven-horse field in today's top offering, upset Calculation when he charged to a one length victory.

The Zacaweista gelding beat his fellow three-year-olds by sprinting six furlongs in 1:11 4-5 under Mike Basile.

In second position at the finish was Mrs. C. A. Cope's Friedacres, who rallied from last position at the head of the stretch to take a photo decision from Foursome Stable's Conquerant and H.B. Cohen's Jess Linthicum.

Warm weather continued for today's presentation and 14,500 fans took in the card. Form followers enjoyed considerable success during the first half of the program, but Be Gracious, a $17.00 shot in the fifth event, and Blazing, sent them into the dope to reshuffle their figures.

Jimmy Stout, veteran Lakewood, N. J., saddle star, who has been a leading member of his profession since racing was re-introduced in this state almost a decade ago, brought his total winners to 37 when he scored with three mounts during the first four races.

Jansen To Pitch

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP) — Larry Jansen of the New York Giants, the National League's ace pitcher in the recent All-Star game, will start tomorrow although he spent part of last weekend in the hospital. Doctors diagnosed his illness as a "tender appendix" but doubted an operation would be necessary before the end of the season.

Two former members of the University of Maryland football team will be playing professional football for the Baltimore Colts this fall. Lu Gambino, halfback and Jim Brasher, center.

BREAKS 73-YEAR-OLD MONEY MARK

NEW WORLD MONEY-WINNING record for standard-breds is held by Proximity, eight-year-old harness racer who took the first half of the $15,000 Sportsman's trot at Sportsman's Park, Chicago, and then was nosed out by Demon Hanover in the second. First and second place winnings boosted her earnings to $210,129. Old record—$206,462—was set by Goldsmith Maid in 1877. Proximity is shown with groom Frank Ward. She set track mile record, 2:05 2/5. (International)

Tough On Cupid

CHARLEROI, Belgium, July 30 (AP)—Young couples here have been told they can't get married until King Leopold abdicates. Civic authorities are out on strike and there is no one available to provide the necessary papers.

Louise Glick Wins Tourney; CCC Women To Play Hagerstown

Miss Louise Glick won the odd hole tournament held yesterday by the Women's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club.

Miss Glick turned in a gross score of 40, counting odd holes, a half handicap of two and a net of 38.

Twenty-five players participated.

The CCC women's team will play host to the Fountain Head Country Club of Hagerstown Tuesday, August 8, in a return match here. The Hub City team won the first match of the series on its home course.

Hutch Cops Two-Mile Suffolk Downs Race

BOSTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — George Kadra's nine - year - old gelding Hutch registered a smashing 10-lengths victory over Analysis and five other rivals in the first two-mile race ever scheduled for Suffolk Downs today before a rain-soaked 9,690 crowd.

Hutch took the lead at the top of the backstretch during his first turn about the mile oval and pulled away steadily. He was held in slight restraint by Jockey Spinale as he breezed through the last quarter and came under the wire in 3:35 2-5. Subdue managed to splash into the show berth, a length behind Analysis.

The favored Hutch returned $4.60, $3.20 and $2.80. Analysis returned $7.40 and $5.80 and Subdue $4.40 for show.

Capot Wins At Saratoga

Scores Over Donor In Wilson Stakes

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 1 (AP) — Greentree's Capot, America's No. 1 thoroughbred of 1949, re-affirmed his championship qualities as he led virtually all the way in the 21st running of The Wilson here today before 7,987, his first triumph of the year. He had placed third in his '50 debut to Sheilas Reward and Guillotine in a sprint at Jamaica four weeks back.

The smooth-running four-year-old son of Menow-Piquet was handridden by Ted Atkinson to prevail by a length over Mrs. John P. Rutherford's Donor, which in turn got up to nose out Addison Stable's Arise, the second choice in the field of seven that contested this first of the SPA's weight-for-age races under allowance conditions.

Capot, odds-on at $3.30 straight, was the fourth successful choice in the first six races of the afternoon. The chalk, who came up with four winners at the opener, is thus far having what might be termed a feast at the young session. The Greentree ace, conceding 10 pounds to each of his rivals, went over the mile in 1:38 2-5, and added $11,775 to his previous earnings. Last year he won six of 16 starts and $238,335, including two spectacular decisions over Calumet's Coaltown which gained for him the horse of the year honors.

Atkinson, leading rider here last year, got his first winner of this meeting on Capot. After the race he said: "the big horse ran a big race. I hit him twice outside the quarter-pole and was prepared to do it again when Arise made his bid. But when Capot saw Arise, he came away on his own great courage."

Blazing, 16-1 Shot, Wins At Monmouth

MONMOUTH PARK, N. J., Aug. 1 (AP)—Mrs. S. G. Steckler's Blazing $34.00 outsider in the seven-horse field in today's top offering, upset Calculation when he charged to a one length victory.

The Zacaweista gelding beat his fellow three-year-olds by sprinting six furlongs in 1:11 4-5 under Mike Basile.

In second position at the finish was Mrs. C. A. Cope's Friedacres, who rallied from last position at the head of the stretch to take a photo decision from Foursome Stable's Conquerant and H.B. Cohen's Jess Linthicum.

Warm weather continued for today's presentation and 14,500 fans took in the card. Form followers enjoyed considerable success during the first half of the program, but Be Gracious, a $17.00 shot in the fifth event, and Blazing, sent them into the dope to reshuffle their figures.

Jimmy Stout, veteran Lakewood, N. J., saddle star, who has been a leading member of his profession since racing was re-introduced in this state almost a decade ago, brought his total winners to 37 when he scored with three mounts during the first four races.

Jansen To Pitch

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (AP) — Larry Jansen of the New York Giants, the National League's ace pitcher in the recent All-Star game, will start tomorrow although he spent part of last weekend in the hospital. Doctors diagnosed his illness as a "tender appendix" but doubted an operation would be necessary before the end of the season.

Two former members of the University of Maryland football team will be playing professional football for the Baltimore Colts this fall. Lu Gambino, halfback and Jim Brasher, center.

BREAKS 73-YEAR-OLD MONEY MARK

NEW WORLD MONEY-WINNING record for standard-breds is held by Proximity, eight-year-old harness racer who took the first half of the $15,000 Sportsman's trot at Sportsman's Park, Chicago, and then was nosed out by Demon Hanover in the second. First and second place winnings boosted her earnings to $210,129. Old record—$206,462—was set by Goldsmith Maid in 1877. Proximity is shown with groom Frank Ward. She set track mile record, 2:05 2/5. (International)

Louise Glick Wins Tourney; CCC Women To Play Hagerstown

Miss Louise Glick won the odd hole tournament held yesterday by the Women's Golf Association at the Cumberland Country Club.

Miss Glick turned in a gross score of 40, counting odd holes, a half handicap of two and a net of 38.

Twenty-five players participated.

The CCC women's team will play host to the Fountain Head Country Club of Hagerstown Tuesday, August 8, in a return match here. The Hub City team won the first match of the series on its home course.

Hutch Cops Two-Mile Suffolk Downs Race

BOSTON, Aug. 1 (AP) — George Kadra's nine - year - old gelding Hutch registered a smashing 10-lengths victory over Analysis and five other rivals in the first two-mile race ever scheduled for Suffolk Downs today before a rain-soaked 9,690 crowd.

Hutch took the lead at the top of the backstretch during his first turn about the mile oval and pulled away steadily. He was held in slight restraint by Jockey Spinale as he breezed through the last quarter and came under the wire in 3:35 2-5. Subdue managed to splash into the show berth, a length behind Analysis.

The favored Hutch returned $4.60, $3.20 and $2.80. Analysis returned $7.40 and $5.80 and Subdue $4.40 for show.

Canal Land Trade Plan Approved

The House Public Lands Committee has approved a bill permitting an exchange of land along the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal between Cumberland and Great Falls.

Rep. J. Glenn Beall, who sponsored the bill, announced the decision of the committee Monday in Washington. The land, on which a parkway is proposed, is owned by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Rep. Engle (D-Calif) said the railroad is willing to trade the property for some federally owned lands near Cumberland which the railroad needs for expansion and development of its yards.

The Park Service is preparing a report to Congress on the proposed parkway, which would follow the old canal, which runs along the Potomac River about 168 miles.

The canal right-of-way was bought from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in 1938 fo. $2,000,000.

The parkway, which would be a wilderness area open to the public for recreational purposes, would include about 18,400 acres of land of which the federal government already owns 5,400.

The advantage to the railroad, cited by Rep. Beall, is that it could cut down on the number of crossings and blockings "now prevalent in Cumberland.

In a hearing early in July he said, "If they (the railroad) can enlarge their yards up there they will be able to expedite the train traffic through Cumberland."

The bill approved yesterday had previously received the approval of the Public Lands subcommittee, whose recommendations the full committee usually follows.

Oldest Resident Is 107 Thursday

Mrs. Lydia M. Hitchcock, oldest resident of the county, will celebrate her 107th birthday Thursday at Memorial Hospital where she has resided five years.

No formal celebration is planned because of Mrs. Hitchcock's extreme years.

Mrs. Hitchcock was born here in 1843, a daughter of the late John L. and Sarah E. McKee Hitchbock. Her husband, Luke H. Hitchcock, who died 67 years ago, served four years as mayor of this city.

In her lifetime she has seen four major wars.

She has a granddaughter here Mrs. Elyeanor C. Johnston, of 628 Fayette Street.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

One day in 1898 a fire burned down the house next door to Brentano's Book Store (then located in Union Square) and every volume in stock was destroyed. The water in the basement was six feet deep. There wasn't such a magnificent clean-out of old stock in the book business again until twenty-six years later when the Boni and Liveright stockroom went up in flames. Even that occasion fell short, for the fire department arrived just in time to save 11,000 copies of Hendrik Van Loon's Story of the Bible, despite the barbed wire and sandbags loyal employes put up to impede the fire fighters' progress.

Brentano's rebuilt — bigger and better than ever — and Admiral Dewey unwittingly assisted in the opening ceremonies of the new store. The hero of Manila was virtually the Tyrone Power of his day, and his arrival at Brentano's was attended by the autograph hunters of 1901 en masse. Arthur Brentano spirited the Admiral out through a back alley.

In 1907 Brentano's moved to Fifth Avenue and Twenty-seventh Street. Shucks, that was only yesterday! Even I can remember the wonderful store they had down there, with the originals of all the magazine covers in the side-street windows, and the huge pile of periodicals from all over the word in the basement. It was into this store that Theodore Roosevelt came one day and ordered the pigskin library he took to Africa.

45 Teamsters Return To Work

A one-day strike against the Kenneweg Company, C. D. Kenny Company, and Piedmont Grocery Company over a wage dispute ended yesterday as approximately 45 members of Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL) returned to work.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent of the local, was out of town yesterday, but a spokesman for one of the companies said the drivers returned to work.

Some of the union members employed in the warehouse went to work Monday evening.

The company spokesman said there was no increase in wages, but an extra week's vacation with pay was agreed on.

The Teamsters, comprised of drivers and warehousemen, requested a ten-cent an hour wage hike and two weeks vacation after three years service. Stutzman said the other day that the union did not receive any wage advance last year and the workers felt they were entitled to an increase this year.

The old contract provided only one week vacation. The pact between the companies and union expired July 1 but has been extended from time to time in an effort to reach a settlement, Stutzman added.

Housing Program To Continue Here

Plans for the local public housing project will follow their normal pattern, James B. Raines, executive director of the Cumberland Housing Authority, said yesterday after attending a Philadelphia meeting.

Raines said the Korean war and the affects it may have on the housing project were discussed at the meeting, but not enough to be informative.

Philip Shaw, regional planner for the U. S. Public Housing Administration visited Cumberland yesterday to discuss the planning program and its progress in Cumberland.

Plans for the local public housing project will follow their normal pattern, James B. Raines, executive director of the Cumberland Housing Authority, said yesterday after attending a Philadelphia meeting.

Raines said the Korean war and the affects it may have on the housing project were discussed at the meeting, but not enough to be informative.

City Officials To Confer On State Street Aid

Mayor Thomas S. Post and other city officials will go to Baltimore tomorrow to confer with William F. Childs, chief engineer of the State Roads Commission, on the possibility of obtaining state aid to further the city's street restoration program.

The Mayor said the group will seek information on how to proceed with an application for help from the State of Maryland.

The city is particularly interested in work on Valley and Frederick Streets, the Mayor said.

Expected to accompany Mayor Post to Baltimore are Commissioners Mrs. Lucile W. Roeder and George H. Tederick; City Attorney W. Earle Cobey; Smoke Abatement Engineer George M. Hitchcock and Albert S. Paye, liaison officer between the city and the U. S. Engineers for flood control work.

Possibility that the state can help the city get its street program going has been enhanced by completion of, and a report on, a traffic survey made here in June, 1949.

It has been understood here that such a survey could be a determining factor in getting state or federal aid for road projects.

The city has received the reports but has withheld comment. The ultimate traffic plan to relieve congestion here would cost approximately $7,300,000. An interim plan is listed at $119,000. This plan includes Bedford and Frederick Streets' conversion to one-way traffic.

No Developments In Steel Strike

There are "no developments" in the 15-day-old strike at the Cumberland Steel Company plant, a company spokesman said yesterday.

The spokesman said no meetings are scheduled with Local 489, International Association of Machinists.

The 54 members of the local walked off the job at 10 a. m. July 18 in a dispute over wages. The plant has been closed since.

Cancer Of One Kind More Prevalent In Some Towns, Survey Discloses

OXFORD, Eng.—(AP)—The kind of town you live in may give you a greater or lesser chance of getting some particular form of cancer, a statistical study shows.

In one town it may be more chance for cancer of the stomach or bladder. In another, more chance of the lung or breast. Why this is so can only be a guess thus far.

An unusual study of cancers in 83 large towns shows just such odd differences in the common sites of cancer, says Dr. Percy Stocks, chief medical statistician, General Register Office, London.

Dr. Stocks described his findings to an international meeting discussing how cancer varies by geography and by populations. Twenty experts from nine nations are making plans to investigate such differences for clues to the cause and prevention of cancer.

Dr. Stocks analyzed cancer deaths in the years 1921-39 in 83 county boroughs in England and Wales. The study centered on the sites of the cancers, whether in the stomach, rectum, uterus, breast, prostate gland, bladder, or lung.

He found some towns had significantly more cancer of one kind than did other towns. The differences weren't due to chance, but apparently to some local factors in environment, he said.

The greatest difference, by towns, was in stomach cancer. The higher than average rates of this cancer occurred in towns of Northern England.

High rates of cancer of the uterus were found in towns on the northeast coast, in textile towns of Yorkshire and Lancaster, and in seaports, he said. But breast cancers were not so common in these towns. The towns with low rates of cancer of the uterus had high rates of breast cancer.

Towns where cancer of the rectum was more frequent than average were those in the Midlands area. Cancer of the bladder and prostate gland were generally higher in Southern England than in the north.

Lung cancers were most prevalent in towns with houses crowded together. Perhaps there is more smoke in the atmosphere in such towns, Dr. Stocks said. This, however, is only a guess. So far there are only guesses as to why cancer of the stomach or uterus or other organs appear greater in some towns than others.

It has been found that constant intoxication has no effect on the health of mice, rats, or fowls.

Broadway goes to Hollywood.

As soon as he is settled, Ezio plans to leave his mark in the cement in front of Grauman's Chinese Theatre but he'll do it differently . . . He's leaving his tonsil prints.

I had hopes of getting the role opposite Lana but Pinza made her an offer she could not resist . . . tickets to "South Pacific."

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By DOROTHY MANNERS

Walter Pidgeon

She is the actress who has been a big hit in London in "Cocktail Party." And she is not new to movies. Her latest was "The Astonished Heart" for Noel Coward.

All the stuff about MGM just waiting for Ava Gardner to get back in the USA to start "disciplining" her about her European romancing is a lot of taffy.

The studio has already started beating the tom-tom in anticipation of her arrival sometime within the next ten days. Ava was the star (transcribed) of "MGM Theater of the Air" last Sunday.

If you can remember the original version, made by Joseph Schenck, with H. B. Warner as the father, and Nils Asther as the son—you are no bobby-soxer, baby. But it was a great picture 20 years ago.

Mary Pickford and Lester Cowan bought the rights from Mr. Schenck years ago, but just re-sold it to Associated British Films by trans-Atlantic telephone.

Arlene Nelson, the dreamboat Lew Ayres brought to Betty Hutton's party, gets herself a movie job. She went on the "Passage West" set just to see how pictures are made. Pine and Thomas got a look at her, ordered a test made, and now she's emoting with John Payne and Dennis O'Keefe.

I don't know whether she's in love with Lew or not—most of his dates are. But if she is really serious about a career, she should get going in a big way.

Jean Carroll, that funny gal, called Mary Martin on the phone the other day and Mary's husband, Dick Halliday, answered. He went to call Mary to the phone and came back and said, "Jean, you'll never believe it but she's washing her hair!"

Incidentally, Mary's friends are worried about her because when Ezio Pinza was in "South Pacific" and subject to so many colds, Mary kept taking penicillin shots so as not to catch his colds in the love scenes.

When she was ill recently, the doctors had a hard time getting her better as she had taken so much penicillin her system had built up a tolerance for the drug.

Wouldn't you know that Frances Langford is moving heaven and earth to get as close as she can to the war front to entertain the wounded boys?

It's nice to be with you again while our girl friend, Louella Parsons, is sunning herself for a few weeks at Del Mar getting a much needed—excuse the expression—rest. So, as Miss Scoops, herself, would say—

That's all for today. See you tomorrow.

THE PASSING SHOW:

One of the most respected families of Catholic Ireland is the Elliman clan. Scion of the Lithuanian Jewish family, Louis, is currently visiting New York after a trip to Hollywood — where Louella Parsons partied him.

Elliman's famed father, known in Dublin as "Governor," migrated to the capital of Ireland from Lithuania as a small boy. An unscrupulous ship captain put the boy and his mother off the vessel at Dublin, though they had purchased steerage tickets to America. The captain assured them that Dublin was New York.

By the time the lad learned English, he saw no reason why he should carry on to America. Dublin suited him. He became fascinated with the Irish theater and, in time, the country's leading theater owner. He developed a rich Irish brogue, and so did his growing family.

The old man's philanthropies and gentle way of life have become a legend in Dublin, where he has been held up as an example of a good man by many a pulpit. When the Ellimans sold half their theater interests not long ago — including a share of their famous Gate Theater — they were asked by J. Arthur Rank, the new co-owner, to continue as the operators. . . so deep-rooted is their good will.

Half a dozen years ago, Bob Trout, the distinguished radio and TV man who is an incorrigibly devoted fisherman on the side, hooked a whopping sailfish while aboard a smack out of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Some months later, while Trout and his wife were having a quiet evening at home in their New York hotel, an enormous wooden crate arrived addressed to him. It was too big for the hotel's freight elevator. For some reason or other, he decided it was a piano that someone had half-promised him.

As the years rolled on, and the warehouse bills mounted, the Trouts decided that the crate had become a burden around their necks. So they hied off to the warehouse recently and opened the thing.

It was, of course, Trout's sailfish. Seems that the city of Fort Lauderdale had ordered it mounted and sent to Trout as a souvenir surprise.

It would have been about as inconspicuous in their small apartment as an elephant in a jeep. Trout got out a list of friends and began begging them to take one nice mammoth mounted sailfish off his hands. Nobody wanted it. Then he began asking strangers, several of whom threatened to call a cop.

The appropriately named broadcaster finally got off the hook late last week. A yacht club in Newport, R. I., broke down and accepted the monster as a gift.

Somebody asked Sam Goldwyn the other night if he thought TV would ruin the movie business by keeping people at home. The man who was (as usual) misquoted when he said, "I won't believe color television until I see it in black and white," replied:

"Television has a lot to learn from motion pictures, and will have for a long, long time. As for TV killing pictures, how do you account for the fact that people who have food in the house often go out to dine?"

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty

"I wouldn't call it the opportunity of a lifetime, but in the light of recent developments it may be another chance to buy something pre-war . . ."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: A PATRIMONY NOT MERELY WASTED BUT UTTERLY DEMOLISHED—QUINTILIAN.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF ALLEGANY COUNTY, MARYLAND
NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
SEALED PROPOSALS FOR ERECTION OF ADDITION TO THE EXISTING COUNTY GARAGE LOCATED ON NORTH FRANKLIN STREET, CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND.

Sealed bids will be received by the County Commissioners of Allegany County, Maryland, until the 15th day of August, 1950, at 11 a. m., by its Clerk, the undersigned, whose address is the Court House, Cumberland, Maryland, for the erection of addition to the existing County Garage located at the north end of Franklin Street, Cumberland, Maryland. All bids to be marked "Addition to County Garage under Contract No. 3", on the outside envelope.

Plans, specifications and addenda thereto outlined on accompanying blueprints will be available on and after July 28, 1950, at the Clerk's Office, County Commissioners, Court House, Cumberland, Maryland. A deposit of Five Dollars ($5.00) will be required, to be returned when said plans are returned to said Clerk in good condition.

Bids must be submitted with a Certified Check for Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), payable to the County Commissioners of Allegany County, this check to be returned to the successful bidder upon execution of contract. Other checks to be returned to unsuccessful bidders after tabulation of the bids.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish bond in the full amount for the contract, said bond to be with a bonding company licensed to do business in the State of Maryland and to be approved by the County Commissioners. Acceptance of contract by County Commissioners shall be in regular contract form prepared by the County Attorney and executed by both parties.

Evidence of workmen's compensation and public liability insurance must be furnished and the contractor must comply with all federal, state and local regulations.

Further information may be obtained from the Clerk to the County Commissioners of Allegany County.

The County Commissioners of Allegany County reserve the right to reject any and all bids, or to accept any.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Answer: Since emotion is the motive power of life, this is true only in the sense that some people seem to be more alive than others. But the men and women who are generally called "emotional" are not especially "alive"—they are mainly childish. They live in the moment, and because, like children, they have no sense of proportion, every joy or disappointment appears bigger than it is, and is reacted to accordingly. A person's capacity for deep and lasting feeling can't be judged by the vehemence with which he shows it to others.

Answer: Never because his crying annoys you or makes you uncomfortable. With a child too young to talk, it is up to you to find out why he's crying and correct the trouble. With an older child, try to decide whether he is crying because he is hurt or frightened, or because he's found it is a way to get what he wants. In the latter case it's usually better to ignore his wails and show him that such tactics won't work. But don't punish him for crying when you've spanked or disciplined him—that will make you seem needlessly cruel.

Answer: No, says Dr. Benjamin Malzberg of the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene. Study of the records of New York State mental hospitals since 1909 shows that only two out of each thousand first admissions were for "drug psychosis," with more of these females than males. The drugs most often responsible were opium and its derivatives. While drugs frequently produce hallucinations during the time that a person is under their influence, their general effect is apt to be moral deterioration rather than chronic insanity.

County Attorney Rules On Tax Fees

Commissions received by county collectors for gathering fraternal organization taxes do not have to be refunded, according to a ruling by the attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Gorman E. Getty, in putting his decision in the board minutes yesterday, said the intention of the state law passed in 1949 granting exemptions to fraternal property was not to take money earned by the tax collectors in the pursuit of their duties.

Getty was of the opinion that the amount should be charged off as an administrative expense, leaving the county's three tax collectors to keep commissions they had earned in collecting these specific taxes.

At the time the taxes were taken from the fraternal groups, Getty said, they were certified under law.

Under the new law granting totally disabled veterans exemption from taxes, the board granted an abatement of $72.27 to William E. Cessell, of 7 Browning Street, for the first seven months of 1950.

Supervisor of Assessments Somerville Nicholson informed the commissioners that several more of these abatement orders are expected to be before the board in the near future.

Adamle Named Captain Of Cleveland Browns

BOWLING GREEN, O., Aug. 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today released three players and announced appointment of Tony Adamle, veteran defense fullback, as captain.

Adamle, a Clevelander who played at Ohio State, replaces Lou Saban, now head football coach at Case Tech. When Tony is on the bench, tackle Lou Rymkus will be the team leader.

The three players released by Coach Paul Brown were Ed Songin, rookie quarterback from Boston College; Alex Wizbicki, a halfback formerly of the Buffalo Bills and Holy Cross; and Bill King, a guard from Ball State (Ind.) Teachers College.

Weldon Humble, another guard veteran, failed to show up for his fourth season with the Browns when training camp opened a week ago.

Ponderous Advance Carries Market Forward Fifth Time

By WILLIAM D. HORGAN

Favored issues moved up a few cents to around $2 a share, with most gains about $1 a share or less.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks moved up .7 of one point to 76.2. This was a high since our intervention in Korea started at the end of June and stock prices dropped with a thud.

The market broadened to include 1,125 individual issues, of which 629 advanced and 248 declined. Yesterday 1,097 issues were traded.

New highs for 1950 were established by nearly 90 issues.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

BAD TIME TO LAY LOW

AMBUSHING your opponents by concealing your strength pays rich dividends in some situations, especially when you make a "trap pass" of an opponent's opening bid with a hand which is sure to be good on the defense. Taking that option instead of making an overcall involves a certain amount of risk, since the next two players may pass and beat you out of your chance for a big score. But the risk is nothing like so great as that of passing an opponent's overcall of your partner's opening bid, when you have enough strength to insert a tentative business double. That gives your partner a chance to bid a game in No Trumps or show another suit, if he doesn't want to leave the double in.

	♠ K Q 10 8 6 ♥ K J 3 ♦ A 6 4 ♣ 7 5

Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.).

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♣	Dbl	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

That was not the bidding actually done on this hand. The start was as chronicled—1-Spade by South, then 2-Clubs by West. But then North decided to get smart and pass, with the idea that East, who probably had few clubs since West and North had so many, would take out into something else. That would give North a chance then to double for business at a higher level or else make some bid of his own, which might get doubled by the hoodwinked opponents, and thus produce a lot of extra points.

North's position, though, was a bad one for a player who wanted to lay down and conceal his assets. His pass was followed by two more passes, by East and South, so that West played the deal at 2-Clubs not doubled. He lost two tricks in spades, two in hearts, one in diamonds and two in clubs to be down only two, giving North and South a meagre 100.

If North had doubled—his best action—or had bid 2-Hearts over the 2-Clubs—his side would have been sure to get into a No Trump game, since South would have had sense enough to consider the business double tentative and, with his hand, would have gone into No Trumps. Game would have been easy to make, a nice fat vulnerable game.

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOSLEE
Consulting Psychologist

Are some people more "emotional" than others?

Answer: Since emotion is the motive power of life, this is true only in the sense that some people seem to be more alive than others. But the men and women who are generally called "emotional" are not especially "alive"—they are mainly childish. They live in the moment, and because, like children, they have no sense of proportion, every joy or disappointment appears bigger than it is, and is reacted to accordingly. A person's capacity for deep and lasting feeling can't be judged by the vehemence with which he shows it to others.

Should a child be punished for crying?

Answer: Never because his crying annoys you or makes you uncomfortable. With a child too young to talk, it is up to you to find out why he's crying and correct the trouble. With an older child, try to decide whether he is crying because he is hurt or frightened, or because he's found it is a way to get what he wants. In the latter case it's usually better to ignore his wails and show him that such tactics won't work. But don't punish him for crying when you've spanked or disciplined him—that will make you seem needlessly cruel.

Do drugs often cause insanity?

Answer: No, says Dr. Benjamin Malzberg of the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene. Study of the records of New York State mental hospitals since 1909 shows that only two out of each thousand first admissions were for "drug psychosis," with more of these females than males. The drugs most often responsible were opium and its derivatives. While drugs frequently produce hallucinations during the time that a person is under their influence, their general effect is apt to be moral deterioration rather than chronic insanity.

County Attorney Rules On Tax Fees

Commissions received by county collectors for gathering fraternal organization taxes do not have to be refunded, according to a ruling by the attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Gorman E. Getty, in putting his decision in the board minutes yesterday, said the intention of the state law passed in 1949 granting exemptions to fraternal property was not to take money earned by the tax collectors in the pursuit of their duties.

Getty was of the opinion that the amount should be charged off as an administrative expense, leaving the county's three tax collectors to keep commissions they had earned in collecting these specific taxes.

At the time the taxes were taken from the fraternal groups, Getty said, they were certified under law.

Under the new law granting totally disabled veterans exemption from taxes, the board granted an abatement of $72.27 to William E. Cessell, of 7 Browning Street, for the first seven months of 1950.

Supervisor of Assessments Somerville Nicholson informed the commissioners that several more of these abatement orders are expected to be before the board in the near future.

Adamle Named Captain Of Cleveland Browns

BOWLING GREEN, O., Aug. 1 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today released three players and announced appointment of Tony Adamle, veteran defense fullback, as captain.

Adamle, a Clevelander who played at Ohio State, replaces Lou Saban, now head football coach at Case Tech. When Tony is on the bench, tackle Lou Rymkus will be the team leader.

The three players released by Coach Paul Brown were Ed Songin, rookie quarterback from Boston College; Alex Wizbicki, a halfback formerly of the Buffalo Bills and Holy Cross; and Bill King, a guard from Ball State (Ind.) Teachers College.

Weldon Humble, another guard veteran, failed to show up for his fourth season with the Browns when training camp opened a week ago.

Ponderous Advance Carries Market Forward Fifth Time

By WILLIAM D. HORGAN

Favored issues moved up a few cents to around $2 a share, with most gains about $1 a share or less.

Closing prices were at or near the best levels of the day.

Among the groups most in demand were airlines, steels, autos, rails, chemicals, building materials, and utilities.

Trading picked up speed after yesterday's 1,590,000 shares, smallest in a couple of weeks. Sales totaled 1,970,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks moved up .7 of one point to 76.2. This was a high since our intervention in Korea started at the end of June and stock prices dropped with a thud.

The market broadened to include 1,125 individual issues, of which 629 advanced and 248 declined. Yesterday 1,097 issues were traded.

New highs for 1950 were established by nearly 90 issues.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

BAD TIME TO LAY LOW

AMBUSHING your opponents by concealing your strength pays rich dividends in some situations, especially when you make a "trap pass" of an opponent's opening bid with a hand which is sure to be good on the defense. Taking that option instead of making an overcall involves a certain amount of risk, since the next two players may pass and beat you out of your chance for a big score. But the risk is nothing like so great as that of passing an opponent's overcall of your partner's opening bid, when you have enough strength to insert a tentative business double. That gives your partner a chance to bid a game in No Trumps or show another suit, if he doesn't want to leave the double in.

	♠ A 7 ♥ Q 9 6 4 ♦ 10 7 5 ♣ A J 3 2

	♠ K Q 10 8 6 ♥ K J 3 ♦ A 6 4 ♣ 7 5

Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.).

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	2 ♣	Dbl	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

That was not the bidding actually done on this hand. The start was as chronicled—1-Spade by South, then 2-Clubs by West. But then North decided to get smart and pass, with the idea that East, who probably had few clubs since West and North had so many, would take out into something else. That would give North a chance then to double for business at a higher level or else make some bid of his own, which might get doubled by the hoodwinked opponents, and thus produce a lot of extra points.

North's position, though, was a bad one for a player who wanted to lay down and conceal his assets. His pass was followed by two more passes, by East and South, so that West played the deal at 2-Clubs not doubled. He lost two tricks in spades, two in hearts, one in diamonds and two in clubs to be down only two, giving North and South a meagre 100.

If North had doubled—his best action—or had bid 2-Hearts over the 2-Clubs—his side would have been sure to get into a No Trump game, since South would have had sense enough to consider the business double tentative and, with his hand, would have gone into No Trumps. Game would have been easy to make, a nice fat vulnerable game.

New Candidates Enter Race As Filing Deadline Passes

Some Republicans Unopposed For Nomination; Others Have Contests; Democrats Fall Short

Political leaders and political candidates of both parties were busier than usual yesterday as they awaited the midnight deadline for filing of candidates.

Through it all, Patrick F. King, clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors, sat quietly, read his newspaper and listened patiently to the political talk, while in between times he accepted filing certificates and fees, and watched the list of candidates grow.

As usual in Allegany County, the larger list was on the Republican side, but several Democrats filed as candidates, assuring a county contest in the fall.

Political observers believe the election will center around the gubernatorial contest, the state's attorney balloting, and the judgeship, however, interest yesterday seemed centered primarily in the Republican list of candidates for the House of Delegates.

As Clerk King officially closed the filing, the list of candidates for the primary election September 18 stood as follows:

Esmond Completes Noxious Fumes Survey

William G. Esmond, of the Maryland Commission on Noxious Fumes, finished his survey of smoke and noxious fumes hazards in Allegany and Garrett Counties yesterday, according to George M. Hitchcock, city smoke abatement engineer.

Esmond has been in this area since July 20 checking area plant processes to determine the type and quantity of fumes emitted.

A member of a three-man team assigned by the State Department of Health to survey the entire state, Esmond left yesterday for Hagerstown to survey Washington County.

Trooper Injured On Investigation

Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch went to investigate. The man being investigated made out all right but Spioch didn't.

The man apparently had overimbibed and decided to sleep it off. Spioch injured his back in assisting the man, who weighs in the neighborhood of 200 pounds, and now is confined to his home for treatment.

Six Are Homeless As Result Of Valley Road Fire

Firemen Plan Aid For Miller Family

A Valley Road woman and her five children were made homeless early yesterday afternoon by a fire which swept through their story and a half frame home.

Even before the fire was completely out, members of the Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company, who bore the brunt of the fight to save the home, were planning ways of aiding the family which lost everything in the disastrous blaze.

Fire Chief John R. Greise, of the Bowman's Addition fire fighters, identified the victims as Mrs. Mary Miller, 35, and her children, Carl, 15; Jeanette, 13; George, Jr., 8, and Jean and James, five-year-old twins.

The fire in the old Valley Road school house, which was converted into a one and one-half story dwelling, broke out about 1:30 p.m. as a result of a short circuit in the attic, Chief Greise said.

Five Companies Aid

Volunteer firemen from Corriganville, Bedford Road, Baltimore Pike and Cresaptown also aided in the unsuccessful fight to save the dwelling which was a mass of flames when the Bowman's Addition company arrived on the scene about four minutes after Mrs. Miller turned in the alarm.

Mrs. Miller and her children all escaped unhurt after she discovered the flames breaking through the east side of a second floor room.

Firemen worked until about 4:30 p.m. but were able to save only the walls of the structure. They described the dwelling as an entire loss and firemen estimated loss of the home and contents at about $4,000.

He said the company will do what it can to aid the family which escaped with only the clothing they were wearing when the fire broke out.

Several members of the Maryland State Police, including Trooper First Class A. M. Spioch, were at the scene to assist.

Firemen last night said they did not know just what steps can be taken to aid the stricken family, but reported immediate efforts will be taken at once, to secure clothes and other necessities.

They said the big problem will be quarters, adding that sufficient volunteer labor will be available if lumber were provided to build a shelter for the needy family.

Walsh Did Not Meet With Jackson

Former Attorney General William C. Walsh said last night he did not take part in a conference with former Mayor Howard W. Jackson of Baltimore there Monday night, as had been reported.

Democratic leaders met to discuss the possibility of Jackson's entering the race for the nomination for the U. S. Senate. Jackson decided last night not to file.

Walsh said he was in Baltimore, but did not meet with Jackson. An Associated Press story said Walsh had been among those meeting with Jackson.

Swauger Gets Year

Elwood A. Swauger, who entered a plea of guilty in Circuit Court to a charge of statutory rape involving a minor, was sentenced yesterday by Associate Judge George Henderson to serve a year in the Maryland Reformatory for Males.

Tractor Transports Trost Body

The body of George A. Trost, 73, of 225 Pear Street, who was found dead shortly before noon yesterday near Hinkle Road, was pulled from the woods yesterday by tractor. Trost was discovered in the woods near the Hinkle Road farm of Charles H. Dietrich where he had gone to pick berries Monday. Shown above are members of the searching party (left to right) Ronald Rice, William Chappel, John White, Roy Charlton, Joe Rice, John H. Miller, Harry M. DeHaven, A. M. Kight, John Vannoy, Trooper First Class Harry Bosley, Robert Mullenax, Vincent P. Leasure, Donald Bryner, Bill Grabenstein, W. S. Smith and Donald Wentling.

Trost Death Attributed To Heart Attack

Body Found Near Hinkle Road

The death of George A. Trost, whose body was discovered shortly before noon yesterday after an all-morning search by volunteers, was attributed to a heart attack by the acting deputy county medical examiner.

Trost, unsuccessful candidate for mayor in the last city election, was found about a half-mile from the Hinkle Road farm home of Charles H. Dietrich.

He had gone to the Dietrich farm Monday to pick blackberries in the woods. Dietrich notified State Police when Trost failed to come out of the woods by 6 p. m.

Police worked with volunteers until 1:30 a. m., yesterday and resumed the search at 9:30 a. m.

Trost was discovered at 11:15 a. m. by Virchel J. Hampton, Twiggtown, and his two sons, Harold Dean, 12, and Dennis Wayne, 9, on a path leading to Hinkle Road.

Service Tomorrow

State Police said he was lying face down and it appeared he might have fallen off a nearby log.

A requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 9 a. m. in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. The body is at the Stein Funeral Home.

Trost, who lives at 225 Pear Street, is a native of Cumberland and a son of the late Samuel and Ann Gelhause Trost.

He won the Carnegie medal and a $1,500 lifesaving award in 1908 when, as a flagman on a Baltimore and Ohio train, he jumped from the moving train to push an 89-year-old man out of the way of an oncoming train. The train struck both, killing the elderly man, but Trost escaped with a minor leg injury.

Retired From B. and O.

Trost was first employed by the Georges Creek Railroad for five years and worked on the B. and O. for 34 years before retiring as a conductor in 1944.

He was chairman of the local chapter of the Order of Railway Conductors for 20 consecutive terms and has held office in Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Sylvia E. Trost, Trost is survived by two daughters, Miss Cecelia Trost, at home, and Mrs. John Storer, this city, and two brothers, John Trost and Samuel Trost, both of this city.

The Weather

For the third straight day, downtown temperatures passed the 90-degree mark yesterday and most Cumberlanders had ceased being amused. Just to make a nice beginning, the day dawned with .83 inch of rain. At that the mercury didn't go below the 67 mark in Constitution Park and 70 downtown. And then it jumped up to 90 in the park and 92 downtown. More clouds and showers are expected today, but it may be somewhat cooler.

Frederic W. Eiler was named first vice president; Adolf Blunk, second vice president, and R. A. J. Morrison, third vice president.

Members of the Executive Committee will be H. C. Givens, Jr., George L. Buchanan, George F. Hazelwood, Howard M. Smith and Miles G. Thompson.

John J. Robinson, retiring president, expressed special thanks to retiring directors who, under a recent amendment to the by-laws, cannot succeed themselves. They are:

Douglas R. Bowie, Edmund S. Burke, Thomas E. Gilchrist, Henry W. Price and Benjamin M. Kamens, who have served on the board for 15 years; Charles A. Piper, 14 years; Rep. J. Glenn Beall, nine years; Mrs. Aurelia S. Becker, six years, and W. Earle Cobey, three years.

Another member, Harry A. Pitzer, has served on the board since 1928.

Annual City Audit Begins

The annual audit of the City of Cumberland books, began Monday, according to City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

Isadore Levin is representing the firm of Berman, Goldman and Levin and Company, Baltimore, certified public accountants, Gibson said. The work will take about three weeks.

Gen. Reckord Expresses Doubt Md. National Guard Will Be Called Soon

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1 (AP) — Four Maryland units of the Army Reserve were called to active duty today. Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, Maryland adjutant general, expressed doubt that the state's National Guardsmen will be mobilized soon.

The reserve units called up are the 925th Explosive Ordnance Disposal Squad, the 453rd Chemical Smoke Generating Battalion, the 336th Engineer Utilities Detachment, and the 376th Engineer Utilities Detachment.

Three of the units were organized in Baltimore after World War II in connection with industry and civil government agencies. The chemical battalion is sponsored by the American Oil Company and commanded by Lt. Col. Jacob E. Miller, assistant manager of the company. The two engineer utilities detachments were formed by the State Roads Commission and the City of Baltimore.

Col. Arthur L. Shreve, chief of the Maryland Military District, said the units will go on active duty August 19 but then will have another ten days to get their personal affairs in order.

General Reckord said he doubts the Maryland National Guard will be mobilized into federal service immediately because that would strip the state of guardsmen.

The Maryland units are part of the 29th Infantry Division, and federalizing of the division also would strip Virginia. Several states, the General pointed out, have two National Guard divisions.

"Many things can happen to change the situation," he said, "but I believe the logical step would be to take troops from the states with more than one division."

Meantime, 16 Baltimore men were selected as the first to be inducted in Maryland under the revived draft. They will go into the army on August 14. The state is required to supply 735 men by the end of September and another 739 by the end of October.

Col. Henry C. Stanwood, state Selective Service director, said the machinery for giving preliminary physical and mental examinations will be speeded up, with 4,500 men called in for examination to meet the September-October draft quotas.

This will include most of the state's 23-year-olds who are not exempt because of previous military service or family obligations. Those 24 and 25 years old already have been summoned. Men younger than 19 or older than 25 are not required to serve under present regulations.

Korean Conflict Called Start Of World War III

Dr. Robert Oliver Speaks To Rotarians

The Korean war probably is the beginning of World War III, Dr. Robert T. Oliver, former manager of the Washington Bureau of the Korean Pacific Press and counsellor of the Korean Commission, said last night.

Dr. Oliver addressed a meeting of Rotary Club members from Catonsville, Augusta, Ky., Meyersdale, Pa., Romney, W. Va., Keyser, W. Va., Frostburg, Lonaconing, Grantsville, Piedmont, W. Va., Oakland and Cumberland at All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

"In all probability," Dr. Oliver said, "we are in the beginning of World War III. The initiative is in Russian hands as to how it will be fought and how rapidly it will develop."

1. Korea is a strategic area. Whoever controls Korea, controls Northern Asia.

2. Russia has made the possession of Korea a prime objective of foreign policy for the past 75 years. Three times, she has tried to promote agreements to secure it under her control.

3. Russian help has made North Korea militarily strong.

4. South Korea was weak militarily as a part of a deliberate United States policy to combat Russian propaganda that this country is an aggressive military power.

5. The success of the Republic of Korea was intolerable to Russia.

6. Official spokesmen of the U. S., including President Truman, had implied that this country would not defend Korea.

Dr. Oliver said that the resolution to defend the peninsula came because it was the first time in history a communist group had openly struck across its own boundary in an aggressive fashion, the United States had a deep obligation since it set up the Korean republic and agreed to the country's split at the 38th parallel line and in the eyes of Korea, it was considered a test of whether or not the U. S. would stand behind Democracy.

Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State School, Keyser, W. Va., and past district governor of Rotary, introduced Dr. Oliver.

Local 1874 To Vote On Pact At Celanese

Final Meeting On Ratification To Be Held At 10:30 A. M.

A spokesman for Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), announced last night a tentative agreement on wages and contract terms has been reached with the Celanese Corporation of America.

Final action on ratification of the pact, which is being recommended by the union negotiating committee, will take place at a meeting today at 10:30 a. m. in the union hall.

Union officials declined last night to reveal the action of the membership and said all details of the pact will be withheld until final ratification today.

Railroad Smoke Readings Show No Violations

Terminal Group Has Meeting

Cumberland's two railroads committed no absolute violations of the city smoke control ordinance during July, George M. Hitchcock, city smoke engineer, reported at a Cumberland terminal meeting yesterday in City Hall.

Hitchcock's monthly report revealed that 240 observations were made of Baltimore and Ohio Railroad trains. There were 45 partial violations, 195 "clear stacks" and no absolute violations.

However, Hitchcock pointed out, there has been complaint about a B. and O. Pittsburgh Division troop train whose engines blanketed the city with smoke between 8:15 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Sunday.

B. and O. officials agreed to investigate the matter.

F. A. Murphy, road foreman of engines of the Cumberland Division of the B. and O., stated that the proposed addition of 12 Diesel engines to the Cumberland Division will further aid in the elimination of smoke in the area.

Joseph Miller, superintendent of the Western Maryland's Elkins Division, vice chairman, presided in the absence of R. A. J. Morrison, superintendent of the B. and O. Cumberland Division.

Morrison, Hitchcock said, was escorting a special party over the B. and O.'s new "Time Saver" freight service.

Hitchcock stated after the meeting that the railroad's July records were somewhat better than in the previous month.

During July, one absolute violation was reported against the B. and O. in 281 observations which also revealed 67 partial violations and 213 "clear stacks."

No absolute violations were found against the Western Maryland in June. However, partial violations were reported in 28 observations. There were 23 "clear stacks."

Hitchcock explained that an absolute violation consists of five minutes of smoke in excess of 40 per cent density. A partial violation is five minutes of smoke of 20 per cent density.

Gunter Becomes Candidate For State Attorney General

William A. Gunter, Cumberland attorney, filed at noon yesterday with the secretary of state in Annapolis as a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general of Maryland.

In making his announcement, Gunter said he is running independently and will be "on nobody's ticket."

A few hours later, Miss Helen Elizabeth Brown, a Baltimore attorney, filed for attorney general and Theodore R. McKeldin, former mayor of Baltimore who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said she would run on his ticket.

When the filing deadline was reached at midnight, Hall Hammond, present attorney general, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination. Gunter or Miss Brown will oppose him in the November election.

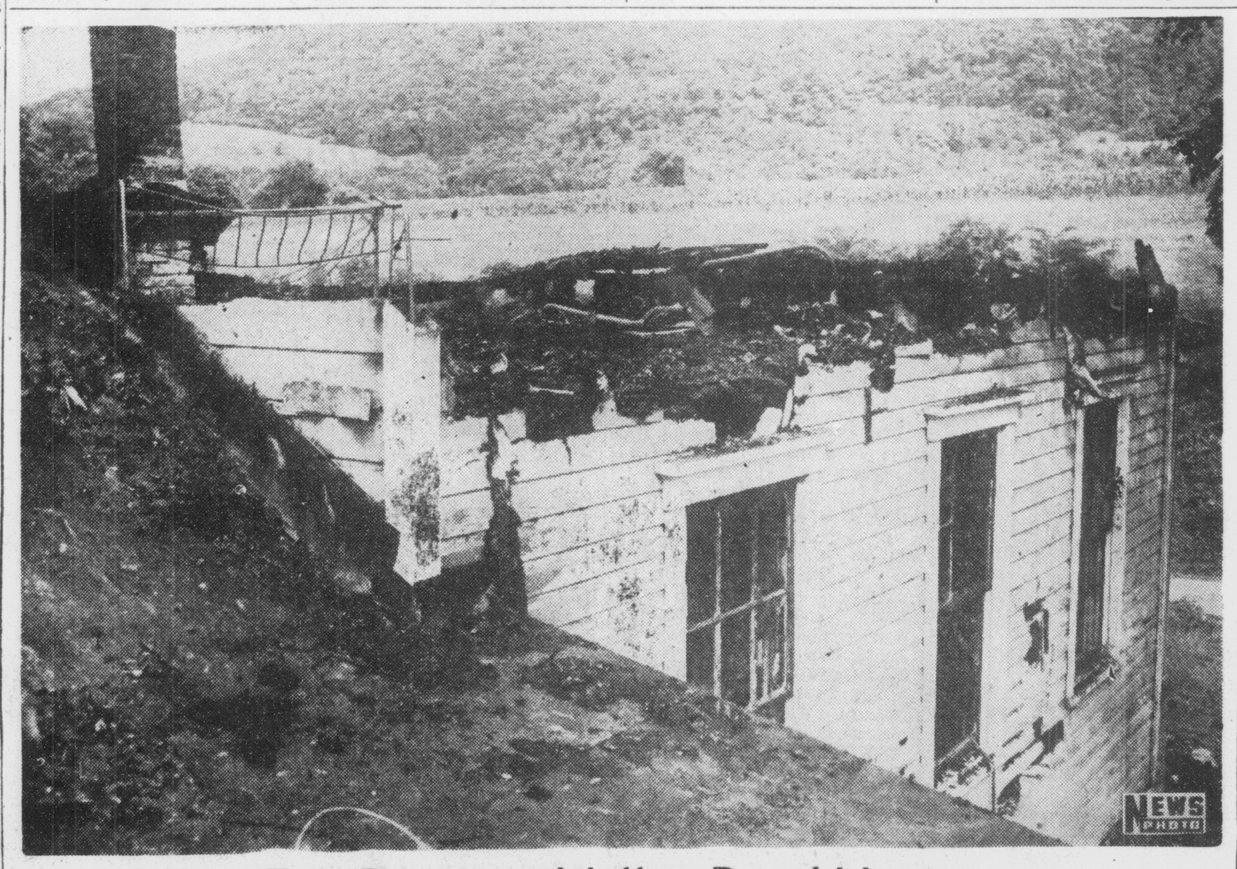
WILLIAM A. GUNTER

Gunter will be the fifth Allegany County Republican to seek election as attorney general of Maryland.

Others were the late Judge Albert A. Doub, Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., Associate Judge George Henderson and George Cochran Doub, a son of Judge Doub, who now lives in Baltimore.



Fire Destroys Valley Road Home

A fire attributed to a short circuit yesterday afternoon destroyed the home of Mrs. Mary Miller on Valley Road. Five fire companies battled the flames for several hours but were able to save only the walls of the building. Firemen said the family lost all of their belongings in the disastrous fire.

Estel C. Kelley Enters Race For House Of Delegates

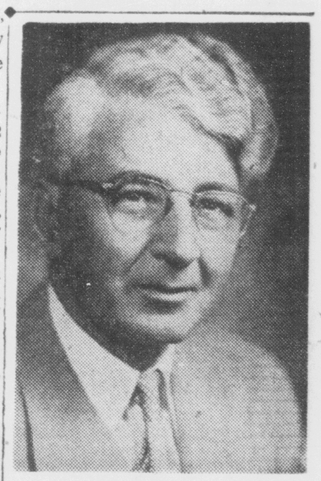
A well known local attorney, Kelley has maintained law offices at 12 Greene Street here for the past two decades. He is a native of Westernport, born May 4, 1902, a son of the late Thomas Kelley, coal miner, contractor and grocer. His mother still resides in Westernport.

Kelley graduated from Bruce High School in Westernport and then went to work for a year and a half in the coating mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper plant to earn funds to further his education. As a young man he joined the Piedmont Methodist Church.

He graduated from Maryland University and Maryland Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1924. When he returned to this county from school, he was in the office of the late Fuller Barnard for a short time before opening his Greene Street offices.

Kelley is probably best known for his activities in fraternal affairs. He holds the only honorary past president's certificate ever issued in Maryland by the Grand Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles, and is an honorary life member of Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company. Kelley also belongs to the Legion of the Moose, Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose; Cumberland Lodge No. 63, BPO Elks; is a charter member of the Optimist Club; and a past grand of Chosen Friends Lodge IOOF.



ESTEL C. KELLEY

Kelley is immediate past president of the Allegany County Bar Association. He is married and the father of five children. His wife is the former Miss Delda Coulter of North Carolina.

New Candidates Enter Race As Filing Deadline Passes

Some Republicans Unopposed For Nomination; Others Have Contests; Democrats Fall Short

Political leaders and political candidates of both parties were busier than usual yesterday as they awaited the midnight deadline for filing of candidates.

Through it all, Patrick F. King, clerk to the Board of Election Supervisors, sat quietly, read his newspaper and listened patiently to the political talk, while in between times he accepted filing certificates and fees, and watched the list of candidates grow.

As usual in Allegany County, the larger list was on the Republican side, but several Democrats filed as candidates, assuring a county contest in the fall.

Political observers believe the election will center around the gubernatorial contest, the state's attorney balloting, and the judgeship, however, interest yesterday seemed centered primarily in the Republican list of candidates for the House of Delegates.

As Clerk King officially closed the filing, the list of candidates for the primary election September 18 stood as follows:

Trost was first employed by the Georges Creek Railroad for five years and worked on the B. and O. for 34 years before retiring as a conductor in 1944.

He was chairman of the local chapter of the Order of Railway Conductors for 20 consecutive terms and has held office in Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Sylvia E. Trost, Trost is survived by two daughters, Miss Cecelia Trost, at home, and Mrs. John Storer, this city, and two brothers, John Trost and Samuel Trost, both of this city.

The Weather

For the third straight day, downtown temperatures passed the 90-degree mark yesterday and most Cumberlanders had ceased being amused. Just to make a nice beginning, the day dawned with .83 inch of rain. At that the mercury didn't go below the 67 mark in Constitution Park and 70 downtown. And then it jumped up to 90 in the park and 92 downtown. More clouds and showers are expected today, but it may be somewhat cooler.

The annual audit of the City of Cumberland books, began Monday, according to City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

Isadore Levin is representing the firm of Berman, Goldman and Levin and Company, Baltimore, certified public accountants, Gibson said. The work will take about three weeks.

Gen. Reckord Expresses Doubt Md. National Guard Will Be Called Soon

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1 (AP) — Four Maryland units of the Army Reserve were called to active duty today. Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, Maryland adjutant general, expressed doubt that the state's National Guardsmen will be mobilized soon.

The reserve units called up are the 925th Explosive Ordnance Disposal Squad, the 453rd Chemical Smoke Generating Battalion, the 336th Engineer Utilities Detachment, and the 376th Engineer Utilities Detachment.

Three of the units were organized in Baltimore after World War II in connection with industry and civil government agencies. The chemical battalion is sponsored by the American Oil Company and commanded by Lt. Col. Jacob E. Miller, assistant manager of the company. The two engineer utilities detachments were formed by the State Roads Commission and the City of Baltimore.

Col. Arthur L. Shreve, chief of the Maryland Military District, said the units will go on active duty August 19 but then will have another ten days to get their personal affairs in order.

General Reckord said he doubts the Maryland National Guard will be mobilized into federal service immediately because that would strip the state of guardsmen.

The Maryland units are part of the 29th Infantry Division, and federalizing of the division also would strip Virginia. Several states, the General pointed out, have two National Guard divisions.

"Many things can happen to change the situation," he said, "but I believe the logical step would be to take troops from the states with more than one division."

Meantime, 16 Baltimore men were selected as the first to be inducted in Maryland under the revived draft. They will go into the army on August 14. The state is required to supply 735 men by the end of September and another 739 by the end of October.

Col. Henry C. Stanwood, state Selective Service director, said the machinery for giving preliminary physical and mental examinations will be speeded up, with 4,500 men called in for examination to meet the September-October draft quotas.

This will include most of the state's 23-year-olds who are not exempt because of previous military service or family obligations. Those 24 and 25 years old already have been summoned. Men younger than 19 or older than 25 are not required to serve under present regulations.

Korean Conflict Called Start Of World War III

Dr. Robert Oliver Speaks To Rotarians

The Korean war probably is the beginning of World War III, Dr. Robert T. Oliver, former manager of the Washington Bureau of the Korean Pacific Press and counsellor of the Korean Commission, said last night.

Dr. Oliver addressed a meeting of Rotary Club members from Catonsville, Augusta, Ky., Meyersdale, Pa., Romney, W. Va., Keyser, W. Va., Frostburg, Lonaconing, Grantsville, Piedmont, W. Va., Oakland and Cumberland at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

"In all probability," Dr. Oliver said, "we are in the beginning of World War III. The initiative is in Russian hands as to how it will be fought and how rapidly it will develop."

1. Korea is a strategic area. Whoever controls Korea, controls Northern Asia.

2. Russia has made the possession of Korea a prime objective of foreign policy for the past 75 years. Three times, she has tried to promote agreements to secure it under her control.

3. Russian help has made North Korea militarily strong.

4. South Korea was weak militarily as a part of a deliberate United States policy to combat Russian propaganda that this country is an aggressive military power.

5. The success of the Republic of Korea was intolerable to Russia.

6. Official spokesmen of the U. S., including President Truman, had implied that this country would not defend Korea.

Dr. Oliver said that the resolution to defend the peninsula came because it was the first time in history a communist group had openly struck across its own boundary in an aggressive fashion, the United States had a deep obligation since it set up the Korean republic and agreed to the country's split at the 38th parallel line and in the eyes of Korea, it was considered a test of whether or not the U. S. would stand behind Democracy.

Dr. E. E. Church, president of Potomac State School, Keyser, W. Va., and past district governor of Rotary, introduced Dr. Oliver.

Local 1874 To Vote On Pact At Celanese

Final Meeting On Ratification To Be Held At 10:30 A. M.

A spokesman for Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), announced last night a tentative agreement on wages and contract terms has been reached with the Celanese Corporation of America.

The agreement, he added, is contingent upon ratification by the membership.

The first of two ratification meetings was held last night at an overflow meeting in Textile Workers Hall.

Final action on ratification of the pact, which is being recommended by the union negotiating committee, will take place at a meeting today at 10:30 a. m. in the union hall.

Union officials declined last night to reveal the action of the membership and said all details of the pact will be withheld until final ratification today.

The pact will affect some 4,000 employes of the Celanese firm's Amcelle plant here.

Railroad Smoke Readings Show No Violations

Terminal Group Has Meeting

Cumberland's two railroads committed no absolute violations of the city smoke control ordinance during July, George M. Hitchcock, city smoke engineer, reported at a Cumberland terminal meeting yesterday in City Hall.

Hitchcock's monthly report revealed that 240 observations were made of Baltimore and Ohio Railroad trains. There were 45 partial violations, 195 "clear stacks" and no absolute violations.

A total of 40 observations of Western Maryland Railway engines revealed seven partial violations, 33 "clear stacks" and no absolute violations.

However, Hitchcock pointed out, there has been complaint about a B. and O. Pittsburgh Division troop train whose engines blanketed the city with smoke between 8:15 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Sunday.

B. and O. officials agreed to investigate the matter.

F. A. Murphy, road foreman of engines of the Cumberland Division of the B. and O., stated that the proposed addition of 12 Diesel engines to the Cumberland Division will further aid in the elimination of smoke in the area.

Joseph Miller, superintendent of the Western Maryland's Elkins Division, vice chairman, presided in the absence of R. A. J. Morrison, superintendent of the B. and O. Cumberland Division.

Morrison, Hitchcock said, was escorting a special party over the B. and O.'s new "Time Saver" freight service.

Hitchcock stated after the meeting that the railroad's July records were somewhat better than in the previous month.

During July, one absolute violation was reported against the B. and O. in 281 observations which also revealed 67 partial violations and 213 "clear stacks."

No absolute violations were found against the Western Maryland in June. However, partial violations were reported in 28 observations. There were 23 "clear stacks."

Hitchcock explained that an absolute violation consists of five minutes of smoke in excess of 40 per cent density. A partial violation is five minutes of smoke of 20 per cent density.

Gunter Becomes Candidate For State Attorney General

William A. Gunter, Cumberland attorney, filed at noon yesterday with the secretary of state in Annapolis as a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general of Maryland.

In making his announcement, Gunter said he is running independently and will be "on nobody's ticket."

A few hours later, Miss Helen Elizabeth Brown, a Baltimore attorney, filed for attorney general and Theodore R. McKeldin, former mayor of Baltimore who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said she would run on his ticket.

When the filing deadline was reached at midnight, Hall Hammond, present attorney general, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination. Gunter or Miss Brown will oppose him in the November election.

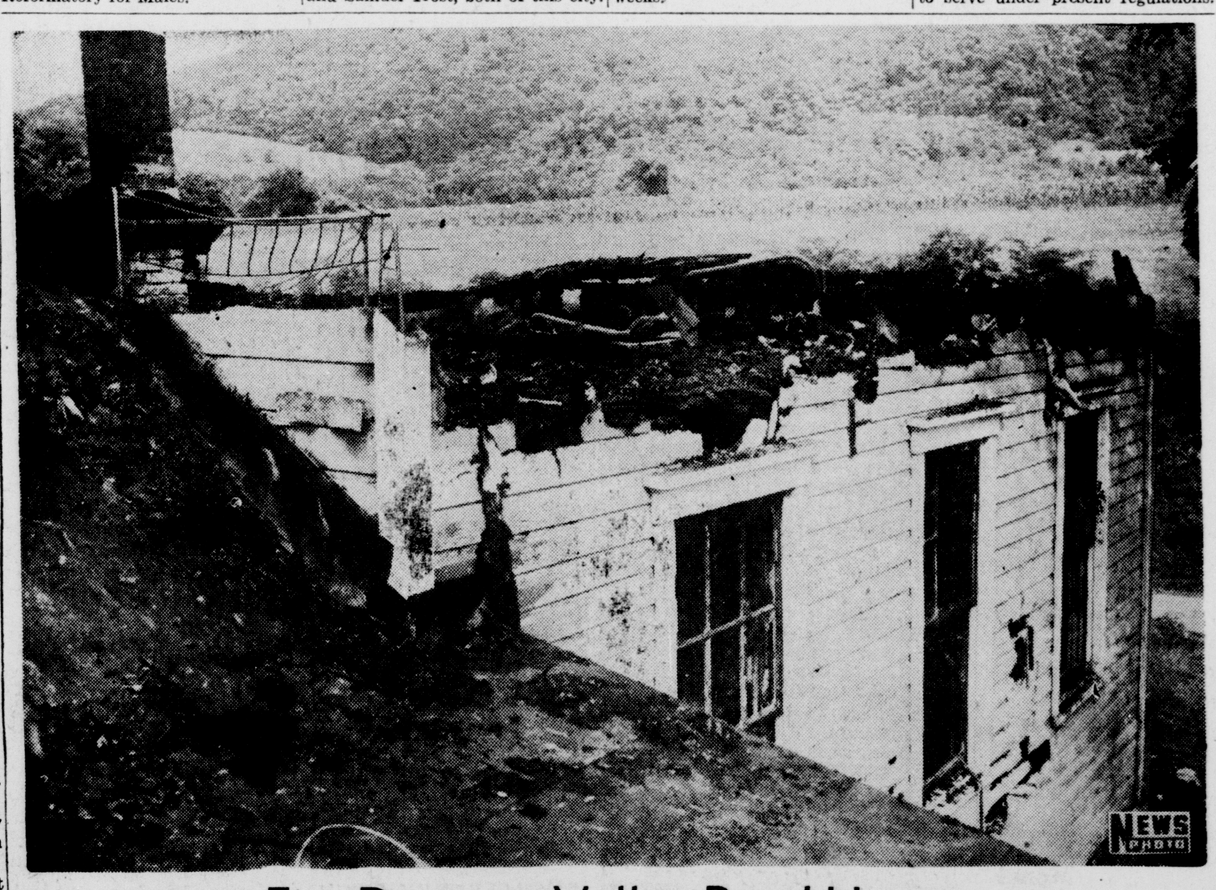
WILLIAM A. GUNTER

Gunter will be the fifth Allegany County Republican to seek election as attorney general of Maryland.

Others were the late Judge Albert A. Doub, Horace P. Whitworth, Sr., Associate Judge George Henderson and George Cochran Doub, a son of Judge Doub, who now lives in Baltimore.



Fire Destroys Valley Road Home

A fire attributed to a short circuit yesterday afternoon destroyed the home of Mrs. Mary Miller on Valley Road. Five fire companies battled the flames for several hours but were able to save only the walls of the building. Firemen said the family lost all of their belongings in the disastrous fire.

Estel C. Kelley Enters Race For House Of Delegates

A well known local attorney, Kelley has maintained law offices at 12 Greene Street here for the past two decades. He is a native of Westernport, born May 4, 1902, a son of the late Thomas Kelley, coal miner, contractor and grocer. His mother still resides in Westernport.

Kelley graduated from Bruce High School in Westernport and then went to work for a year and a half in the coating mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper plant to earn funds to further his education. As a young man he joined the Piedmont Methodist Church.

He graduated from Maryland University and Maryland Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1924. When he returned to this county from school, he was in the office of the late Fuller Barnard for a short time before opening his Greene Street offices.

Kelley is probably best known for his activities in fraternal affairs. He holds the only honorary past president's certificate ever issued in Maryland by the Grand Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles, and is an honorary life member of Cresaptown Volunteer Fire Company. Kelley also belongs to the Legion of the Moose, Cumberland Lodge No. 271, Loyal Order of Moose; Cumberland Lodge No. 63, BPO Elks; is a charter member of the Optimist Club; and a past grand of Chosen Friends Lodge IOOF.

Kelley is immediate past president of the Allegany County Bar Association. He is married and the father of five children. His wife is the former Miss Delda Coulter of North Carolina.
